UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
SEP 11 1946
LIBRARY

The Weather
Today—Fairly cloudy with moderate temperature. Yesterday — High, 74; low, 56. Pollen count yesterday 102 grains.

The Washington Post

Single Copy Price 5c

NO. 25,649 — Entered as Second Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C. — Copyright, 1946, By The Washington Post. — WASHINGTON: FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1946

CARRIER DELIVERY — CITY ZONE Daily and Sunday $1.10 per Month. Daily Only, .65 per Mo.—Sun. Only, .45 per Mo. — SINGLE COPY PRICE Daily $0.05, Sunday .10

Maritime Strike Ties Up All U. S. Ships

Darden Leading on First Ballot in Virginia Senate Race

Ex-Governor Receives 316 Votes; 203 Given Smith

Carter, Robertson, Goode, Apperson, Wright Proposed At Convention

BULLETIN

Former Gov. Colgate W. Darden announced at 9:20 p. m. that he was definitely out of the running in the nomination for Senator. Darden said he asked advice of his attorney in the matter and as the second balloting got under way he instructed the clerk of the convention not to call his name.

By Dorothea Andrews
Post Reporter

Richmond, Sept. 6.—Colgate W. Darden, popular former Governor of Virginia, who repeatedly has declared he is not a candidate for the unexpired Senate term of Carter Glass, tonight led all convention nominees for the post with 316 votes on the first ballot.

Representative Howard W. Smith polled the second highest number of votes on the first ballot—203. Votes of the other five candidates in the balloting were:

C. S. Carter, Ninth District, 163 votes.

A. Willis Robertson, Seventh District, 148.

State Senator Morton G. Goode, Fourth District, 134.

William A. Wright, First District, 110.

Harvey B. Apperson, Sixth District, 49.

Darden's Plea Ignored

When nominations were underway, an overwhelming number of the Democratic convention delegates had shouted down the popular ex-Governor's plea that he could not accept the nomination.

Darden declared that he would not accept the Senatorial nomination and if elected he would not serve.

One of the most surprising developments of the first ballot was the comparatively weak showing made by Robertson.

His name was the last of the seven to be placed in nomination, and his supporters indicated he was being placed on the ballot because he had received added support.

Robertson, congressional representative from Lexington, has been regarded as the strongest contender against Representative Howard W. Smith for the nomination.

Significantly absent from the first ballot were the names of interim Senator Thomas E. Burch, temporarily filling the Glass seat in the Senate, and Representative J. Lindsay Almond, believed to be the best dark horse bet in th event of

Cee CONVENE, Page 4, Column 1

Downs Fund Tops $6600; Rites Today

A city's benevolence and police department honors for her dead husband will help Mrs. Frannie Downs and her four children carry their burden of grief today.

Contributions totaling $6644.14 had been made yesterday for the family of the 27-year-old Metropolitan policeman who died in line of duty when he was struck down Saturday night by an auto fleeing police pursuit.

Today, unprecedented honors will be paid the dead officer, Pvt. Donald William Downs, when his funeral cortege is saluted as it passes his station house at No. 4 Precinct, 429 E st. sw.

Requiem mass will be said at 8:30 a. m. at Holy Comforter Church, 14th and East Capitol sts. Six uniformed officers from Private Downs' precinct will serve as pallbearers and burial will be in Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

When the officer died of injuries, Mrs. Downs and her four children were left with a rented home at 424 15th st. se. and a $25 bank account.

Spontaneous contributions began pouring into the Police Department and precinct stations Tuesday. The Post, which gave $100 and offered to transmit supplemental gifts to the family yesterday received $103—$100 of it from Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton.

Another $100 gift included in the Police Department total was from Biggs & Kirchner, electrical contractors.

In addition to Clayton's, contributions received by The Post yesterday were $2 from Walter Burns,

See DOWNS, Page 4, Column 3

Two-Year-Old Only Survivor

21 Killed as Luxury Airliner Crashes on Nevada Hillside

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

Two-year-old Peter Link, now in an Elko, Nev., hospital, survived plane crash which killed all of the others aboard, including his parents and baby brother

Accident Declared Due to Violations Of Safety Regulations

The crash of a Trans-Luxury airliner near Elko, Nev., yesterday, resulted from violation of Federal safety regulations, according to a preliminary report, a Civil Aeronautics Administration spokesman said last night.

This spokesman said early information indicated the pilot was endeavoring to lang through a 200-foot ceiling with "scud clouds" at 100 feet. He said regulations do not permit landing at the airport when the ceiling is below 2500 feet.

Prior to August 1, he said, charter airlines were not under CAA regulations more stringent than those requiring licensed commercial pilots and approved aircraft. Since August 1 regulations comparable to tifose governing scheduled airlines have been applied to the charter companies, he said, but inspections to enforce compliance will not be possible before the end of this year.

This was due, the spokesman said, to the fact that only 250 CAA inspectors are available to enforce regulations throughout the country, whereas some 2500 operators are flying more than 5000 aircraft in charter service.

Present regulations require that flight crews be licensed for the type of aircraft they fly, that minimum safety precautions be observed aboard airplanes and that flight rules be obeyed. A new regulation, he said, will require adequate repair facilities at bases from which charter flights are operated.

Pilot Apparently Attempted Landing During Heavy Fog

Elko, Nev., Sept. 5 (AP).—A westbound Trans-Luxury airliner from New York crashed to earth in hilly northeastern Nevada country during thick fog today, killing at persons and sparing one passenger, a blue-eyed blond boy of two.

The youngster, Peter Link, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was found sitting on the ground, crying dazedly, about 100 feet from the wrecked plane, ripped apart when it plowed into a low hill two miles west of the Elko airport.

Other passengers' bodies were described as "terribly mangled," but the little boy apparently escaped with only slight injuries of the chest and arm.

The bodies of three women and a baby boy about six months old were among 17 brought to Elko. Newspapermen counted four other bodies in the smashed nose of the plane.

Parents Among Dead

The baby apparently was a brother of the surviving boy. Their parents, Paul Edward Link of the United States Navy, and Ann Link, were among the identified dead.

Airline officials said the pilot was Kenneth Campbell of Montana, the copilot Harry Leatherman of Florida and the Stewardess Marjorie Cox of San Francisco.

Fire swept the front section of the plane and smoke still wreathed up from the wreckage hours after the crash.

The plane was due to land at San Francisco at 3:45 a. m., PST, after leaving New York yesterday morning.

Chris H. Sheerin, Elko newspaper editor, said the plane crashed into a 250-foot sagebrush-covered hill about three-fourths of a mile north of U. S. highway 40.

Wheels Down for Landing

William Wunderlich, manager of the Elko Airport, said the plane wheels were down for a landing and apparently the props had been functioning normally.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration representative said the pilot radioed at 1:21 a. m., Mountain time, that he was going to land and had sighted the field.

His message was acknowledged and he was asked to report again. But the next report received was one from a United Air Lines plane, whose pilot reported he was eastbound and noted a fire in the vicinity. This presumably was the wrecked plane.

The area is treeless and barren,

See CRASH, Page 10, Column 6

Five Still Missing In Shipwreck

C Bordeaux, France, Sept. 5 (AP).—The Coast Guard cutter Admiral Mouchez reported tonight that five members of the crew of the U. S. Liberty Ship David Caldwell, which was wrecked in the Gironde Estuary yesterday, were still missing and believed drowned.

The cutter said it had rescued all the crewmen clinging to one of the broken sections of the ship, bringing the total number of survivors to 36. Some were reported in a serious condition.

Oak Ridge Secret Revealed

5 Pounds of Uranium Produces Atom Energy Heat for 3 Years

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 5 (AP).—The chain-reacting pile at Oak Ridge has used only five pounds of Uranium in the production of atomic energy in nearly three years of operation, Dr. W. G. Pollard, University of Tennessee physicist, declared today.

Dr. Pollard, a consulting scientist at the Government's atomic bomb plants, made the revelation at an atomic energy conference here sponsored by the university and Oak Ridge scientists.

Comparing the production of energy chemically and through nuclear fission, Dr. Pollard said the power plant at the university required a tone of coal every two hours to keep it running, while "one pound of lithium burned with hydrogen would keep it going for a year."

"In fact, there is a kind of furnace called a 'pile' in operation now at Oak Ridge that produces just about the same amount of heat all the time as our university power plant does," he continued. "That plant uses uranium as a fuel, though. It has been operating pretty nearly continuously for almost three years now and during that time it has consumed around five pounds of fuel."

Two Suspects Questioned in Kemp Killing

Youths Left Area Of Crime Sunday; Held for District In Portsmouth, Va.

The first hint of a break in the mysterious murder of James Anthony Kemp developed last night as two Washington detectives arrived in Portsmouth, Va., to question two juveniles.

The youths, both of whom live in the Southeast section near the home of Kemp, disappeared from Washington last Sunday afternoon.

Kemp, 24-year-old Navy Gun Factory employe, was fatally stabbed in the early hours of Sunday morning less than a block from his home at 335 37th pl. se.

Local police also want to question the two juveniles in connection with the holdup of several High's ice cream stores in the Southeast section last week.

Picked Up in Va. City

The youths were picked up by police in Portsmouth in response to a lookout issued by Washington police.

Detective Sergts. Richard Felber and Nunzio Bonaccorsy were sent to the Virginia city to question the two juveniles and to possibly return them here.

Felber and Bonaccorsy are two of six detectives assigned yesterday to a special squad by Detective Chief Robert J. Barrett to work exclusively on the Kemp slaying.

The special squad is headed by Detective Sergt. Edgar E. Scott of the Homicide Squad and also includes Detective Sergts. John L. Sullivan, A. D. Clarke, and Robert Kirby.

Bonaccorsy and Sullivan have been borrowed fro mthe Robbery Squad for the assignment. The others are regular homicide men.

Cracked Cathedral Murder

Scott and Felber are the two detectives who cracked Washington's famed cathedral murder case. Their work brought about the arrest of Julius Fischer, Negro janitor, for the slaying of Katherine Riordan two years ago. Fischer is now awaiting execution.

Bonaccorsy and Sullivan were members of the special squads which solved the recent holdup killings of Maurice L. Bernstein and John Paul Knight.

Sullivan suffered a slight finger wound August 23 when he and other police fatally wounded a wanted killer in a gun battle. The killer, William H. McLaughlin, 25, had slain Nathan Rosenberg, Alexandria grocer, in his home two

See SLAY, Page 4, Column 4

Umberto Not Coming Here

Lisbon, Portugal, Sept. 5 (U.P.)—Gen. Carlo Graziani, chamberlain to former King Umberto of Italy, today denied reports published in Rome that Umberto was making inquiries about the possibility of settling in the United States during his exile.

Heirens Must Spend Entire Life in Prison

Chicago, Sept. 5 (AP).—Seventeen-year-old William Heirens was sentenced to imprisonment for his natural life today for the kidnap killing of Suzanne Degnan and the fatal stabbing of two women.

Three consecutive life sentences were imposed on Heirens, who tried to hang himself last night in his cell.

The life sentences would keep Heirens in prison for a minimum of 60 years before he would be eligible for parole.

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy made the recommendation for the life sentences instead of the death penalty, telling the court the State had "very little evidence against Heirens" other than his confessions.

Little to Say

Heirens, pale-faced, was asked by Chief Justice Harold G. Ward who passed the sentences if he had anything to say.

With bowed head he said, "I want to express to the court my deepest sorrow for what I have done . . ."

His voice trailed off.

Judge Ward also imposed sentences of one to 20 years or one year to life on 26 charges of robbery, burglary or assault. These sentences will run concurrently to

See HEIRENS, Page 5, Column 3

May Statement Rejected by Mead Probers

Kentuckian Offers To Be Questioned at Prestonsburg Home

By the Associated Press

The Senate War Investigating Committee late yesterday rejected as "not satisfactory" a new statement by Representative May (D., Ky.) on his association with the Garsson munitions combine.

It asked May to return to Washington to testify.

May had offered to do that later, when his physician permits, or to let a subcommittee question him at his home at Prestonsburg, Ky., where he is recuperating from a heart ailment. In an accompanying statement he repeated he made no profits from his association with the combine.

Mead May Resign

Chairman Mead (D., N. Y.) of the Investigating Committee wrote the Congressman in reply:

"This unsworn statement does not give adequate information concerning your activities in connection with the war contract operations of Henry M. Garsson and his associates and is not satisfactory to the committee.

"It would, therefore, be appreciated if you, or your physician, would promptly advise we when it may be expected that your physical condition will be such as to allow

See PROFITS, Page 5 Column 6

Living Up to Promises

Labor Contract Enforcement Is Hot Question in Steel Trade

(This is the third in a series of reports by Alfred Friendly, who is on an extensive trip sounding out labor and management on prospects for industrial peace and full production.)

By Alfred Friendly
Post Reporter

Pittsburgh, September 5—How do you obtain assurance that a labor contract will be observed?

Here, as elsewhere, it's a hot question. The steel industry, whose labor relations are worse than in some industries, say for example the garment trades, and better than others, say for example autos, would like to know the answer.

In varying words, the comments of every industry labor relations official interviewed by this reporter in the last few days amount to the same thing:

"If the boys lived up to their contract, if they gave us a fair day's work as they promised in that document, and if they settled their grievances through the machinery the contract provides instead of going on walkouts or sore-head slow-downs, my problems would be over."

There are lots of answers to be heard, as well. None of them is entirely satisfactory.

Certain of the die-hards at the very plush Duquesne Club feel that the whole trouble lies in the idea of a contract itself. You shouldn't make a contract with a labor union.

These worthy gentry, who can be distinguished only with difficulty from the fossilized crustaceans in the club's elegant marble panels, apparently feel that present ills stem from the costly blunder of Old King Pharoah when he let that agitator Moses escape with his brick-makers.

Moving more nearly into the twentieth century, however, one finds some more realistic approaches.

One is an industry demand for legislation, to force the unions to live up to their contracts and to saddle them with responsibility for the actions of the rank-and-file. The only trouble with this notion is, however, that no one has come up with the mechanics of the legislation which clearly would accomplish this end.

Legislation or no legislation, the industry demand for union responsibility for its pledged word will not die.

As put by one of the steel industry's labor relations officials, conceded by the CIO steelworkers union to be one of the most enlightened in the business.

"The union contracts to bind all its members, all our employes, to certain wage rates and hours of

See STEEL, Page 5, Column 1.

Byrnes Talk To Clarify Reich Policy

Secretary's Speech Today May Sharpen Differences With Russia on Germany

By Ferdinand Kuhn, Jr.
Post Reporter

Secretary Byrnes' speech from Stuttgart at 5:30 to 6 this morning was expected in Washington yesterday to sharpen existing Russian-American differences over the administration of conquered Germany.

It may even lead to charges from Moscow that the United States has torn up the Potsdam Agreement and irrevocably divided Europe between East and West.

To Affirm Policy.

Following yesterday's announcement of the greater integration of American and British occupation policies in Germany, the Secretary was expected to affirm at least three American policies concerning Germany. They are:

1. The United States is determined to get on with the job of economic recovery in Germany. It does not intend to let the boundaries of the four occupation zones become barriers strangling the economic life of Germany as a whole. It is willing and anxious to cooperate with any of the occupying powers which will reduce those barriers.

2. The United States is determined to carry out that part of the Potsdam Declaration which pledged that the Germany people be given the opportunity to prepare for the eventual reconstruction of their life on a democratic and peaceful basis.

3. The United States is determined to make a success of its military, economic and political control of the American zone in Germany. It takes its responsibilities in Europe seriously and will not withdraw into isolation.

May Indicates Stand

Although the chief emphasis in Byrnes' speech is expected to be on economic recovery and on democratic political developments, Washington looks for an indication of America's stand on two important territorial questions. It would be no surprise here if he expressed direct or indirect dislike of the French plan to separate the Rhineland from Germany and set it up as an independent political state. The French also want permanent international control of the Ruhr, which the United States opposes, and a customs union between France and the Saar, which is not opposed here.

Informed quarters here also expect Byrnes to indicate future reopening of the question of Poland's western frontier, settled at Potsdam at the Oder-Neisse River line. The Potsdam conferees fixed this border deep inside what had been Germany, "but only "pending the final determination of Poland's western frontier."

Naturally Russia will not like Byrnes' speech, but unless Byrnes changes his speech at the last moment, however, its tone will be

See BYRNES, Page 10, Column 2.

Byrnes' Stuttgart Address To Be Broadcast Today

Secretary of State Byrnes' address will be broadcast from Stuttgart, Germany, this morning. WTOP will carry it "live" at 5:30 a. m. WINX will carry it by transcription at 7:30 a. m. WOL and WRC will rebroadcast it at 9:30 and 11 a. m. respectively.

Girl Tells Police She Was Kidnaped

RUTH TEAGUE, 18, of Sulphur Springs, Tex., walked into police headquarters at Farmville, Va., yesterday and reported she had been forced at pistol point to chauffeur two soldiers from Texarkana, Tex., to Virginia. The GIs, captured a few hours later, faced a police court hearing in Richmond on charges of armed holdup, theft of an auto, and kidnaping of four persons. (Story on Page 9)

Soviet Ukraine Complaint Hit As Propaganda

British Delegate to U. N. Council Backs Actions in Greece

Lake Success, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—Britain today denounced the Soviet Ukraine's complaint to the nUited Nations Security Council against Greece and the nUited Kingdom is "unbridled propaganda" in a six-hour meeting climaxed by a decision to go into secret at 4 p. m. EST tomorrow in New York.

The next public hearing of the Ukraine case was set for 3 p. m. Monday.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, said the "Ukraine has failed entirely to make a case" and added that if the Council was used to air such complaints it would be brought "into disrepute and the purpose of the charter of the United Nations will be defeated."

Cadogan Hits Moscow

Taking the floor of the first time since the complaint was filed, Cadogan twice struck at Moscow in assailing the charges.

"Conditions in Greece would be better than they are if it were not for Communist pressure and propaganda inside her eterritory and along her borders." he said, and then added:

"While Greece is exposed to incessant attacks from the press and radio of her northern neighbors and from Moscow, and while former enemy states are encouraged to make baseless claims for Greek territory, Greece cannot enjoy freedom from fear."

Situation Not Tranquil

Cadogan said he would not claim that the situation in Greece was perfect and tranquil "by Soviet standards or even by British Democratic standards."

He contended however, that "conditions in Greece are not nearly in such a sorry plight as in certain other European countries whose situations have not as yet been investigated by this council."

Speaking in an unusually harsh

See NATIONS, Page 5, Column 1.

Deserve Campaign Time

President Has No Intention Of Calling Congress Session

By Edward T. Folliard
Post Reporter

President Truman said yesterday that he had no intention of calling a special session of Congress to consider OPA or anything else.

He said he thought that members of Congress were entitled to campaign until election time without interference. Anyway, he said, no emergency existed which called for an extra session.

As for his own 1946 campaign plans, Mr. Truman said that these had not yet taken definite shape. He declined to answer a question as to whether he would speak in New York, but praised the Democratic ticket of Senator James M. Mead for Governor and Herbert H. Lehman for Senator. He predicted that it would be elected.

At another point, Mr. Truman made a statement that some regarded as anything but a bouquet for Senator Mead. He was asked about the report made by the Mead Committee (formerly the Turman Committee) concerning the Canol pipeline project in Canada—and about Mead's plan to call Adm. Ernest J. King to testify at a public hearing.

The President said that the Canol case had been completely investigated while he was chairman

See TRUMAN, Page 4, Column 2.

Food Rotting In 3-Coast Walkout on WSB Protest

Government Appears Helpless; Half-Million Workers Backing 43,000 Involved

By Dillard Stokes
Post Reporter

A general strike tied up the Nation's whole merchant marine last night and there was nothing the Government could do about it.

The strikers were bucking the Wage Stabilization Board and not their employers. The walkout raised only one question, and that was whether the strike would force the Government to back down from a ruling based on the antiinflation policy.

The Labor Department and the Maritime Commission made it plain there was nothing else they could do.

Shipping was tied up on all three coasts. Food was rotting, by thousand of tons, in the holds of vessels. All the Federal agencies could do was plead with the seamen to go back to work, to run the ice machines on the ships.

Government Plea Ignored

The Government pleaded.

But the strike went on.

The strike came out of a wage settlement between ship operators and two AFL unions—the Sailors Union of the Pacific and the Seamen's International Union. The SUP got a wage boost of $22.50 a month. The SIU got a boost of $27.50 a month.

Last June the stabilization board approved a raise of $17.50 a month that had been won with a strike threat by the CIO national union. The board refused to approve any larger raise than this for the two AFL unions. More, said the board, would be inflationary.

The unions asked for a rehearing, but the walkout had started by the time this was granted night before last. When the official deadline came a tnoon yesterday the tieup of shipping was nearly complete.

CIO to Respect Pickets

William Green, the AFL president, promised the strikers full support. The CIO maritime unions said they would respect the AFL picket lines.

The striking unions had only 43,000 members, but these pledges gave them the aid of nearly half a million maritime workers.

The Association of American Railroads clamped an embargo on freight to port areas, to keep cargoes from piling up on the docks.

Both Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and the Maritime Commission Thursday night wired appeals to the AFL leaders to hold up the walkout. Schwellenbach last night said he was sending Assistant Secretary Philip Hanna to San Fran-

See SHIPS, Page 4, Column 6.

Nats Trail Bosox, 1-0, In Second

A triple by Bobby Doerr and a single by Glen Russell gave the Boston Red Sox a 1-0 lead over the Nats at the end of two innings in the second game of a three-game series last night at Griffith Stadium.

Ray Scarborough was on the mound for the Nats, with Jim Bagby pitching for Boston.

FIRST INNING.

BOSTON—Moses walked. Moses was out, stealing. Early to Robertson. Pesky beat out a hit to Priddy. DiMaggio sacrificed, Scarborough to Vernon. Williams walked. Youk filed to Lewis. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

WASHINGTON—Robertson flied to DiMaggio. Doerr threw out Lewis. Grace singled to left. Vernon filed to DiMaggio. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING

BOSTON—Doerr tripled to right center. Russell singled to right, scoring Doerr. Partee filed to Spence. Bagby hit into a double play, Vernon to Robertson to Scarborough covering first. One run, two hits, no errors, none left.

WASHINGTON—Pesky threw out Spence. Travis went out, York to Bagby covering first. Priddy beat out a hit to Doerr and continued to second when Doerr threw wild to first. Early filed to Moses. No runs, one hit, one error, one left.

Today's Index

	Pages		Pages
Alsop	8	Haworth, Mary	14
Bell, Nelson B.	11	Kain, Ida Jean	14
Crossword Puzzle	7	Lyons, Leonard	11
Death Notices	16	Pearson, Drew	7
Editorials, Cartoon	8	Radio	15
Ellyn, Martha	14	Sports	12, 13
Financial	16	Women	14
Gallup Poll	11

Senate Housing Bill Indorsed by VFW

Special Session Of Congress Urged To Pass Measure

Boston, Sept. 5.—An aroused convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars today indorsed the Wagner-Ellender-Taft long-range, low-cost housing bill, and demanded that the President recall Congress to pass it.

Some 14,000 voting delegates at the VFW's forty-seventh encampment, in session at the Boston Arena, overwhelmingly overrode a go-easy resolution presented by the convention's special housing committee, and instead demanded immediate action on the part of the White House and Congress.

The committee suggested that the W-E-T measure be studied, and if found to be beneficial to the Nation's emergency housing program, the VFW legislative council be authorized to come out for the bill.

But John Kennedy, son of former Ambassador to England Joseph P. Kennedy and a Democratic nominee for Congress from the Boston area, presented the W-E-T indorsement resolution from the floor on behalf of the Massachusetts delegation. The delegates backed him down the line.

Want Wyatt to Be Czar

A few minutes later the convention approved by acclamation another special housing committee resolution which, i neffect, asks for the President and Congress to make Wilson W. Wyatt, national housing administrator, absolute czar over all building activities, sale and rental of real estate, and channeling of all building materials.

Although initially sharply critical of the Wyatt emergency housing program, the housing committee an dthe convention gave Wyatt a vote of confidence. Wyatt appeared before both groups last Tuesday to defend his actions and to seek support for the W-E-T bill.

The vote of the convention on the Wagner-Ellender-Taft legislation came as a surprise to VFW leaders, who through the standing legislative council have taken a hands-off, wait-and-see attitude on the Wyatt housing program. In fact, the VFW up to the present has not indorsed Wyatt or his program. Now the organization of 1,800,000 veterans of three wars has given the housing expediter a stronger indorsement than any other veterans group.

Would Bar Immigrants 10 Years

The convention attacked the "cancerous growth of Communism and Fascism, and demanded that "false servants" of the Government who lend aid or comfort to advocates of either doctrine be ferreted out and dismissed.

Other convention resolutions urge stoppage of all immigration to the United States for 10 years "as an aid to the prevention of unemployment"; indorse the activities of the Senate Mead Committee in exposing the manufacture of defective war ammunition; commend "the leadership and personnel" of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in preventing war sabotage.

The delegates urged the military services to launch "an intensified program" of education and information to acquaint our troops, both at home and abroad, with the "essential facts" of the American way of life, and also with the character of our former enemies and their objectives to split the United Nations, create racial and religious hatreds and break down faith in the American democracy.

After a spontaneous caucus last night and a continuous session this afternoon, World War II delegates selected Herbert E. Nunnery, Mississippi State commander, as their candidate for junior vice commander. This post is the third highest elective post in the VFW, and traditionally is a stepping stone to the commandership.

But despite the caucusing, the World War II veterans, with 85 per cent of the membership but with only about 10 per cent of the convention delegate strength, split up during the nominations.

One dissident group of World Warr II former GIs put up T. Edward Fitzgerald of South Boston, Mass., for junior vice commander. And another group nominated John J. Mullin of Atlantic City, a veteran of both World Wars.

Two World War I veterans, Lyall T. Beggs of Wisconsin and Francis X. Cotter of Massachusetts, were also nominated for the third spot on the national ticket. Tonight it appeared as fi the race would simmer down to Beggs and Nunnery.

The present senior vice commander, Louis E. Starr of Portland, Oreg., was nominated without opposition for commander in chief. And the current junior vice commander, Ray H. Brannaman of Denver, Colo., was similarly nominated for senior vice commander. Both are World War I veterans who've held all the traditional posts in the VFW.

Fray Resumes

Riot Deaths Now Total 200 in India

Bombay, Sept. 5 (AP).—Savage Hindu-Moslem battles flared again in Bombay today, boosting the officially announced cusualty toll since Sunday to 200 killed and 600 injured, including six men and a woman massacred with knives in a mob attack on a shrine.

In Calcutta, stabbings and beatings claimed 10 victims, while three persons were killed by police who fired into a crowd of railway workers at Trichinopoly, in southern Madras.

In Calcutta, where more than 3000 persons died in mid-August rioting between Moslems and Hindus, two persons ere killed and at least eight wounded by stabbings. Transportation was virtually halted after a bus driver and conductor were stabbed early in the morning. Many shops closed.

Some 2000 persons have been arrested in Bombay since Sunday. Bombay's 70 mills remained closed.

Hindus observed a holiday today, and tomorrow is a Moslem prayer day. Officials expressed fear that processions of Hindus today and those of Moslems tomorrow might precipitate new clashes. Thousands of Hindus observed the ceremony of carrying images of Ganesh, their elephant-headed God of Fortune, to the shore and casting them into the sea.

Moslems had unfurled black flags in protest against the Interim Govrnment for India, but some of these were being replaced by red flags supposed to symbolize Moslem demands for a separate Moslem state, Pakistan.

Food supplies were extremely short.

Army Ground Forces Seek Men for Band

The Army Ground Forces yesterday sounded the enlistment note to musicians interested in playing in one of the leading Army bands.

Men applying for the assignment will be accepted for the Army Ground Forces and be transferred to duty at Fort George G. Meade, Md. The Army recruiting station is at 403 10th st. nw.

Va. Airman Honored

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—Dr. Louis Wolsey, rabbi of Fredericksburg, who was recently discharged from the Naval Air Service, has been awarded the Air Medal and a Gold Star in lieu of a second Air Medal for "meritorious service while serving in the capacity of flight engineer in the Pacific theater of war."

Greenbrier Hotel Reverts to C. & O.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 5 (AP).—The Greenbrier Hotel, celebrated peacetime resort which served as an Army general hospital during the war, received its honorable discharge from military service today.

The hotel property reverted to its former owner, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, at conclusion of preliminary negotiations here today during which the War Assets Administration handed C. & O. officials papers giving the carrier the right to entry and occupancy until a formal deed and survey are executed.

WAA and C. & O. officials said the purchase price will be in the neighborhood of the $3,300,000 figure which the Government paid for the property in October, 1942. It served the Army as Ashford General Hospital.

Beauty and Talent Department . . .

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

PRELIMINARY HEADLINERS—These curvesome characters came out winners in a preliminary contest at the Miss America Beauty Pageant in Atlantic City. Jane Miller (left), 18-year-old blonde "Miss Atlanta," and Eileen Henry, 21 (right), of Brooklyn, "Miss New York City" title winner, tied for top honors in the bathing suit division. Marguerite McClelland, 23, of Memphis, Tenn., who is "Miss Louisiana," was judged best in the talent division. She sang

U. S. Warned To Stop Russia Or Lose Orient

Peiping, Sept. 5 (AP).—Urging a stiffening American policy, Representative Sikes (D., Fla.), said today that Russia is bidding "for control of all China, and, if this is successful, we can prepare to move out of the Orient."

Sikes, spokesman for House Military Affairs Committee members inspecting Pacific areas, expressed the opinion after the group had conferred with leaders of both factions in China's internal strife.

The committeemen demanded that the United States stiffen its attitude toward Russia or run the risk of being the scapegoat for failure of the Chinese to settle their dispute.

Failure Led to Reds

Failure of General Marshall and U. S. Ambassador Stuart to settle the differences between Chiang Kai-shek and the Chinese Communists was blamed by Sikes largely on Russian influence.

"There is under way," he continued, "a bid by Russia for control of all China. If this is successful we can prepare to move out of the Orient entirely. America's interest in world peace forbids this acquiescence."

Even as the committeemen voiced their opinions, the Chinese government's offensive to crush the Communists in Hopeh (Hopei) province east of Peiping swung into a full scale operation. The drive in Jehol already had resulted in recovering half of that Manchurian province from the Reds.

Sikes said the Chinese Communists had violated cease fire orders "either because of orders from higher-ups or because of the irresponsibility of war lords."

Marshall Praised

General Marshall and his assistants, Sikes said, "are doing a marvelous, self-sacrifing, thankless job, but their efforts are being hampered by the unyielding attitude on the part of both Chinese factions."

The Congressmen said Communist leaders told the mthe major obstacles in the way of unifying China were the continued presence of American Marines in China and continuing American aid to the Chiang government.

Veterans Told To Have Faith In U. S. Growth

Boston, Sept. 5.—The veterans' "only sure chance" for happiness and success lies not in special veterans' legislation but in the "ultimate growth" of the country.

That's the firm conviction of Gen. Omar N. Bradley, administrator of veterans' affairs, expressed today before the forty-seventh annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting in the Boston Arena.

The Veterans' Administration director declared:

"The veterans' greatest asset today is the great confidence the people of America have in him.

"He (the veteran) wants to keep that standing—and the best way to keep it is by taking an honest share in building the Nation—not in seeing what the veteran can get fir himself—but in learning what he can give of his heart, his labor, his mind to make this country a better one.

"For it is in the ultimate growth of America that the veteran will find his only sure chance for happiness and greater success."

The former "G's General" and the present "Veterans' General" urged the delegates, representing 1,800,000 former servicemn, mostly from World War II, to think and act in terms of "Nation" rather than "veteran."

"For the veteran will find—in a lifetime of citizenship—that his ultimate best interests are precisely the same as those of the Nation," General Bradley said.

The VA chief warned, "There is no gravy train a veteran can ride without eventually paying his fare" in the form of taxes or decreased opportunities.

Wallace Warns Latins Against Liberty-Lovers

Mexico City, Sept. 5 (AP).—United States Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace told the American republics today to "beware of false democrats who always talk loudly about liberty but whisper when speaking of justice."

The Secretary, who came here at the invitation of President Avila Camacho to discuss trade, industrialization and agriculture, told a luncheon given in his honor by Mexican labor organizations that "complete democracy, politically and economically, not only gives us rights, but also imposes duties.

"Nevertheless, whatever may be the sacrifices demanded by democracy, we ought to accept them because no man can be happy in the midst of general misery, and if he could be, we should be more than justified in considering that man an enemy of society," the Commerce Secretary said.

Wallace was introduced by Vicente Lombardo Toledano, president of the Latin American Federation of Labor whose unsubstantiated charge that United States firms were shipping arms into Mexico to foment a possible revolution during the recent presidential campaign drew a protest from the United States Government and a denial by Mexico.

Earlier today, Wallace saw the design for the two million peso ($500,000) Franklin D. Roosevelt memorial monument to be erected in Monterrey at the entrance to a $800,000 stadium. An inscription on the face of the monument reads: "Freedom of speech and expression, freedom of belief and religion, freedom from want and freedom from fear."

The model will be taken to Washington where it will be exhibited in the Pan-American Union Building.

Sugar Prices To Be Raised, OPA States

Sugar prices are going up, officials said last night, as OPA raised or removed price ceilings on a list of other items.

Ceilings will have to be increased on sugar and many products made from it because of higher prices that must be paid to Cuba, a reporter was told by spokesmen for the OPA and the Commodity Credit Corp.

They declined to forecast how much the increase would be. But if it goes up one cent a pound, they reported, it would raise the bill for consumers about 80 million dollars a year. Of this, 35 million dollars would represent the higher price of sugar itself and the rest would be paid in higher prices on products made of sugar.

OPA increased ceilings on redwood lumber, white and Norway pine lumber imported from Canada, all domestic and imported woodpulp, and venetian blinds.

Ceilings off Tire Reliners

It yanked ceilings from low-priced lipstick, toothpaste, face powder and cream and a long list of cosmetics providing the prices go no higher than 25 cents an item.

Price lids also were removed from wheat and rice starches used largely by commercial laundries and textile mills, syrups made from wheat and rice and used by baking, confectionery and other industries as a sugar substitute, and wheat gluten sold for pharmaceutical use.

Price ceilings also were suspended on tire reliners made from new and scrap materials, tire patches and boots made from scrap materials, and tire valves. OPA reported that expanding production of new tires had removed pressure from the repair items while an ample supply of valves eliminated need for continued control.

Ceilings were removed from a long list of surgical and medical goods. These include gloves, hard rubber goods, surgeon's aprons, operating cushions and similar items. The agency said these are sold to doctors, hospitals, and clinics rather than individuals.

Woodpulp Ceilings Increased

OPA said the increase in woodpulp ceilings of about 10 per cent will add 25 million dollars to the cost of consuming mills that make paper and paper products. The increase is necessary to insure adequate supplies from Canada and the Scandinavian countries as well as domestic mills, the agency said. Canada and Sweden, the two principal import sources for pulpwood, recently raised their monetary exchange rates.

A similar 10 per cent increase was allowed on prices of white and Norway pine imported from the Ottawa Valley of Canada to restore former price relationships of the Canadian lumber.

OPA said it granted an average increase on redwood lumber of $2.60 a thousand board feet in order to increase production.

The increases on venetian blinds are 15 per cent for steel blinds and 20 per cent for wooden and fibre products, effective September 10. OPA said this is the first industry-wide boost granted on these products. It will not apply to manufacturers who received earlier price increases unless those adjjustments are lower than the new ceilings.

N. Y. Dockmen Refuse to Load UNRRA Goods for Yugoslavia

New York, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—Longshoremen today refused to load UNRRA supplies aboard the freighter Bartlesville Victory because part of the ship's cargo was earmarked for Yugoslavia.

A spokesman said the men, members of Local 824, International Longshoremen's Union, AFL, quit work as a protest against "donating supplies to Yugoslavia." Many of them, he said, were former servicemen.

The freighter was due to sail tomorrow for Trieste. A spokesman for the American Export Lines, owner of the freighter, said, however, that the trucking strike here would have made it impossible to complete loading the ship in time for its scheduled sailing. The union reported that 150 men started loading thousands of tons of supplies on the boat and then left their jobs.

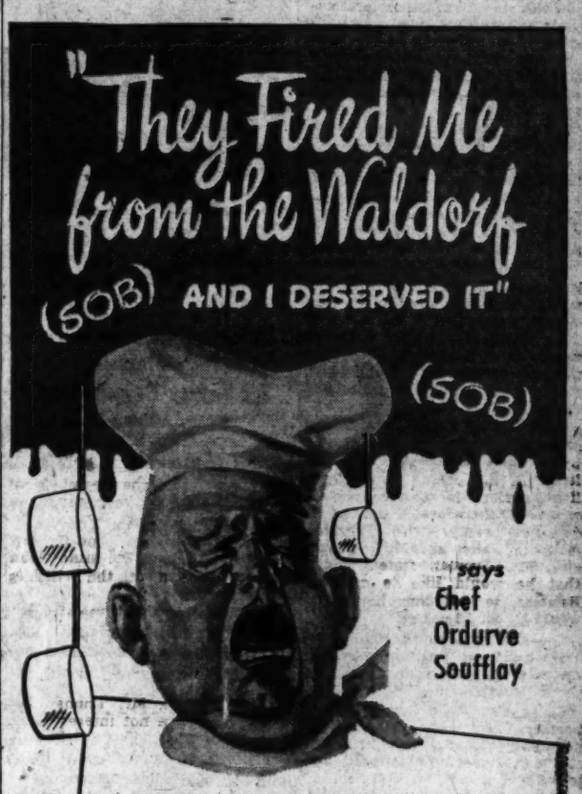
The Brown Victory, a sister ship of the Bartlesville, sailed yesterday from Jersey City carrying UNRRA supplies for Yugoslavia and other countries.

Veterans protested the sailings of both vessels contending that supplies should not be shipped to a country which "shot down Americans."

Junior Fair Planned

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—Preliminary plans have been made for a junior agricultural and home economics fair to be held at Caroline High School October 19 by the county Ruritan Club.

SAVE MONEY on CHICKEN
COLLEGE INN chicken
COLLEGE INN
BONED CHICKEN
1 jar equals 1½ pounds dressed chicken
Costs less.
No waste.
No work.
the best way to buy chicken
Nothing to throw away! Just big, delicious, tender slices—serve wherever chicken meat is used.



"They Fired Me from the Waldorf (SOB) AND I DESERVED IT" (SOB)
says Chef Ordurve Soufflay
"What happened to me should not happen to two pomeranians (one pomeranians could not stood it).
I was head chef at the Waldorf until one day I make the big mistake of not using Gallo Wine when I cook.
Mais oui—I know Gallo is truly a superb wine. It is easy to tell that Gallo Wine is made from the world's finest grapes, and of course Gallo is—how you say?—tres perfect, because it is made with such care and bottled at the winery in California.
But, I figure I will substitute and who will know the difference? So now . . . Now, I AM FIRED.
Alas, who will support my bookie?"
Moral: Don't let this happen to you . . .
Always serve GALLO Wine
Bottled in California
GALLO Vintner's Stock CALIFORNIA SHERRY
E. & J. GALLO WINERY—MODESTO, CALIFORNIA

MARTINI & ROSSI VERMOUTH
Flavor secret for MANHATTAN and DRY MARTINI COCKTAILS
EXTRA DRY
REGULAR MARTINI & ROSSI
ASK THE MEN who mix 'em at fine bars. They can tell you that the key to perfect flavor is famous imported Martini & Rossi Vermouth. Regular for a Manhattan. Extra Dry for a Dry Martini. W. A. Taylor & Company, New York City, Sole Distributors for U. S. A.
PRODUCT OF THE ARGENTINE

TODAY
Drink Postum
Instant POSTUM
Makes 100 Cups
TONIGHT SLEEP*
Caffein in both coffee and tea is a drug: a nerve stimulant. While many people can drink coffee or tea without ill effect, for others nervous hypertension and sleepless nights result . . . Postum contains no caffein or other stimulant.
*Postum contains nothing to keep you awake.

IT'S A WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL FEELING!
WHEN YOU'RE OFF FOR A DAY'S FISHING ...AND THE BOYS CLAIM YOU CAN'T EVEN CATCH A COLD... AND YOU COME BACK WITH A CREEL FULL OF BEAUTIES ...IT'S A WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL FEELING!
WHEN YOUR COCKTAIL INVITATION GETS THAT "OH-WELL-WHAT-CAN-WE-LOSE" LOOK... AND YOU MAKE MARTINIS WITH KINSEY, THE GENIAL GIN... AND THE BOYS SAY "HEY, THESE ARE SLICK, HOW DO YOU GET 'EM SO SMOOTH AND SO DRY?"... IT'S A WONDERFUL WONDERFUL FEELING!
KINSEY
the Genial GIN
DISTILLED DRY GIN
94.4 PROOF - 100% SMOOTH
MR. WEBSTER (THE BIG DICTIONARY MAN) SAYS: "GENIAL: CONTRIBUTING TO CHEERFULNESS AND LIFE; AGREEABLY WARM AND CHEERFUL."
Kinsey Distilling Corp., Linfield, Pa. • Distilled from 100% Grain Neutral Spirits.

Knutson Misquoted, Truman Concedes

President Admits Mistake, but Still Wants to Know How to Make 20% Tax Cut

President Truman acknowledged yesterday that he had erred in respect to a statement he attributed to Representative Knutson (R., Minn.).

Observing that even Presidents make mistakes, Mr. Truman said he was in error about an incident he was said to have related at an off-the-record conference last month on the budget.

At that time Mr. Truman was quoted as having told reporters that he had conferred with Knutson about the latter's proposal to cut individual income taxes 20 per cent next year. The President was quoted indirectly as saying that Knutson had admitted that he did not know specifically how such a cut could be made.

When accounts of this incident appeared in print Knutson wrote the President August 19 asking Mr. Truman to "kindly correct the misinformation you gave to the press." Knutson said he had not talked personally with Mr. Truman since the latter became President.

Mr. Truman told his news conference today he was completely surprised by Knutson's letter, but added that since it had been published before he received it, he considered no answer was necessary.

The President said that any reference to Knutson in this respect was a mistake entirely, adding that he had talked to several persons about the budget. Nevertheless, he added, he still would like to have Knutson tell him how to make a 20 per cent cut in taxes.

Text of Press, Radio Conference Q and A

Other questions discussed by Mr. Truman and the press at yesterday's conference were as follows:

Q. Are there any plans for an international trial of the Nazi industrialists at the termination of the present trial?

The President answered that the plans were being worked on.

Q. Would that be an international trial?

Mr. Truman had no comment except to say that decision would be made when this trial was completed.

Q. You said recently at your budget seminar that you had spoken to someone who said that taxes would be reduced 20 per cent in 1947. Since Congressmen Knutson has made so many statements about that, it was assumed you had talked with him. Could you explain that?

That was one time he had made an error, the President said, and added that he was completely surprised when he saw Mr. Knutson's letter in the press. It was published before it reached him, he said, and, therefore, it did not require a reply. The President makes mistakes as well as anyone else, Mr. Truman stated, adding that he would like to ask Mr. Knutson to tell him how taxes would be cut 20 per cent.

Q.—Did you speak with him?

He had been discussing the matter with several people previously, the President said.

Q. In this Mead Committee report on Calon, is it not true that no member of the joint chiefs of staff can give out information unless the President directs them to?

That has been customary practice, stated President Truman, but the Canol case is a dead horse. He said that it had been completely investigated and a report made on it when he was chairman, and those investigations and reports were made to prevent dead horses from being brought up again.

Q. In other words, there is no point in Admiral King testifying?

None at all, Mr. Truman replied.

Q. The report is that Price Administrator Porter has asked to leave his post. Has he discussed this with you?

He had not been asked that, Mr. Truman said, and he did not think Mr. Porter would ask him.

Q. Would you like to implement the open covenants policy and say what you told the British on the Palestine problem?

That information had all been released, replied President Truman.

Q. You made a reply to Attlee that we never got.

The President thought the substance of it had been released. He stated that he was trying to get 100,000 Jews into Palestine and that was what he was still trying to do.

Q. It has never been officially stated whether we accepted or rejected the Grady-Morrison report.

Mr. Truman answered that it is still being considered.

Q. Will there be a special session of Congress on price control?

The Chief Executive replied that he had not thought of calling a special session.

Q. There has been some suggestion that a special session be called to enact the Wagner-Taft-Ellender housing bill. Has that suggestion been made to you?

Mr. Truman said that was the first he had heard of it, and added that he thought the Congressmen were entitled to campaign without interference until election time.

Q. Would you go along with the provision for a 300-million-dollar loan to the Palestine states called for in the Grady-Morrison report?

That was under discussion, the President answered, adding that he would rather not comment on it until a decision was made on the whole program.

Q. Have you considered calling a labor-management conference?

No.

Q. What do you think of the Mead-Lehman ticket?

The President replied that it suited him all right and he thought it would be elected.

Q. What are you going to do to help Mead?

He was going to say all the nice things he can about him, Mr. Truman said, adding that he thinks he is a good administrator.

Q. Where will you speak?

He had not made definite plans yet, answered President Truman.

Q. Will you go to New York?

The Chief Executive did not wish to answer that question.

Q. Secretary Schwellenbach says he thinks the American labor delegate should be alternated between the AFL and the CIO. Do you agree?

The President replied that the matter had been discussed and was in the hands of the Secretary of Labor. It had not been put up to him, he said.

Q. Did what you said a few minutes ago about Palestine mean that consultation with the British is still under way?

Mr. Truman said it was still going on in London.

Q. Are we going to send an observer to the Arab group discussion?

We were not, Mr. Truman replied, as we are not interested in that.

Q. Do you plan to do anything about the maritime strike?

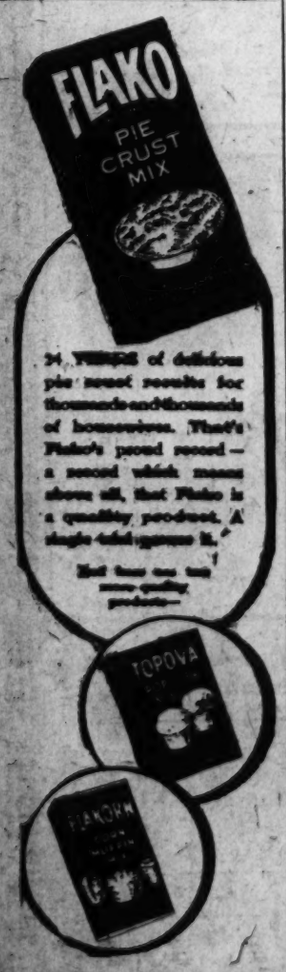
That was still in the hands of the Secretary of Labor and had not been up to him yet, Mr. Truman answered.

Q. Is there any prospect of an extra session of Congress after the election?

He was not even considering an extra session of Congress, if that was a definite enough answer, the President said, adding that there was no emergency facing us now that requires it.

Q. What do you think of the stock market?

President Truman felt he was not sufficiently well informed to comment. He said that of course he was interested in it, but he had had no experience in it on his own part, and preferred not to comment until he had more information.



24 TIMES of delicious pie crust results for thousands and thousands of housewives. That's Flako's proud record—a record which means above all, that Flako is a quality product. A single tablespoon fl.
But here are two more quality products—

A-Bomb Poison Killed Pigs in Closed Ships

The atom bomb's radium-like poison can penetrate a tightly closed ship and spread death throughout the interior.

This was disclosed yesterday in an "Operation Crossroads" report dealing with the animals used in the Bikini tests.

Among other things, the report said that radiation sickness proved fatal to all of the 20 pigs stationed on four of the target ships used in the underwater bomb test.

The pigs had been placed in the medical quarters of the vessels, which were in "buttoned up" battle condition with hatches and ports closed. Six pigs were found dead within four days, the remainder died within two weeks.

Depthcharge More Deadly

The atomic depthcharge, by creating a deadly radioactive mist and tossing tons of heavily contaminated water aboard the target ships, produced a far more poisonous effect than the first airburst bomb.

In that test, 3030 rats, 176 goats and 146 pigs were used, stationed at points in 22 target vessels to simulate crewmen.

A preliminary survey indicates that about 10 per cent of the animals in the airburst test died from the blast of the bomb and that 10 per cent more fell victim to radiation sickness.

In the underwater explosion, 75 rats were killed initially by blast, radiation or other reasons, and 49 more died of radiation illness within a month.

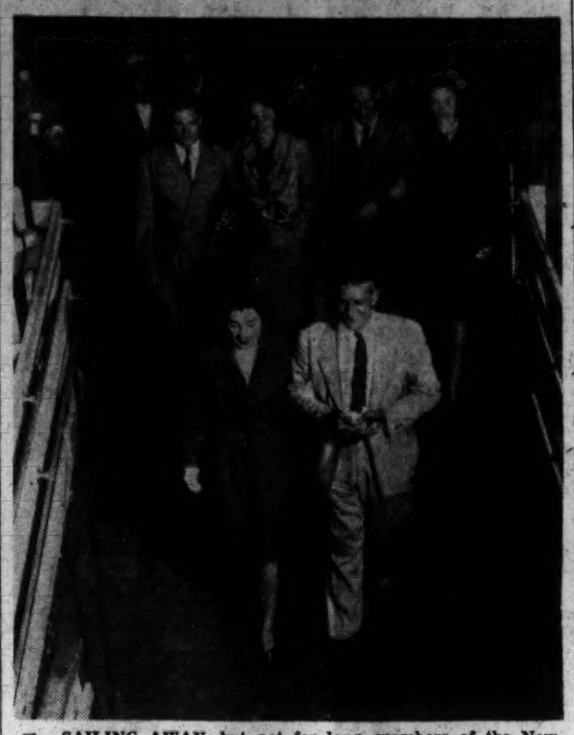
For security reasons, the task force has declined to specify the exact number or positions of animals above and below decks on the target ships.

4900 Animals at Bikini

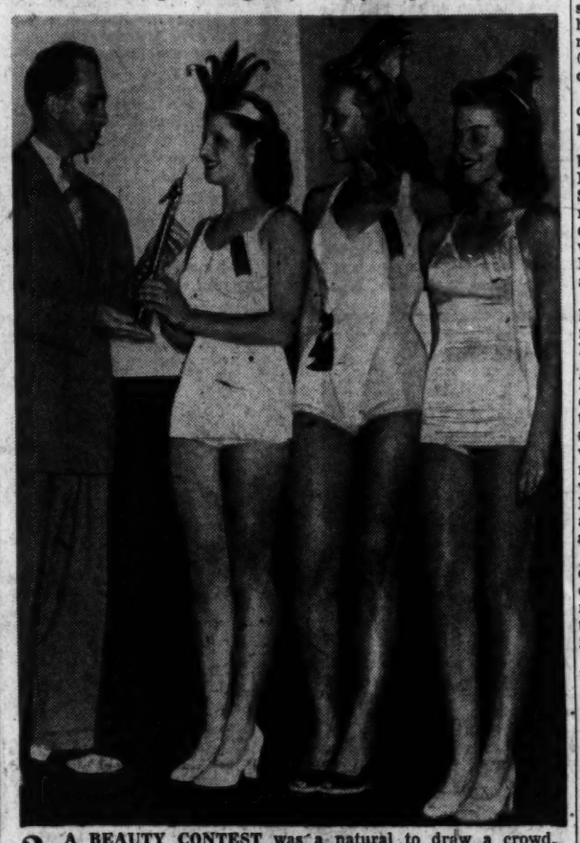
Bomb damage in the airburst test was mainly to above-deck portions. The underwater blast, in addition to ripping open hulls, tore loose fittings inside the ships and flung them about with projectile-like force. Casualties thus produced presumably would augment those resulting from the bomb's poisoning effect.

The task force took 4900 animals to Bikini. Some of the surviving rats, pigs and goats have been brought back for laboratory study. The 2500 remaining animals aboard the laboratory ship Burleson are en route to the United States and are due to arrive here late this month. They will be sent to the Naval Medical Research Center at nearby Bethesda, Md., and other laboratories for study.

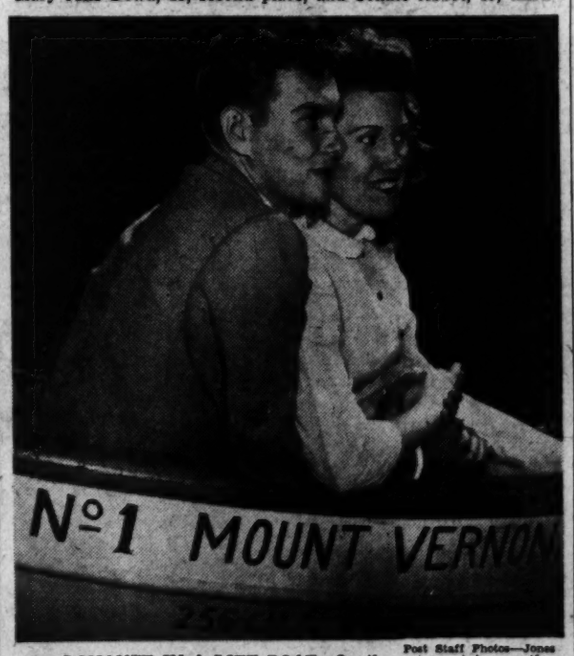
New Yorkers on the Potomac . . .



1. SAILING AWAY, but not for long, members of the New York State Society of Washington board the SS Mount Vernon for their hospital-benefit dance cruise down the Potomac. They are campaigning to raise $2000 to establish a New York Room at George Washington University Hospital



2. A BEAUTY CONTEST was a natural to draw a crowd. Comely members contended for the title of "Miss New York State Society." The winner is Anna Frances Johnson, 19, receiving trophy from Richard Morris, senior judge. Runners-up are Mary Jane Dowd, 19, second place, and Connie Abbot, 19, third



Post Staff Photos—Jones

3. ROMANCE IN A LIFE BOAT—On the return trip, as the cruise neared its end, Bruce Sedberry, 22, of 2500 Clifton st. nw., and his bride-to-be, Mary W. Haynes, 22, of 3800 14th st. nw., sat dreamily watching the moonlit water, and built castles in the air

Bar Association Wants Truman As Dinner Guest

President Truman was invited yesterday to be a special guest at the Federal Bar Association dinner, October 3, at the Mayflower.

The dinner will honor senior Federal circuit judges who will be here that week to confer with Fred M. Vinson, Chief Justice of the United States. Other guests will be Justice Vinson and Judge John J. Parker, alternate judge at the Nuernberg war crimes trials, who will be the guest speaker.

The invitation was tendered Mr. Truman by Judge George D. Neilson of Municipal Court, and his wife. Judge Neilson said Truman thanked him for the invitation but said he was not sure whether he could attend. For the past 10 years, the President has attended the American Legion fair at Carruthersville, Mo., the first week in October.

U.N. Atom Unit Report Offers Safeguards

By Francis W. Carpenter

Lake Success, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—Complete agreement by all 12 members of the Scientific and Technical Committee of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission on a report on scientific aspects of atomic safeguards was reported authoritatively today.

It was said to be the first time since the atomic energy question had come before the United Nations Commission that such unanimous agreement had been achieved.

The same 12 nations which hold seats on the commission are represented on the scientific committee—the 11 members of the Security Council plus Canada.

While the details of the report were not divulged pending its publication, possibly next week, it was said that the scientists commented at length on safeguards necesary to harnes atomic energy but made no recommendations. The report was described as a "doctor's diagnosis" rather than a prescription for atomic control.

Diversion of Energy Explained

The report explains the processes of atomic energy and tells where in these processes the diversion can take place for military purposes unless safeguards are applied. It does not advocate any safeguards, merely telling where they can be placed, if desired, and where they would be easier or harder to apply.

In making up this first international report on atomic energy, the scientific and technical committee held 15 informal meetings. It will meet formally tomorrow at 2 p. m. (EST) at the United Nations headquarters here for final action.

The report then will go to the commission's committee No. 2, probably next Monday or Tuesday.

Most of the report was written by the chairman, Prof. H. A. Kramers of the Netherlands. Prof. S. P. Alexandrov of Russia, who recently joined the committee after observing the Bikini atomic tests, wrote one section on raw materials. He is one of the world's foremost authorities on that subject.

The Americans were said to have limited their participation in the report to published data.

No Russian Opposition

It was said authoritatively that Russia has in no way signified any opposition to the report, which their member on the scientific committee has approved informally. It was understood that the final, formal vote of approval on the report was delayed until tomorrow so that Russian government representatives could read it before official approval is given.

Committee No. 2 is directly concerned with the political phases of atomic control, but it was at the request of this committee more than a month ago that the scientists launched their study.

The Atomic Energy Commission began consideration of plans for controlling atomic energy last June 14 when Bernard M. Baruch, United States member of the commission, proposed the American plan at the commission's first meeting.

Control of All Phases

That plan envisions an atomic development authority which would control all phases of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes. The United States urged that atomic weapons be outlawed and said it would dipose of its bombs and cease making bombs once adequate controls were established. It also said there must be no veto on atomic energy control.

Russia quickly laid down its plan and insisted, and has maintained in subsequent debate, that there must be no tampering with the veto power in the United Nations Security Council.

There has been no agreement on the principal differences between the American and Russian plans.

Molotov Back As Reds Okay Trieste Accord

Paris, Sept. 5 (AP).—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov returned lated today to the European Peace Conference.

He arrived a few hours after his deputy, Andrei Vishinsky, declared that Russia was supporting the Big Four agreement to internationalize Trieste only because of "political consideration."

Vishinsky, who asked the conference to "reject emphatically" all Italian claims to the Istrian Peninsula and the strategic Adriatic port city, was not at the opening of the afternoon session, and it was believed he might be conferring with Molotov.

The Soviet Embassy said that Molotov on his return from conferences in the Kremlin stopped in Berlin to meet with Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor of Germany. Speculation arose that the Foreign Ministers Council might be preparing to discuss the German situation.

Meanwhile, the Political and Territorial Commission for Romania voted 10 to 2 to uphold the Big Four decision to award Transylvania to Romania, dispelling hopes that Hungry's plea for 1544 square miles of the area on the western border of Hungry would be heeded.

Australian Delegate F. K. Officer called upon the Big Four to justify thedecision to give all of Transylvania to Romania while thousands of Hungarian nationals remained in the area. Soviet Delegate Alexander Bogomolov replied that the sole question was to nullify the Hitler award at Vienna which gave Transylvania to Hungary.

Vishinsky, appearing before the Italian political and territorial commission, made it plain that Russia would support the Big Four agreement to create a free territory of Trieste but he added:

"Yugoslavia has an unquestionable right to the port and town of Trieste. The decision of the Foreign Ministers contains a minimum of justice. In our opinion, it should contain a maximum of justice.

"But sometimes it is not possible to have a maximum of justice in dealing with political considerations. Sometimes when we are dealing with politics 2 and 2 don't make 4—sometimes they add up to 5."

Bringing into sharp focus eastern Europe's massed front against the Italian demands, Vishinsky accused former Italian Premier Ivanoe Bonomi of "cloaking annexations with the flog of justice" in claiming Trieste. He said Yugoslavia's demand was based on the dominant Slav population of the hinterland surrounding Trieste, which has an Italian majority within the city limits.

Vinshinsky spoke 24 hours after Senator Tom Connally of the United States had pleaded that the nations forget their hatreds and prejudices in considering the Trieste issue.

The Political and Territorial Commission for Finland, mean while, aproved the Big Four proposal that the ministers of Russia and Britain in Helsinki administer the provisions of the Finnish treaty, after voting down nine to one an Australian proposal to extend the administration board to seven members.

In the Italian Economic Commission, Greece became the first of 12 countries to state her case for $6,117,710,005 she is asking in reparations from Italy. Russia's request for 100 million dollars had been indorsed previously without hearing of detailed claims.

Greek Delegate John Politis, criticizing previous arguments that reparations should not be so heavy as to threaten Italy's economy, said Greek economy was "in a state of ruin," and that his country was "incapable of recovering by any other means except by reparations."

Picket Shot as Violence Flares In N. Y. Truck Drivers' Strike

New York, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—A picket was shot today in the first flareup of violence in the five-day-old truck drivers' strike that has paralyzed supply lines of metropolitan New York and crippled business and industry.

The shooting occurred in Kearny, N. J., when strikers attempted to hale a truck at the American Stores warehouse. Police sought the occupants of the intercepted truck.

Orders to spread the sympathy walkout in northern New Jersey into the southernr and central parts of the State were issued by union leaders today. The New York truck drivers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL) were joined in the work stoppage by 10,000 north Jersey drivers yesterday.

Some food stores, blocked off from deliveries of staple supplies since Saturday, were running low on such items as canned goods and coffee. Bread, fresh fruit and vegetables, meat and otaer perishable foods were moving at a near normal level.

Deliveries were at a standstill for many nonfood items. Strikers permitted the movement of essential drugs, but such items as toothpaste, soap and cigarettes were not on the essential list. The garment industry was cut off from deliveries of bulk supplies, magazines were stacked up in publishing houses and the pinch was felt in scores of other businesses.

Threats by rank and file members of the Teamsters Union to stop "everything that's rolling" promised to increase the delivery bottleneck. An estimated 93,000 trucks operated by specialty firms have continued to move since the strike halted 20,000 vehicles operaed by general truckers. Importers' shipments piled up at piers.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5 (AP).—The Metropolitan Pittsburgh district, jittery for days over an impending power strike, still was in the dark today on the date of the work stoppage as an independent union rejected the latest attempt to avoid a walkout.

Union President George L. Mueller told Mayor David L. Lawrence that the union refused a Duquesne Light Co. proposal to submit the bitter contractual dispute to arbitration—or to a fact-finding board.

His announcement did not set a date for the work stoppage, which would directly involve only 3500 Duquesne workers but immediately would affect the daily lives of about 1,500,000 persons in greater Pittsburgh and a portion of adjoining, industrialized Beaver County.

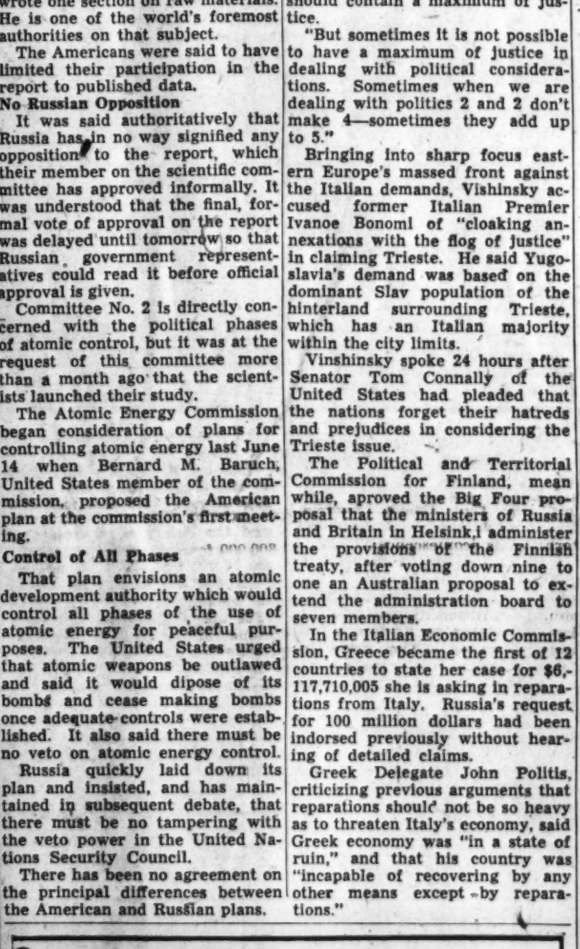
When the strike was voted by Duquesne employes in mass meeting Tuesday night, Mueller said it could be called "within a few days" or delayed as long as two weeks.

Country Home Child Activities Are Broadcast

Activities of the Children's Country Home, a Community Chest agency, in providing convalescent care for District children were described last night in a broadcast over WINX.

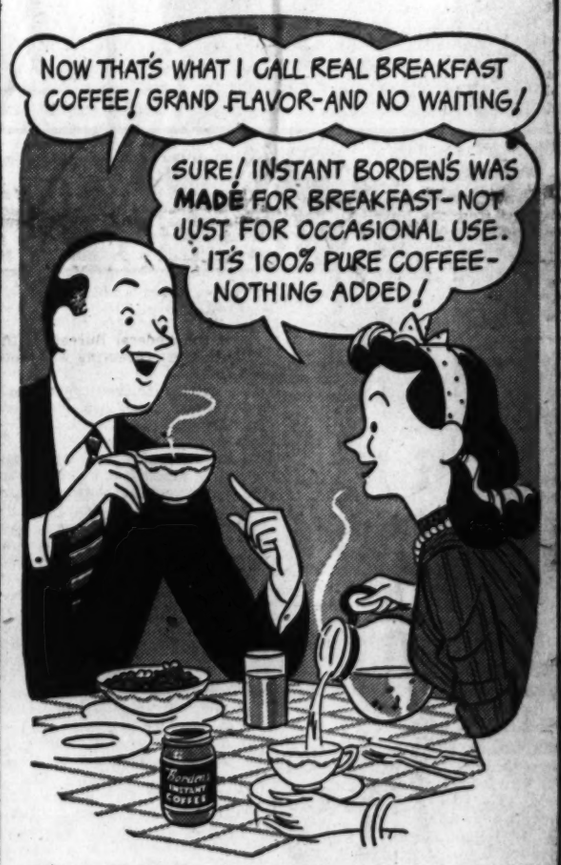
Dr. W. A. Howard, chief of staff of the home, said the average stay of children at the home is two to three months. During that time, needy children have access to the services of four graduate nurses, five child specialists, a playground supervisor and seven nursery attendants. Dr. Howard was interviewed by Jack Houlihan.

The home is located at 18th st. and Bunker Hill rd. ne.



TENDER-CRISP AND FRESH PROTECTED

Imagine! Instant Coffee made especially for Breakfast!



NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL REAL BREAKFAST COFFEE! GRAND FLAVOR-AND NO WAITING!
SURE! INSTANT BORDEN'S WAS MADE FOR BREAKFAST-NOT JUST FOR OCCASIONAL USE. IT'S 100% PURE COFFEE-NOTHING ADDED!

IT'S NO SECRET to anybody how convenient instant coffee is—especially in the morning, when the whole family's in a hurry.

"But," you say, "how good is this instant coffee? Show me an instant coffee that tastes as good as my favorite ground coffee—and I'll serve it every day with pleasure."

"Fine," says Borden. "Either Borden's has it, or you don't pay. It'll taste every bit as good as your favorite ground coffee—for breakfast every day in the week—or your money back!"*

You see, Borden's was made for breakfast—not just for occasional use. It's all coffee—not a half-and-half "café"-type mixture! And what coffee! Serve it by the cup or by the pot—to the whole family—for every meal. If you don't love it, the treat's on us!

IMPORTANT:

Don't use too much Borden's. Remember, Borden's is 100% pure coffee. Use ½ to ¾ of a level teaspoonful.

© THE BORDEN CO.

* Use at least half a jar of Borden's. Then if you don't agree it tastes as good as your favorite ground coffee, send us the jar with the unused contents, and we'll cheerfully refund your money. The Borden Co., 350 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

The Federal Diary

By Jerry Kluttz

U. S. Employes' Union Opposes Personnel Cuts

Cleveland, Sept. 5.—The National Federation of Federal Employes, in biennial convention here, went on record today in opposition to personnel ceilings which are forcing thousands of employes off the Government payroll.

The influential independent union suggested the number of employes be fixed by the appropriations approved by Congress, rather than by the Budget Bureau. It was charged in the resolution that it would be impossible to carry out necessary programs in an efficient manner because of the shortage of people.

But to those employes who will be fired, the NFFE demanded that they be paid unemployment compensation like their colleagues in private industry.

Officers Reelected

Earlier, Luther C. Steward and Gertrude M. McNally, both of Washington, were reelected unanimously for two-year terms. Both officers have held their posts since the inception of the union 29 years ago.

Speaker after speaker hailed the officers as outstanding authorities on Federal personnel administration, and as being largely responsible for the progress of Federal workers during the past 25 years.

President Steward told the 350 delegates he would continue his fight for a better and more efficient Government. Miss McNally set a goal of 200,000 members for 1948.

Also elected were nine vice presidents. They were Dr. Walter P. Taylor, College Station, Tex.; Ulrey J. Biller, Washington; George I. Evans, Denver; Vaux Owen, Atlanta; L. J. Wall, Springfield, Ill.; Oscar W. Dam, Seattle; John J. Royle, Watertown, Mass.; S. C. Elliott, Cleveland, and F. R. Fowler, San Francisco.

Elected members of the auditing committee were Henry G. Nolda of Washington, Florence Broadwell of Richmond and Andrew Trageser, Baltimore.

Parley Ends Today

The convention is scheduled to end late tomorrow. The 1948 convention will be held in Milwaukee.

In strong language, the convention went on record against the common practice of the War and Navy Departments of placing military people in jobs that could be filled by civilians. The national officers were instructed to take up this problem with White House and military officials.

Along the same line, the delegates voted for a quick return to the Civil Service system to stop the practice of military people who take off their uniforms and continue in their jobs as civilian, without taking merit tests.

Officers Instructed

NFFE national officers also were instructed to:

Investigate the promotion policy of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Seek a change in the retention point system to provide five points for excellent, efficient ratings; four points for very good and three points for good.

Work for a law which would compel administrators and supervisors to be trained on the efficiency rating system before they could rate employes.

Work with the Civil Service Commission to set up a better and easier transfer system for employes.

Enlarge "competitive areas" in a reduction of force to give added protection to permanent employes.

The union also called on Congress to increase the per diem allowance for Federal workers who must travel. The limit is now an inadequate $6 a day. It went on record in opposition to riders to appropriation bills, and it asked Congress to create a Civil Service court of appeals to settle employe grievances.

The convention rejected the pleas today of President Steward and Miss McNally, a rare occurrence. But national officers spoke—and with a bit of heat—against a resolution which would permit a member to make a choice of membership in locals. The measure was voted by a good majority nevertheless.

National Weather Summary

U. S. Weather Bureau Forecast for Period Ending 7:30 P. M. EST. 9-6-46

24-HOUR FORECAST: Cooler, cloudy weather with some showers is the outlook for the upper Lakes region and Northern Plains States, while the eastern third of the country north of Florida will have warmer weather. The Middle Atlantic States and southeastern Florida will have showers near the coast, and there will be scattered thunderstorms in northern Illinois, northwestern Indiana, Iowa, the Rocky Mountain States and western slope of the Rockies.

The upper Ohio Valley and lower Lakes area will be a bit warmer and cloudy.

Sections east of the Rockies in Montana and Colorado will be cooler and the western half of the Nation will have thunderstorms and showers in the northwestern quadrant and mountainous sections (see map).

Fair weather is predicted for California and the southern plateau.

Temperatures in the Gulf States are expected to remain unchanged, but the Central Plains, upper Lakes region, portions of the central and upper Mississippi Valley will be mostly warmer as the frontal pattern in that sector indicates. (Note warm front on map.)

The "Cold Air Front" pushing southward and east marks the leading edge of a cool Canadian air mass that will bring cooler weather in most parts of the Northern Plains, upper Mississippi Valley and western upper Lakes section. Numerous showers are forecast in this frontal zone as pictured on the FOTOCAST.

No important lowering of temperature is foreseen in connection with the southernmost "Cold Air Front," and there will be clear skies north and west of the front.

DOWNS

From Page 1

423 Oneida pl. nw., and $1 from an anonymous contributor who promised another gift "on pay day."

Police Give Generously

The police precinct funds announced yesterday and the partial totals thus far follow:

	Yesterday	Total
Number 1	$200	$915
Number 2	50	253
Number 3	15	228
Number 4	450	2239
Number 5	—	35
Number 6	—	60
Number 7	—	250
Number 8	—	117
Number 9	453	699
Number 10	—	270
Number 11	20	178
Number 12	13	179
Number 13	13	69
Harbor	—	20
Traffic Div.	—	300
Det. Bureau	—	168.86

SLAY

From Page 1

days before the gun battle with police.

Barrett named the special squad for the Kemp killing following his return from a vacation in Atlantic City, N. J.

Taking over immediate supervision of the case, Barrett declared the case wasn't as hopeless as it has appeared. He asserted optimistically that police have "several leads."

He said there is still much ground to be covered by investigators, but he is confident there will be a break in the case soon.

The police department has offered a $300 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the slayer or slayers of Kemp, who was married and the father of two small girls.

SHIPS

From Page 1

cisco, to ask Harry Lundeberg, the SUP leader, to fly to Washington.

Policy Change Studied

However, it was clear that neither Hanna nor Schwellenbach was in a position to threaten Lundeberg, or to offer him inducements.

When strikes have grown out of disputes between unions and employers, the Government has seized the industries. The strikers have then gone back to work, upon the promise that any settlement made would date back to their return.

But no such promise can be made the SUP and SIU, because there is no way to promise that the wage board will revise its views upon anti-inflation policy.

The only way would be to change the policy and allow the raise. That would have to be done on an industry-wide basis, with comparable raises for all other maritime workers.

And that would open the door for all other unions to ask for similar policy changes.

Such a solution was being worked out last night.

Board Open to Suggestions

The Government was not even able to insist upon the seamen going back to their ships before the wage decision was reviewed.

There have been many cases in which the Government refused to talk terms while a strike was no. But there have been exceptions to this.

Chairman W. Willard Wirtz of the Wage Stabilization Board, told The Post the board would meet today or tomorrow to decide whether to hold its rehearing—set for next Tuesday—in the face of the strike. The board was obviously open to suggestions from the agencies which are trying to deal with the situation.

And at the Labor Department it was learned that the department does want the hearing to go on despite the strike.

Food Plea Made

Meanwhile, the Maritime Commission met Wednesday night and most of yesterday, but took no action. Vice Admiral W. W. Smith, the chairman, last night sent this telegram to Lundeberg and to John Hawk, the SIU secretary-treasurer:

"The present strike in protest of a decision of the National Wage Stabilization Board has affected all vessels in American ports. Your attention is directed to the potential loss involved in failure to keep in operation the refrigerating machinery which is necessary to prevent the spoilage of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs now stored on the ships.

"In view of the world-wide shortage of food, we request your union to give immediate assurance that provisions will be made for such operation as may be necessary to protect valuable refrigerated foodstuffs which would have to be replaced from civilian stores already critically short. We are confident you will agree and arrange to protect against spoilage."

Seahawks Release Stan Koslowski

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 5.—Stan Koslowski, former Holy Cross star halfback, who had been drafted by the Washington Redskins last winter but jumped to the Miami, All-America, Club, was released by the Seahawks here today.

Coach Jack Meagher announced the cut of four other players, including Manny Kaplin of Western Maryland, but offered no explanation.

Redskin officials in Washington stated that Koslowski had been dropped from their reserve list and no attempt would be made to sign Koslowski.

CONVENE

From Page 1

a stalemate between Smith and Robertson.

The first name to be placed before the convention for the first ballot was Howard W. Smith. His Eighth District backers pushed him to the fore as soon as the roll call of delegations began.

State Senator John S. Battles of Charlottesville made the nominating speech for Representative Smith, and seconds were shouted from the Eighth, Fifth and Third District delegations.

Nominations in Rapid Order

The other nominations then came in rapid order. Following the announced results of the first ballot, the convention recessed to 8:30 p. m., with indications that there may be a continuing session until one nominee receives the 565 ballots, a simple majority, required for nomination.

The convention's scheduled 3 o'clock session which ended in the balloting did not get under way until 3:20 p. m., with Darden serving as chairman.

Events moved rapidly until Darden's name was offered in nomination, and he then withdrew from the chair, which was taken by State Party Chairman Horace Edwards. The first roll call was not completed until about 7 o'clock, and Edwards still held the chair at that time.

Delegates shouted down a proposal to recess, and the first polling of delegations then began.

Session Opens Late

The early afternoon session of the convention opened 30 minutes late with Edwards calling the delegates to order at 12:30 in the mosque auditorium.

Following an address of welcome Vaughan Gary of Richmond, Representative Almond delivered a long eulogy praising the courage and independence of the late Senator Glass.

Terming Mr. Glass an "intellectual colossus" despite his physical diminutiveness, Representative Almond said "he stood for the eternal verities, the rock-ribbed concepts of Jeffersonian democracy."

Representative Almond said that Virginians and Americans can point with pride to the "rich and constructive contribution" the Senator made in his 50 years of public service which ended at his death on May 28.

At the conclusion of his address, Representative Almond presented resolutions, which were adopted unanimously, expressing the hope that the new senatorial nominee would serve Virginia "with the same courage, the same ability, the same devotion, and with as much honor to the State."

Byrd Joins in Praise

Senator Harry F. Byrd then accepted an invitation to speak and joined in the praise to his former colleague.

After the eulogies of Senator Glass, Gov. William M. Tuck introduced resolutions honoring the memory of the late President Roosevelt, and praising President Truman for pursuing policies to "balance the budget, reduce the national debt, and, so far as is consistent with a wise financial policy, provide relief from the heavy burdens of taxation."

Approximately 2000 delegates, some holding fractional votes, filled the floor of the auditorium, but there were few spectators in the gallery in the pre-balloting hours. Behind the speaker's rostrum, a band struck up a fanfare as the name of each Senatorial candidate was placed in nomination.

During the morning, caucuses were held by the delegates from each District for election of representatives on various convention committees and other officials.

Boothe Heads Delegation

Gardner L. Boothe of Alexandria, prominent northern Virginia attorney, wes elected chairman of the Eighth District delegation, and the following Eighth District officials were elected:

Permanent Organization Committee—J. P. Snead, Fluvanna County; W. Earle Crank, Louisa, and C. C. Bowles, Goochland.

Credentials committee—Andrew Clark, State Senator of Fairfax County; Norman C. Bailey, Orange, and C. C. Chloe, Prince William.

Resolutions committee—Maynard Magruder, Arlington; R. T. Corbell, Loudoun, and Henry Gordon, Albemarle.

Assistant sergeant at arms—W. T. Detter, Albemarle.

Mrs. F. E. Whitehead, of Charlotte County, was named secretary of the delegation.

TRUMAN

From Page 1

of the committee, and that it was a dead horse.

A little later, however, Mr. Truman was saying that Mead was a good administrator, and that in the campaign ahead he planned to say all the nice things he could about him in his race against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

"Is there any prospect of an extra session of Congress after the election?" the President was asked.

No Emergency In View

He said that he was not even considering an extra session—that there was no emergency to justify one.

The possibility of a special session first was raised by Mr. Truman himself. In signing the new OPA bill in July, he told Congress that he would call it back in advance of the regular session in January if the safeguards against inflation proved inadequate. Apparently, he must feel that the price situation does not yet constitute an emergency.

The questions about a special session were put to Mr. Truman at yesterday's White House news conference because, while he was in Bermuda, labor leaders urged that Congress be called back to strengthen OPA and to act on the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill.

The White House announced Wednesday that Mr. Truman would make at least one and probably other speeches in this off-year campaign, but added that he would not go on a "barnstorming" tour.

It would amount to that, however, if the President accepted all the invitations that are coming to him.

Yesterday Senator Joseph Guffey (D., Pa.), who is in trouble this year, called at the White House and asked Mr. Truman to make a speech in the Keystone State this autumn. He told reporters afterward that Mr. Truman advised him that what appearances he might make were up to the Democratic National Committee.

"I'd be tickled to death just to get him to Pennsylvania," Guffey said. "If I had to select a place I'd choose Philadelphia. He could help three Senate candidates there—those in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware."

The Original Dry Champagne

Pommery pioneered the dry French Champagnes, culminating in the celebrated Pommery Brut. Preferred by epicure and connoisseur throughout the world, every bottle of Pommery is a supreme example of the vintner's art. In ordering Pommery you can be certain there is nothing finer.

IMPORTED by SHAW

NEW YORK 17, N. Y.
SOLE U. S. AGENTS

NOW you can serve Cocktails at home

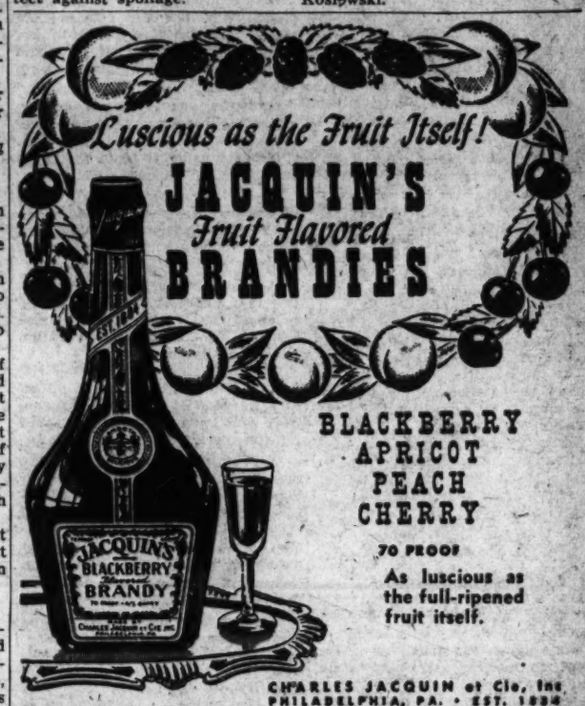
equal to those served at world-famous bars. Just add your favorite brand of liquor to "Holland House Cocktail Mix"...and serve.

8 PERFECT MIXES
Dry Martini
Bronx
Side Car
Daiquiri
Manhattan
Old Fashioned
*Whiskey Sour
*Tom Collins

FULL PINT
...enough for 22 to 43 cocktails or tall drinks

*Whiskey Sour & Tom Collins not available at present.

For Sale at Food, Drug, Dept., Package Liquor Stores
HOLLAND HOUSE SALES CO.
136 West 22nd St., New York 11, N. Y.



Washington Distributor—Forman Brothers, Inc., Wash., D. C.

Lady Esther's

30th ANNIVERSARY "BEAUTY DIVIDEND"

You Save 95¢!

ACTUAL SIZE

ACTUAL SIZE

Lady Esther 4-PURPOSE FACE CREAM — Large Size . . . $1.38

PLUS

Lady Esther FACE POWDER "BRIDAL PINK" — Large Size 55

TOTAL VALUE $1.93

BOTH FOR ONLY 98¢! (PLUS TAX)

IF YOUR FAVORITE STORE DOES NOT HAVE THIS SET . . . If you find your favorite store unable to supply you, fill in and mail attached coupon to me . . . and I will help you get your 30th Anniversary set through that store.

Tear Out—And Put In Your Coin-Purse As A Reminder to get your Lady Esther 30th Anniversary set

If your store can't supply you, fill in and mail to LADY ESTHER, 7171 West 65th St., Chicago, Ill.—

I want one of your 30th Anniversary sets (at 98¢, plus tax) through my favorite store.

NAME OF STORE _____

CITY _____ STATE _____

MY NAME IS: _____

MY ADDRESS IS: _____

STEEL

From Page 1

labor. It must undertake to bind them also to the other clauses in the contract."

Other Contract Provisions

His reference was to the promise of no walkouts; the settlement of grievances through the machinery established in the contract; the guarantee of a fair day's work without slow-down, foot-shuffling or ca'-canny-ism, and a cessation of phoney, trumped up time and money-consuming grievances.

A few labor relations experts for the steel companies think the whole thing is hopeless, because of the inherent democratic, and therefore political, nature of the union. Not that they are against democracy; they simply say that as long as the union district directors, shop stewards, grievance committeemen and local union officers are elected, and as long as some of those jobs have certain desirable pay, prestige or other perquisites, the jobholders won't be sufficiently hard-boiled.

That is, they won't lash into an offending rank-and-filer and give him his come-uppance for fear of finding an antagonistic bloc voting against the official come the next election of union officers.

Best Join Management

The industria lrelations officer for a giant concern in the electrical industry takes an even more hopeless view. He argues that the best men among the workers, those with guts, leadership and most intelligence, who would conceivably make for infinitely improved relations if they became union officers, are almost entirely lifted up into management ranks.

Their prospects for more money and for security, not subject to the next union election, are better served if they accept the job—almost certainly to be proferred to such types—of foreman or other managerial posts.

To much of this talk, the top union officials here reply "hogwash" and other terms common to workmen's lips if not to this newspaper.

Good labor relations, they contend, are made by attitudes and by people. Walkouts, wildcat stoppages, harassing complaints, slowdowns and management-needling will go down to the irreducible minimum, they say, when the union is convinced that the industry men they are dealing with are not out to destroy the union's existence or power.

Antagonism to Unions

Too many officials are still left, they declare, who give only lip service to "union recognition" and "collective bargaining." When these men no longer make policy, unions will no longer have to be on the offensive-defense.

Contracts will be observed, they say, when provocation to breach them is no longer forthcoming. When management relinquishes the dictatorial attitude, when the worker is convinced that what he sees as a grievance is probably a mistake and not a deliberate effort to cut the union's heart, problems of contract observance will disappear.

The steelworkers are fond of citing the case of Crucible Steel, for many years bossed by a crusty gent whose traditional reply to union demands was a bellow of, "You can't tell me how to run my company." His labor relations were considerably worse than awful.

He finally gave up the job a few years ago and at the same time a man named Walter Criston was employed as lobar relations officer. Very quickly he established his sympathy with the union, his good faith and his understanding. He is such a person as to have sat through the entire proceedings of the steelworkers annual meeting last summer, an unprecedented thing for an industry man to do.

Union Cooperation

From the worst relations in the industry, Crucible Steel now has probably the best. Union men swear by Criston. And he rarely swears at them. Sure, there are occasional work stoppages in Crucible's plants, but Criston declares that the union cooperates instantly and effectively to end them.

Attitudes and people make labor relations, the union says, and further admits that it isn't only the people and the attitudes on industry's side that makes all the trouble.

The union is doing something about its own attitudes and people. Last summer some 575 local union officers each spent a week at either Pennsylvania State University or Antioch College in an intensive course to make them better—more responsible, if you will—union officers. This deucational program will be expanded to include some 10 colleges and universities next summer, where similar courses by the institutions' faculties will be given.

More Ambitious Program

An even more ambitious program is soon to be announced by the union's educational director, Vincent D. Sweeney. The union is paying the University of Chicago to set up a group of four or five of its industrial relations staff into an institute which will work, at first, with some 30 union officials in the Chicago area.

Over a period of several months they will try to work out a manual of labor relations to serve as a teacher's text in educating all steel union officers. The university men's knowledge of teaching and their theoretical findings on techniques will be amalgamated with the hard-boiled realities of collective bargaining as known to the union men.

When the manual is completed, the Chicago staff will proceed to another steel area and with another group of 30 unioneers, will try the manual out for size. After several more months, the manual will be revised in the light of new experience. If necessary it will be tried out and revised again and again.

Finally, a document will emerge which the union feels it can use as a text for classes for all officials, to teach everything that can be taught on the settlement of grievances, preparation of arbitration cases, knowledge of contract clauses and their interpretation, time study jobs, job evaluations—everything in short, that a union man is liable to handle in the course of his official duties.

It won't bring Utopia, Sweeney knows, but it may go a long way toward fleeping peace inside a steel plant.

(Tomorrow Mr. Friendly will discuss charges that labor is holding down production.)

NATIONS

From Page 1

tone, Cadogan defended the presence of British troops as legitimate under requests from the Greek government and generally dismissed the charges of Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian Foreign Minister, as "simply a rehash of the case brought in London (last winter) by the Soviet delegate."

Cadogan said Manuilsky had failed to "produce the shadow of a proof" that a case existed in Greece, declaring sharply:

"If Mr. Manuilsky talks of 'unbridled propaganda' he must not resent my using the same phrase to characterize his document and his statement."

Albania Appeals

In the middle of the council session, Col. Tuk Jakova, Albanian representative whose country was denied UN membership last week, presented an appeal to the delegates that he be given a seat for discussion of the Ukraine complaint that Greece threatened peace in the Balkans and the British were contributing to the situation by keeping troops in Greece. Manuilsky and Ambassador Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative, already were at the table.

Manuilsky's speech took up most of yesterday's session and Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Union delegate, earlier had outlined the case in detail.

Dendramis concluded a three-hour speech as Cadogan took the floor.

The ambassador denied all the Soviet charges and said that neighboring states, encouraged by Moscow, were waging a "war of nerves" against the Greek government.

Dendramis repeated that border incidents still were taking place on the Greek-Albanian frontier and blamed Albania for provoking them.

"The Albanians who today salute with the closed fist are those who saluted with the Fascist salute when they believed in an Axis victory," he said.

Slayer's Third Suicide Attempt Fails . . .

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

The bedsheet used by Williams Heirens in his third suicide attempt is examined (at left) by Warden Frank Sain of Cook County jail. Heirens, confessed slayer of Suzanne Degnan and two women, is shown at right in custody of a sheriff's aide. He was cut down from the crude noose by guard who discovered him each other, but consecutively to the three separate life terms.

HEIRENS

From Page 1

Wilbert F. Crowley, assistant State's attorney, said Heirens would have to serve a minimum of 61 years under the various sentences before becoming eligible for parole.

rs. George Heirens, defendant's mother, collapsed in court after sentence was passed.

Tuohy told Judge Ward the prosecution had "fully committed" itself to recommend life imprisonment. Without the aid of the defense, he said, that state would not have found a solution to the murders of Miss Frances Brown, 33, former Wave, and Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43, widow.

The defense arranged for Heirens to plead guilty.

John Coghlan, defense attorney, told the court the defense was "compelled by circumstances" to take the course it did.

He told Judge Ward the defense "felt it would be unjust and unfair to forfeit the boy's life and also unfair to return him to society."

Heirens pleaded guilty to all charges yesterday.

The court's finding was made shortly after Heirens made a third unsuccessful effort to end his life.

He fashioned a crude noose from a bedsheet, Sheriff Michael Mulcahy reported, and strung himself up during a change of guards at his county jail cell at 1 a. m. He was cut down before losing consciousness.

Heirens, who psychiatrists reported was impelled to commit burglaries because of an abnormal sex urge, previously had tried to take his life by breaking open head wounds in the hope he might bleed to death. He also collected a store of aspirin in the belief a large overdose might kill him.

B. A. Carter Buried

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.)—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Benjamin A. Carter, 67, retired Spotsylvania County farmer, who died in a local hospital, and burial took place in the Mine Road Church Cemetery. Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Broughton Rowe, Mrs. J. B. Stone and Mrs. Charles Berry, of Fredericksburg, and Mrs. Chester Harding, of Washington, and a son, Marvin Carter, of Fredericksburg.

Transit Worker Shot In Back-Yard Brawl

A 26-year-old Capital Transit Co. employe was critically wounded with a .38 caliber revolver during an altercation last night in the rear of 609 New Jersey ave. nw.

Oliver B. Corley, 26, of 48 G st. nw., is in Casualty Hospital with a gunshot wound in his upper abdomen. A short time after the shooting police arrested a 33-year-old suspect who is being questioned at the First Police Precinct station.

PROFITS

From Page 1

you to appear and testify before the committee in Washington."

May's appearance may be delayed until after the November election, regardless of his health, because of Mead's possible resignation as chairman and a resultant reorganization of the committee. Mead is the Democratic candidate for Governor of New York and may wish to campaign without any committee responsibilities.

Attorney Delivers Letter

May's new offer to testify came in a lteter delivered by his attorneys as the Mead Committee figured in these other developments:

1. President Truman virtually turned thumbs down on Mead's proposal that Admiral Ernest J. King, wartime Navy chieftain, appear before the committee to disclose why the joint chiefs of staff ordered completion of the controversial Canol pipeline project which the committee criticized. The President told his news conference it is a dead horse now and there is no point in King's testifying.

2. The War Department made public a report blaming defective fuses, and not the 4.2-inch mortar shells which one of the Garsson companies and other firms manufactured, for accidents in which 38 soldiers were killed and 127 injured during the war. The report thus cleared the Garsson companies, which did not make any of the fuses.

If Mead resigns as chairman he would follow the precedent of President Truman, who resigned August 1, 1944 after his nomination for Vice President. Mead became chairman at that time.

Truman Position Cited

In his letter of resignation, Mr. Truman said he thought the accomplishments of the group largely had been due to the fact that Democrats and Republicans worked together without partisanship. Because he felt his nomination as Vice President made it incumbent on him to present the accomplishments of the Democratic Party, Mr. Truman said he was resigning his committee post, adding:

"I do not want even the shadow of suspicion that the committee's activities in any way are determined or influenced by political considerations."

Mead told a reporter on a recent visit here that in event of his nomination for Governor he intended to call the committee together to consider a new chairman.

Senator Connally (D., Tex.) in Paris at the peace conference, is the only Democrat among committee members not now making an active campaign for reelection. Committee aides said that because of this it is unlikely any major hearings can be attempted before the November election.

Statement Accompanies Letter

May wrote the committee he is able to be out of bed a short time in the morning and again in the afternoon. He went home to Kentucky after his physicians said the aggravation of a heart ailment made it impossible for him to testify at the time the committee closed the Garsson hearings.

In a statement accompanying his letter May said that when he acted as Kentucky fiscal agentof the Cumberland Lumber Co., a Garsson subsidiary, he "neither asked for nor received any compensation or fee for anything I did." He declared he had no financial interest in the company.

Instead of profiting, May said he was out $659.31 for expenses.

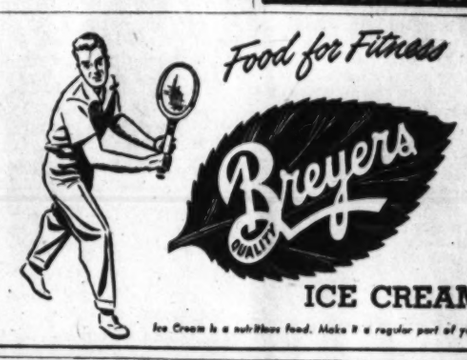
He paid running expenses, he explained, in order to be certain that debts would be met on time.

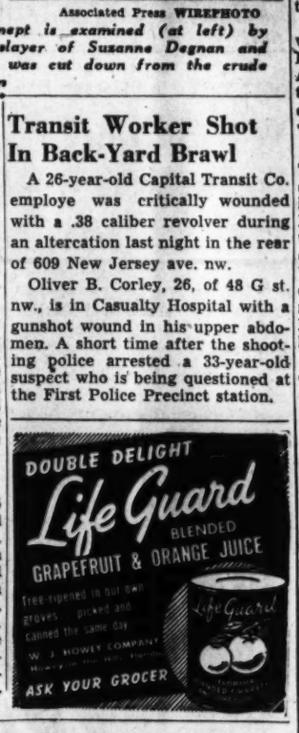
"I found it necessary," he said, "on a number of occasions to call the Washington office to remind whoever was there that a check for operating expenses of the company was due. I do not recall any particular request for $3000 or any other sum."

The committee heard testimony that May frequently called the Washington office of the Erie Basin Co., where Murray Garsson had headquarters, and that on one occasion May inquired about "that $3000."

The War Department report blamed faulty fuses for the trouble with 4.2 mortar shells.

The four chief manufacturers of fuses were listed in the report as: William Fencil Co., Huntly, Va.; Milwaukee Stamping Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; Casco Products Corp., Bridgeport, Conn., and National Fireworks Co., West Hanover, Mass., a Casco subsidiary.





Boon
CERTAINLY MAKES THE "OLD BUS" LOOK BRIGHTER!
There's plenty of beauty in most any car when the finish is sparkling clean. So why not wash your car with BOON, as countless others do? See for yourself how quickly and easily BOON cleans the old paint job, making it brighter, more lustrous. BOON is excellent for household use, too. Directions on label.
"A Boon to Car Owners" at a Thrifty Price!

Barrington Hall Instant Coffee
It's the quick, easy way to enjoy pure, fresh coffee! agrees Lauren Bacall
Starring in THE BIG SLEEP, A Warner Bros. Picture
100% pure coffee, not a mixture . . . costs less than 1c per cup
BARRINGTON HALL
INSTANT Coffee
100% PURE
BAKER IMPORTING CO
MINNEAPOLIS AND NEW YORK
dissolves instantly in hot or cold water
ANOTHER FINE PRODUCT OF HYGRADE FOOD PRODUCTS CORP.

AWOL Soldier 'Jumps' Ship In Gulf Stream

Miami, Fla., Sept. 5 (AP).—The Army record of a man who said he jumped overboard from a ship in the Gulfstream 15 miles from Miami after going AWOL from the American Military Government in France eight months ago, was being checked by FBI agents today.

Hand

Held in Dade County jail by FBI, the man first gave his name as John H. Ridder, but later said he was John Joseph Hand, 22, of Pittsburgh.

He told Federal authorities he jumped from the SS Emily Dickinson at midnight Monday, after throwing over a hatch cover, a life preserver and an oar.

He said he spent 13 hours in the water on a crude raft of the hatch cover and life preserver before he was picked up by a Navy crash boat and turned over to the Coast Guard.

It was his intention, he told authorities, to make the Florida coast through the aid of the current and the oar.

After admitting he was Hand, he told this story to authorities:

He had been a private in the Infantry since 1941 and was in three European campaigns. He was discharged in May, 1945, and signed up as a member of the AMG in France as interpreter. Eight months ago he went AWOL in Belgium, finally leaving Europe by stowing away on the Emily Dickinson, at Bordeaux, France, bound for Galveston, Tex.

Eight months of dodging MPs in France made him decide to return to this country, he told authorities.

Buses Lacking, 500 Students Play Hookey

Baltimore, Sept. 5 (AP).—Five hundred school children—with parents' consent—played hookey from two Baltimore public schools today on opening day to protest lack of bus transportation.

They live in Armistead Gardens, a Federal housing project, and in previous years the Federal Works Administration has provided buses. The FWA last week announced a budget cut left it with no funds for the service. The local school board hoped to have six Baltimore transit system buses lined up by next week.

The original bus service was set up after a parents "strike" in 1941.

Bread Price Up Cent

Martinsburg, W. Va., Sept. 5.—The wholesale price of bread went up one cent a loaf here yesterday and retailers passed it along to the consumers. A similar increase was effective for rolls.

'Fast' Plane Fails to Get British Aid

Reading, England, Sept. 5 (AP).—Miles Aircraft, Ltd., announced today it had designed and almost completed an aircraft capable of flying 1000 miles an hour, but halted construction when the Air Ministry cancelled the contract.

Designed to fly nearly 250 miles an hour faster than the speed of sound and at a height of 36,000 feet, the plane, called the M-52, would have resembled a "winged bullet," 33 feet long with 27-foot wing span. It was powered to climb to 36,000 feet in a manute and a half.

Officials at the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Supply declined to comment on the announcement.

The spokesman described the engine as including an ordinary jet engine followed by a turbine and a duct into which fuel would be injected for increased acceleration.

Speical tires and wheels were designed to permit landing at about 170 miles an hour.

Because test flights were planned at about 50,000 feet, a jettisonable cabin for emergency use was designed with a parachute attached. After the cabin descended into normal atmosphere the pilot would bale out.

Bull Smashes All the China In Tea Shop

London, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—A rebellious bull crashed into a tea shop in the Lancashire town of Bury yesterday and didn't leave a whole piece of crocker in the place.

He escaped from a slaughterhouse boy who was leading him to an abbatoir.

Dashing into a cobbler's shop, he lowered his head and broke through the wall into the tea shop, where eight women and two men were calmly sipping. He charged the tables, sending them, the crockery and the tea crashing to the floor.

Then he pushed the tea drinkers up against the wall, brusing three of the women.

He collapsed in a corner, but rose in time to rout three men pursuing him. A soldier finally shot him, firing through a window.

Alexandrian Is Held On Check Charge

Martinsburg, W. Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—George E. Sisler, formerly of Alexandria, Va., whose air-condition business is now in the hands of a receiver, was held under $1,000 bond by a magistrate here for the grand jury where charges of issuing several worthless checks will be presented, it was disclosed by Magistrate King Larkin.

He was arrested in Washington and returned heer for the hearing. The allegedly worthless checks represented sums totaling about $100. It was disclosed he offered to make the checks good, but he was held nevertheless under the State law for the October grand jury.

Grin and Bear It

By Lichty

"I don't object to the high price of shares—except now they feel qualified to discuss high finance as well as sports and politics!"

Chile Election For President Up to Congress

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—Chile's heated presidential contest entered its second phase today when the two candidates leading in yesterday's popular election moved to strengthen their forces in Congress, which must now decide the issue since none of the contestants received the required absolute majority.

Radical senator Gabriel Gonzalez, leading his nearest opponent, conservative senator Eduardo Cruz Coke, by nearly 50,000 votes, maintained that Congress must simply confirm the popular will, while Cruz Coke indicated he would contest the issue by seeking election by Congress.

First official tabulation of the popular vote gave Gonzalez 188,103; Cruz Coke 140,596; Fernando Alessandri, liberal (center) 127,972, and Bernardo Ibanez, socialist, 11,090. To win the absolute majority Gonzalez, who had support of Communists, needed at least one vote over the combined total of the three others, or 279,659.

After the national election board examines and approves the count and hears complaints, the contest will be submitted to congressional decision not later than 50 days after the popular election. A vote will then be taken by the Senate and House in joint session.

Latest estimates of the congressional forces give Gonzalez 60 senators and representatives; Cruz Coke 54 and Allessandri 69. The fight between the former two will be for the Allesandrists vote.

Soviet Music Now Subject To Influence

Moscow, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—The Communist Party's prge of Bourgeois influence in the Soviet arts extended today to popular music when Russia's top jazz band leader Leonid Utussov was flayed for "creative degradation."

Utussov was taken to task by the newspaper Vechernaya Moskva, organ of the Moscov Soviet. The article said the "Bourgeois degenerate trends" exhibited by Utussov's band were hostile and alien to Soviet art and thought.

The newspaper criticized Utussov's new show, which describes the activities of his orchestra 30 years hence in the atomic age, as appealing "to low tastes."

The paper admitted that the show offered "high professional performance," but it denounced the show as rubbish and vulgar romance in those parts where music of western origin was employed.

Bridge

Pick and choose your own Ring-the-Bell breakfast

Artists and masterminds aren't the only people with temperaments. All of us are temperamental at breakfast at times. But no matter what your mood, you'll find the just-right breakfast cereal in Post-Tens. This famous package contains not only the world's most delicious cereal favorites—but also the biggest assortment. Each pack contains seven different breakfast treats—some flaked—some shredded—some puffed—some kerneled. With Post-Tens on the table, you can pick and choose your own ring-the-bell breakfast.

10 individual servings—7 different cereals —including crunchy, malty-rich
Post's GRAPE-NUTS

2 Corn Toasties · 2 Grape-Nuts · 1 Bran Flakes · 1 Nabisco Shredded Wheat
2 Grape-Nuts Flakes · 1 Rice Toasties · 1 Raisin Bran · (2 biscuits)

Post Want Ads Bring Results

ENJOY LIFE!

Drinks have more life with PIN-POINT CARBONATION

Know the reasons why Canada Dry Water is so superior to ordinary club sodas . . . carbonated tap waters:

- Pin-Point Carbonation—longer lasting liveliness.
- Exclusive Formula points up the flavor of any drink.
- Special Processing—water is multi-filtered and specially treated to assure purity, balance and clarity.
- Superior Quality in every bottle, the world over.

Big Bottle 15¢ Plus deposit

CANADA DRY WATER

Schindler's PEANUT BUTTER

SAY Schindler's AND BE SURE!

REGULAR OR COARSE GRIND

Now, try Sanka Coffee in INSTANT form!

New! Instant Sanka Coffee is made instantly in cup. Gives you "automatically good" coffee every time. 97% caffein-free. Drink it and sleep!

By now, coffee lovers must have told you about this Instant Sanka Coffee!

"What aroma! What flavor!" they've probably said. And why? Because they've found the perfect cup of coffee at last! Have you tried Instant Sanka yet? Be sure to!

Like regular Sanka, Instant Sanka Coffee is 97% caffein-free. You can drink it and sleep. What a boon to millions of coffee lovers!

No chances, either, of getting an "off-flavor" pot! Simply follow directions on jar and "automatically" get a rich, full-bodied brew every single time. Each jar costs—and makes—about as much as a pound of regular Sanka.

Try it for glorious iced coffee made from tap water (not ice water) in 5 seconds.

Buy Instant Sanka Coffee at grocers'! Good restaurants serve it, too!

new!

INSTANT SANKA COFFEE

MADE IN THE CUP YOU CAN DRINK IT AND SLEEP!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—today's by John Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation.)

By John Edgar Hoover

THE great majority of the ered the FBI as a purely domestic force, utilized to enforce Federal Criminal Law and t osafeguard the internal security of the Nations. With the end of the war, it can now be stated that the FBI, under the direction of the President, was responsible during World War II for gathering intelligence and suversive information throughout the entire western hemisphere and for coordinating efforts to combat sabotage and espionage in all the countries of the Caribbean, Central and South America.

As a result of the cooperation between the FBI and local law enforcement agencies in these countries, no foreign-inspired sabotage occurred and enemy espionage efforts were completely curbed throughout all the Americas.

The Germans were amplys supplied with funds for their work. These were received in part from the sale of Rueckwander marks in the Americas. During the war FBI agents located a secret cache of Nazi funds in th eGerman Embassy in Washington. This fund totaled mor than three million dollars. Most of it was earmarked for use in espionage activities.

Eearly Nazi penetration in the western half of the Globe took on a deadly significance with each incoming report. German troops in Dakar awaited orders to launch an attack on Brazil with direct attacks on American defense in the Caribbean. German and Jap airplanes were expected to launch an all-out smash attack on the Panama Canal.

Nazis Plotted

THE German diplomatic staff figured in plots designed to promote revolutions in several South American countries. German propagandists worked overtime to drive a wedge between the haters of Nazism and Fascism in the Americas. One propaganda campaign line charged that Italian submarines were sinking Brazilian ships while Brazilian troops were fighting with the Allies in Italy. The old theme of "Yankee Imperalism" in South America was ground out by the Nazi propaganda machine with little success.

Stemming the tide of Nazi penetration in the western hemisphere was no less important than halting Hitler's armies in Europe. The task was accomplished not only in the United States but the confidential records of the FBI contain thrilling exploits that bear tribute to the splendid work of South American law enforcement officers working side by side with FBI agents throughout the Southern continent. For example, when espionage rings were uncovered by the FBI in Brazil and Chile, local authorities moved with a dispatch rivaling the alien roundup in the United States following the Pearl Harbor disaster.

From July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1946, 879 espionage agents were identified in South America, together with 281 propaganda agents, 30 sabotage agents and 222 smugglers of strategic war materials. A total of 15,047 alien enemies in South America were moved from strategic areas, interned or expelled, while an additional 16,000 potentially dangerous enemy aliens were arrested in the United States and territorial possessions.

'Micro-Dot' Ring

The biggest and most baffling espionage case handled by the FBI during the war centered in one of our neighboring countries. This ring introduced the "Micro-dot" as a means of communication to the Western Hemisphere. The Germans succeeded in photographing a typed page of spy reports and reducing it to film no larger than a pencil point. The film was embedded in a comma or period on an envelope addressed to Germany.

FBI technicians discovered this method of communication very early in the war and caught hundreds of micro-dot messages. If the contents of one was innocuous it was permitted to go on to Germany; if not, it was condemned. Conveniently, the spies numbered each message so that we were able to keep them in sequence. This particular ring has now been broken up. Only recently a large number of members were deported to Germany.

As a matter of strategy many spy rings were permitted to operate under surveillance which often presented baffling problems. In one instance a resourceful FBI agent secured a soft-drink peddler's wagon and sold drinks in the street, meanwhile keeping an observant eye on the meeting place of the espionage agents.

Caught Spies

FOR MONTHS the FBI operated a secret radio station for the German network of spies in the United States. The funds for building it were supplied by the German government. FBI agents manned it completely and through it established contact with other clandestine radio stations operated by the Germans in South America. Eventually, the trap was sprung and all members of the Nazi group were apprehended.

An example of our good-neighbor policy in effective intelligence work is the case of August Lunning, who was endeavoring to furnish data to Germany by shortwave radio from Cuba. He kept a singing canary to conceal the sound of the radio key in his room. Highly trained and clever, Lunning's career was, nevertheless, short. Detected by the FBI and arrested by the Cuban national police, he was tried, found guilty and sentenced to face a firing squad. The execution of the six saboteurs who landed on the eastern coast of the United States brought the total executions of enemy agents in the Western Hemisphere to seven.

Copyright, 1946, by The Bell Syndicates, Inc.

JANE ARDEN

9-6
I'M LIKE A FISH OUT O' WATER HYAR IN THE CITY—THIS 'WALKIN' KILLS ME—
WHAT I WOULDN'T GIVE T BE ASTRIDE A HOSS AGAIN—GOLLY, LOOK—A RODEO!
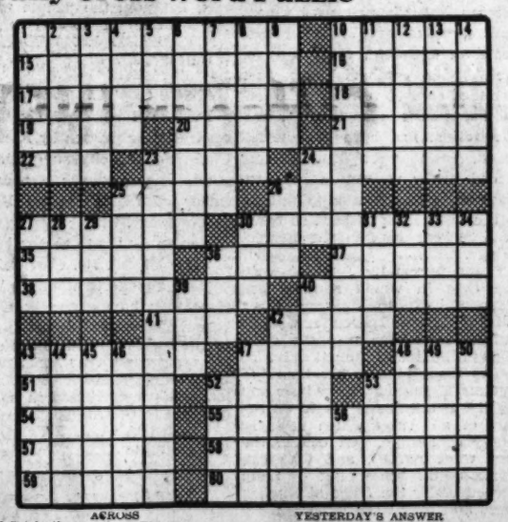
WELL, DOGGONE!
RODEO AND WEST
LOOKS LIKE AN ANSWER TO MY PRAYERS—SHORES 'NUFF!
IT TAKES MORE THAN A BIG HAT TO GET BY IN THIS RING, SON—WHAT CAN YOU DO?
JUST GIVE ME A ROPE AND I'LL SHOW YOU!
MON SEPT
THIS STRANGER WANTS TO RIDE—WHAT BRONC IS THAT IN THE CHUTE?
THAT'S OL' RODEYE—HE'S A TOUGH ONE—
BRING HIM OUT—I'LL RIDE HIM!

Will Install Rabbi

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.)—Dr. Lous Wolsey, rabbi of Congregation Rodeph Sholom, of Philadelphia, and one of the leaders of Reform Judism in the United States, will officiate at the installation of Dr. Karl Rosenthal as rabbi of Beth Sholom Congregation here tomorrow. Dr. Rosenthal was assistant to Dr. Wolsey until he accepted a call to Beth Sholom Congregation.

Daily Cross Word Puzzle



ACROSS

1 Set forth
10 Station
15 Oath
16 Spiral
17 Advantageous
18 English writer
19 Monetary unit of Iran
20 Quiet
21 Equipper
22 Drop in price
23 One joule per second
24 Classify
25 Dutchman
26 Pastry
27 Upright
30 Former English colony
35 Dead
36 Turn sour
37 Fix
38 Trailing plant
40 Overturn
41 Reddish brown
42 Excavates
43 Erring
47 Disown
48 Fish rudder
51 Lemur
52 False
53 Besides
54 Thick board
55 Comparisons
57 Former German state
58 Valet: It.
59 Item of property
60 Squeezed out

DOWN

1 Writing tables
2 Supernumerary
3 Prop
4 Sepi.
5 Soak
6 Repetitious
7 Intolerant persons
8 Remove by force
9 Pack
10 Wording
11 Sidelong looks
12 Poplar
13 Expressed juice of apples
14 Put forth
23 Receptacle
24 Display
25 Grass
26 Irate
27 Veiled
28 United 29 Fresh
30 Demure
31 Edges
32 Hobgoblin
33 Nothing
34 Companion of Duessa
36 Saute
39 Skate
40 Small bell
42 Abscond
43 Beginning
44 Flounders
45 Volcanic tuff
46 Light wash
47 Wedge shell
48 Aviates
49 Rhone tributary
50 Snooped
52 Spice
53 Invader of Attica
56 Metal-bearing rock

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

P	R	O	M	O	T	E	R	S		S	T	A	M	P
A	U	T	O	M	A	T	I	C		L	A	G	E	R
T	R	O	T	S		A	V	A		A	L	A	T	E
T	A	M	E		O	M	E	L	E	T		E	T
E	L	I		S	P	I	T	E	D		E	Y	O	E
		S	P	I	N	E	S		B	A	I	R	N
S	T	R	A	I	N	E	D		T	U	S	S	I	S
T	O	O	T	L	E	S	S		S	A	T	I	A	T	E
A	R	G	I	L	S		L	I	C	E	N	S	E	S
I	T	E	R	S		B	E	L	O	N	G
R	O	T	E		L	E	G	U	M	E		B	E	T
C	I		S	A	H	A	R	A		L	E	A	R
A	S	I	D	E		O	T	O		D	I	R	G	E
S	E	T	O	N		L	E	I	S	U	R	E	L	Y
E	S	S	E	D		D	E	D	I	C	A	T	E	S

15 Policemen, 5 Firemen Face Induction Soon

Fifteen additional District policemen and five firemen may be called by the draft soon.

Their induction is almost certain because they are 19 to 29 years of age and the District is getting low on eligible men.

Gray

A survey of the precincts and fire companies yesterday revealed that:

1. One policeman, Pvt. Owen F. Gray, 29, of No. 11 Precinct, has already received his physical examination. Three others, mentioned in The Post yesterday, have received their induction notices—(one of them will be inducted today).

2. A fireman, Pvt. Joseph W. Nealis, 29, of 3801 33d st. Mount Rainier, Md., was inducted by a Maryland draft board Wednesday. Nealis had four years with the District Fire Department but, according to his family, didn't mind being drafted. He had received several deferments during the war.

Birthdays Save Three

3. Three policemen were saved by the draft's two-month holiday because they turned 30 years old during that time.

Gray, who celebrated his twenty-ninth birthday yesterday, took his physical examination two weeks ago and passed. He has been on the force four years, is married and lives at 2230 Nicholson st. se. "There's not much you can do about it," he says of his draft prospects.

Saved by the draft vacation were: Pvt. Bernard Hoffman of 4816 3d st. nw., attached to No. 6 Precinct, who turned 30 on June 26; Pvt. Seborne J. King of 4717 Washington pl. ne., attached to No. 13, who became 30 on July 26, and Pvt. Howard A. Souders of 111 West Broad st., Falls Church, Va., attached to No. 8, who celebrated his thirtieth birthday anniversary August 6.

14 Due for Induction

Still facing Army life are these 14 policemen in addition to Gray:

From No. 1 Precinct—Pvt. Norman S. Anna, 28, of 3101 Pennsylvania ave. se., who has been on the force four years; Pvt. Jeremiah Bradley, 29, of 220 Bryant st. ne., also a four-year-man; Pvt. Elwin R. Houck, who was 29 yesterday, of 1265 Simms pl. ne., a four-year-man; Pvt. Joseph F. Lompo, 28, of 107 64th st., Maryland Park, Md., who has been on the force for more than three years.

From No. 8 Precinct—Pvt. Mahlon E. Cather, 29, of 213 Flack st., Glenmont Heights, Rockville, Md., four years experience; Pvt. Michael D'Anna, 28, of 66 W st. nw., who has been on the force for almost five years.

From No. 10 Precinct—Pvt. Anthony J. Costello, 28, of 103 Rhode Island ave. ne., who has had four and a half years of service; Pvt. James A. Hansbrough, 29, of 2384 Champlain st. nw., a four-year-man; Pvt. Henry A. McElvane, who will be 30 in December, of 430 Lamont st. nw.; Pvt. Albert S. Munday, 28, of 430 Irving st. nw., with more than three years experience.

From No. 13—Pvt. Cecil A. Jones, who will be 30 on the twentieth of this month, of 1414 Columbia st. nw. He has more than four years' experience.

From No. 11—Pvt. George E. Murray, 29, of 1840 Vernon st. nw., with four years on the force.

From No. 12—Pvt. William E. Nolan, 26, of 315 Hawaii ave. ne., who has two years' experience.

From No. 7—Pvt. Robert A. Richmond, 27, of 1201 N. Veitch st., Arlington, Va., who has had four years' experience.

Pvt. Robert E. Krahling, 28, of 1013 North Carolina ave. se., attached to No. 3, will be inducted this morning. Pvt. Thomas E. Slocum, 29, of 1682 Irving st. nw., attached to No. 10, is scheduled for induction on September 11, and Pvt. Francis W. Springfield, 29, of 1315 Missouri ave. nw., attached to No. 6, who will be inducted September 18.

Five District firemen who may be called are: Pvt. William H. Williams, 29, of 1122 Kenyon st. nw., attached to Engine Company 4; Pvt. James A. Nash, 29, of 424 Lincoln ave., Takoma Park, Md., attached to Engine Company 26; Pvt. John E. Brennan, 28, of 48 Bates st. nw., attached to Truck Company 4; Pvt. Robery A. Jacobs, 28, of 1348 K st. se., attached to Engine Company 5; Pvt. Ernest R. Acker, 29, of 3216 S. Glebe rd., Arlington, Va., attached to Truck Company 3.

Selective Service's reversal of policy will not prove too much of a burden, according to officials of both the Fire and Police Departments. There are enough replacements available, they said.

New Estimate

U. S. Employe Cut of 10,000 In View Here

A 10,000 to 15,000 reduction in the number of Federal employes in the Washington area will be required to meet revised Budget Bureau ceilings, it was learned yesterday.

The newest estimate of the number of employes affected contrasts to former local estimates of 6000 to 8000 lay-offs, at the Budget Bureau's previously announced personnel ceilings. Yesterday the bureau revised the ceilings calling for elimination by November 16 of 159,786 employes instead of the originally announced 104,400.

Statistical experts, unable to forecast exactly because scheduled job eliminations are on a Nation-wide basis with discretionary powers vested in agency heads, set the local range of lay-offs between 10,000 and 15,000 workers.

Even those who estimated the figure might reach 15,000 agreed that the local slash would not follow Washington's 10 per cent ratio of total Federal employment. Present and past trends in job elimination always strike field workers harder than administrative staff, they say.

The Budget Bureau, in announcing the new employment ceilings for Federal agencies and bureaus, pointed tou that the 159,789 total does not represent that number of persons to be involuntarily separated from Federal service. Some staff reductions will be met by elimination of jobs vacated in the ordinary course.

Others, the bureau said, will benefit by job transfers, the largest of which occurs on November 16, when nearly 25,000 workers now on Federal payroll will be shifted to State payrolls with the return of USES to the States. The new job ceilings were ordered to carry out Congress' wish that job-elimination absorb 14 per cent pay increases for Federal employes.

Grand Jury Ignores Two Assault Charges

Charges of assault with a dangerous weapon against two men have been ignored by the grand jury. The men were Chester Jackson, 35, of 1323 6th st. nw., and Willie Ingram, 23, of 605 N st. nw.

What's Going On And Where

Service Activities

Victory Canteen for Servicemen, 1113 Pennsylvania ave. nw., games and refreshments, 3 p. m. to 11 p. m.; dinner, 5 p. m.

United Nations Service Center, 500 North Capitol st., informal dancing for all military personnel and their guests, 8 p. m.

National Catholic Community Service, 918 10th st. nw., dance, 8:30 p. m. NCCS, 1814 N st. nw., ice cream freeze, 9 p. m.

USO-YMCA, 1736 G st. nw., sightseeing, 1:30 p. m.; art canteen, 7:30 p. m.; bridge, let's all sing, 8 p. m.; bowling, 9 p. m.

USO-YWCA, 17th and K sts. nw., Friday night club, dancing, 8:30 p. m.

USO, 1911 H st. nw., bicycling, reservations, 6 p. m.; picnic supper in the garden, 6:30 p. m.; game night.

USO, 801 Market sp. nw. (8th and Pennsylvania ave.), voice recordings, 6 p .m.; movie, 8:30 p. m.

Art Galleries and Exhibits

National Gallery of Art, 6th st. and Constitution ave. nw., 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Corcoran Gallery of Art, 17th st. and New York ave. nw., 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Smithsonian Institution, 10th st. and Independence ave. sw., 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Library of Congress, 1st and East Capitol sts., 11:30 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Light Industry Sought Here to Offset U. S. Cut

The Washington Board of Trade will try to bring more light industry to this area to provide employment for Federal workers released from their jobs, Joseph C. McGarraghy, president of the board, declared yesterday.

McGarraghy

Although the wartime ratio of 1.18 privately employed workers to each Federal worker is expected to reach a normal ratio of 2.16 by 1935, the board will take no chances on that ratio falling short, he told members of the Junior Board of Commerce at a luncheon at the Hotel Annapolis.

At present the board is making a study of the number of employment units here. Through its Greater National Capital Committee it hopes to bring back additional employment opportunities, particularly through the visitor industry, he said.

McGarraghy predicted a population increase of 170,000 in the metropolitan area by 1955. In the District proper there will be a loss of 50,000 by 1950, but a gain of 70,000 in the next five years, bringing the total to 950,000 by 1955, he said.

The increase will bring a greater need for housing, acocrding to McGarraghy. At the beginning of this year there were 343,600 housing units and none of them vacant. We will need an additional 49,000 units by 1955, he explained.

He said that Washington builders can exceed this figure once material and labor are available to them. The board will do everything possible to contribute toward relieving the housing shortage, he added.

Other activities the board will participate in include: Relieving the downtown parking situation to prevent the potential decentralization of the central business district, securing a stadium and auditorium for Washington, expanding air and water travel facilities, improving public health conditions and developing the Potomac River, McGarraghy pointed out.

MRS. MORRISON'S
Chocolate Pudding
You add a little sugar but you get a full quart

Walks Arranged

Tour of Park Scheduled For Sunday

A historical tour of Lafayette Park, commemorating the September 6 birthday of General Lafayette, will highlight the National Capital Parks program for this weekend. The tour will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. Sundy.

Other plans on the weekend program include:

An all-day camera stroll at Mount Vernon. The group will leave the bus terminal, 12th st. and Pennsylvania ave. nw., at 9:30 a. m. Sunday, returning at 4:30 p. m. Participants are asked to bring their lunch.

A jungle jaunt along Cabin John Run. The group will meet at the end of the Cabin Jone carline, MacArthur blvd. and Wilson rd., at 3 p. m. Sunday.

A nature ramble on the C. & O. Canal towpath. The group will met at Stop 24 on the Glen Echo carline at Brookmont, Md., at 3 p. m.

Horse-drawn canal barges will leave the dock south of 30th and M sts. nw., at 2 p. m., Saturday and 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., Sunday. Return trips from Lock 5, Brookmont, will be made at 4:30 p. m., Saturday and 11:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., Sunday.

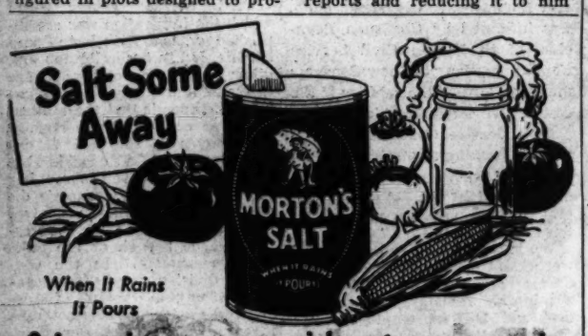
Sightseeing river cruises will be held on the Potomac River waterfront, leaving the wharf adjacent to the West Potomac Park polo field every other hour from 12 noon to 8 p. m., Saturday and Sunday.

CHEF-TESTED
GOLDEN DIPT
HAS MANY USES

Meatloaf slices beautifully when you use Golden Dipt. Excellent for thickening gravies.

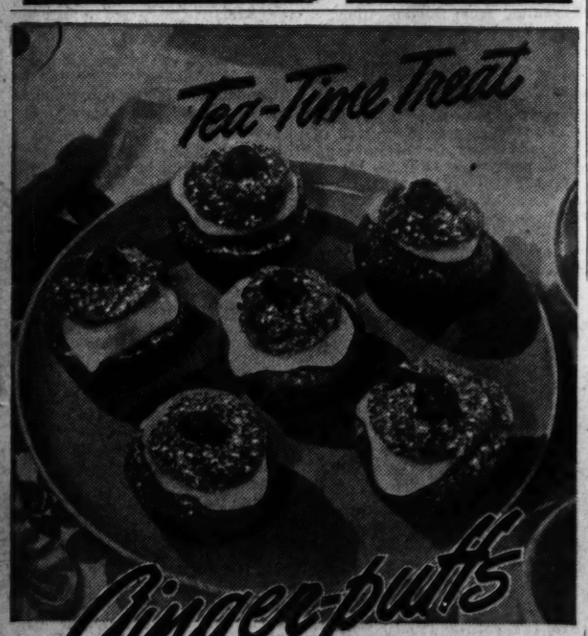
Sprinkle it generously over casserole dishes before putting in the oven.

And, of course, nothing can compare with Golden Dipt in breading fish, seafood, cutlets and poultry. Keeps indefinitely in cupboard.



Get canning season specials—at your grocer's

BOTTLED IN BOND
OLD FITZGERALD
THE BOUQUET BOURBON
OLD FASHIONED but still in style
100 Proof . . . Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey
Stitzel-Weller Distillery, Inc. . . Shively, Kentucky



Appealing to the eye and the appetite, too. Bake gingerbread cupcake style. When cool, cut cones from top of cakes, fill with favorite custard, and replace cones. Dust with powdered sugar; top with maraschino cherry.

Other Delicious Serving Suggestions

FRUIT BARS: Add 1 c. chopped nuts and 1 c. chopped candied fruit to Duff's Gingerbread batter. Pour into two 8" square pans. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 min. When cool, cut into bars. Frost.

PRALINE SQUARES: Just before gingerbread is finished baking, sprinkle with mixture of ⅓ c. brown sugar, 3 tbsps. flour, 3 tbsps. shortening, ⅓ c. chopped pecans; return to oven for 10 minutes.

A PRODUCT OF AMERICAN HOME FOODS, INC.
Just add WATER . . . that's all!
Approved by Good Housekeeping

Bowed Legs And Knock-Knees Often Due to One Neglect

Doctors report that many a child with ugly bowed legs or knock-knees might have grown up straight and shapely on a diet adequate in the bone-building minerals and Vitamin D.

Lack of calcium, for instance, in the earliest years may do irreparable damage—but, in any case, calcium is so vital a factor that no child brought up on a consistently deficient calcium intake, can have much chance for strong bones and sound teeth.

That's one reason doctors talk so much about milk for growing children.

Milk is our best food source of calcium. Do your children get enough milk...at least a quart every day? Many children just don't like to take that much every day! That's why Cocomalt in milk is so helpful.

Cocomalt* is so rich in calcium, it makes 3 glasses of milk equal to a whole quart in calcium value! (Also this supplies the day's full minimum requirements for iron, phosphorus, Vitamins B, and D.) And Cocomalt's delicious chocolaty flavor makes children love their milk.

Start your children on Cocomalt today. Save this as a reminder.

*3 heaping tsps. to 8-oz. glass of milk.

mild, but...

BLUKO
all-purpose cleaner

TOUGH on dirt

● Now! One cleaner does everything—makes heavy cleaning so easy, delicate cleaning safe. Walls, woodwork, every cleaning job that used to be so hard—rely on BLUKO to brighten fast, with just one wipe. No rinsing. Yet BLUKO gently eases dirt from costly drapes, rugs, upholstery, etc.—no rings, no odor. Gentle but firm—that's BLUKO.

IMPORTANT: Bluko won't irritate hands; can't burn.

LIQUID ALL-PURPOSE CLEANER
BLUKO
AT ALL NEIGHBORHOOD AND DEPARTMENT STORES

BELLOWS
PARTNERS CHOICE
WHISKEY-A BLEND
The reception accorded this light, full flavored whiskey has been appropriate. Partners Choice merits a place among the fine wines and spirits which uphold the Bellows tradition.
Bellows & Company
IMPORTERS AND WINE MERCHANTS
ESTABLISHED 1830
New York . Colorado Springs . Chicago
86.8 PROOF . 60% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

An Independent Newspaper
(Published every day in the year)

PHILIP L. GRAHAM, Publisher

HERBERT ELLISTON.....Editor
ALEXANDER F. JONES.....Managing Editor
CHARLES G. BOWEN.....Business Manager
DONALD M. BERNARD.....Advertising Director
WAYNE COY.....Assistant to the Publisher

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

1337 E Street N.W., Washington 4, D. C.
Telephone NAtional 4200

New York Office.....270 Madison Avenue (16)
Chicago Office.....360 North Michigan Avenue (1)
Philadelphia Office.....225 South 15th Street (2)

CARRIER DELIVERY
District of Columbia and Suburbs

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One week...$ .25	One week...$ .10	One week...$ .15
One month...1.10	One month.. .45	One month.. .65

Elsewhere

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One week...$ .30	One week...$ .10	One week...$ .20
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .45	One month.. .85

BY MAIL—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE
Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$12.00	One year....$5.25	One year....$7.00
Six months.. 6.50	Six months.. 2.75	Six months.. 4.00
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .50	One month.. .85

Other States, Mexico and Canada

Daily and Sunday	Sunday Only	Daily Only
One year...$12.75	One year....$6.00	One year....$7.50
Six months.. 7.00	Six months.. 3.00	Six months.. 4.25
One month.. 1.30	One month.. .55	One month.. .85

Rates to Foreign Countries not listed will be furnished upon request.
Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

Friday, September 6, 1946

Back To Geneva

From Paris

To those who remember the violent distaste manifested by the Russian delegation at San Francisco to anything savoring of the old League of Nations, the proposal regarding the transfer of the United Nations Assembly made by Andrei Vishinsky, who is substituting for Foreign Minister Molotov in the Council of Foreign Ministers, is passing strange. It brings out the important fact that Russian policy is neither rigid nor unalterable but is constantly being modified to meet the changing needs of the times. Urging the other members of the Big Four to join Russia in recommending the postponement of the Assembly to late November, Vishinsky also proposed that this meeting should be held not in America but in Europe, preferably in Geneva.

It happens that at San Francisco there was a very considerable measure of support for the idea of establishing the seat of the United Nations at Geneva. There the site was already available. The League Palace is big enough to hold all the meetings of the Security Council and the Assembly without crowding and without the improvisations that were found necessary when the decision was made to establish the United Nations in the New York area. Furthermore, the library and archives of the old League of Nations, which dealt with many problems facing the United Nations, are located at Geneva and cannot easily be moved. Russia was not the only nation represented at San Francisco that opposed a European site. Australia and the Latin-American nations fronting the Pacific favored the California city that had proved to be so admirable a host to the United Nations Conference. But the Russians' veto on Geneva proved decisive. It was their clear intention to de-Europeanize the United Nations as much as possible. Their particular objection to Geneva was that it was not only steeped with the defeatist memories of the old League but was also located in a nation, Switzerland, with which the Soviet Union had no diplomatic relations.

So far as Russia is concerned, and the same is true of other nations, the experiment of moving the seat of world organization to America has so far not worked out particularly well. But other nations are irked only by the physical inconveniences of the New York site. These can and undoubtedly will be corrected when the permanent site is built. The Russians' objection to the New York site goes deeper. The trouble, as Moscow sees it, is that the United Nations has become too de-Europeanized. The intense interest in that body which the United States is displaying and the support which it is throwing behind the spirit and letter of the Charter is not in line with Russia's interests, as the Kremlin views them. Hence, the sudden Russian hankering for Geneva where in the past the United States was a determined outsider rather than a leading participant.

So far as the Russian proposal to postpone the Assembly is concerned, something can be said for it on purely technical grounds. When Molotov declared recently that Russia simply lacks the technicians for two great international meetings at one time, he was stating what was no doubt the truth, and what is true of Russia is certainly even more true of the smaller nations. Yet only the direst emergency, and none is visible, would justify the postponement of the Assembly at this time. The Peace Conference in Paris is important, although its accomplishments to date have been distinctly negative, but there is nothing more important in the world than to maintain the prestige of the United Nations. What has been happening in the French capital since July 29 and in the world ever since the end of the war emphasizes this fact.

Pie In The Sky

Evidently they have public relations consultants even in monarchial Greece. One of them, schooled more in the Hollywood than in the Hellenic tradition, must have dreamed up the phantasmagoria that United States Navy planes from the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt should fly over Athens in formation of the letters FDR. This, we suppose, was intended to betoken the blessing of the late President upon the beggar's choice recently made by the Greek people between a reactionary King and a Communist coup. From the point of view of the Tsaldaris government, the uses of such publicity must have seemed very sweet indeed. From the point of view of all those to whom the name of Franklin D. Roosevelt is a symbol of democratic ideals, it must have seemed downright absurd.

We suppose that it was some fellow public relations consultant in the Navy or in the State Department who agreed to this extravaganza. All the more credit, then, to the man who had the simple mother wit to call it off. The explanation for canceling the act—that it would interfere with protocol arrangements for a meeting with officials of the Greek government—may seem slightly bald and disingenuous, these officials being the persons who most wanted it to take place. The cancellation was dictated not only by good taste and by a decent respect for the memory of our wartime President but by a decent respect also for the feelings of the Soviet people who could scarcely be expected to take kindly to such a display of American force in the Balkans. There is something to be said for carrying a big stick but not for waving it about wildly.

Session On Housing

There is good judgment behind Senator Mead's suggestion that Congress be called back into extra session for enactment of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill. We do not suppose that it would be feasible to summon Congressmen to Washington prior to election day. Members will be heavily involved in the democratic business of campaigning throughout the next two months. In these circumstances it is doubtful whether the House could hold a quorum long enough to put the housing bill through. But an extra session could be summoned for November 15 without imposing serious hardship on anyone.

It may be argued that if the proposed expanded housing program can wait until November, it can just as reasonably wait for the first session of the new Congress in January. But this involves a delusion. If the present Congress should come back, it would merely have to send the housing bill through the House, knock out an obnoxious Senate amendment and lay the completed measure before the President. Should action be postponed until January, however, the present bill would be dead. Congress would have to start from scratch; demands for additional hearings could be heard; speeches for and against would have to be rehashed; in the end it might be July or later before the bill could be enacted. From six months to a year of valuable time needed for the development of well-balanced, large-scale housing programs would be lost.

Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt has done well to point out, in indorsing Senator Mead's proposal, that the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill is by no means confined to aids for public housing. A larger volume of public housing is necessary, of course, to shelter the families of veterans who cannot afford to buy or rent dwellings provided through private enterprise. If no housing of this type is built, living conditions among the low-income groups may be expected to deteriorate dangerously and entire communities will suffer. But in addition to reviving public housing for this purpose, the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill would, in Mr. Wyatt's opinion, bestow 90 per cent of its benefits on private building.

One essential step covered by the bill is the consolidation of all Federal units engaged in housing work into a permanent National Housing Agency. Another is the launching of a five-year program of research in construction methods, marketing analysis, planning and surveys. FHA insurance on loans of less than $5000 for home building would be liberalized to cover as much as 95 per cent of the initial cost. The period of amortization would be lengthened and interest rates lowered. Guarantees would also be extended to cover large-scale housing projects by insurance companies and savings banks.

These aids to private housing would be offset somewhat, however, by an unwise amendment inserted at the request of Senator Murdock. The authors of the bill had provided that "wages prevailing in the locality" should be paid on all public projects and other large-scale housing developments. The Murdock amendment would extend this requirement even to houses built with the aid of FHA-insured mortgages. The effect would be to prevent the FHA from operating in many regions and thus severely handicap low-cost building by private enterprise. That amendment should certainly be removed, but we think the bill itself is of ample importance to justify the summoning of Congress in November.

Too Thick, Comrades

The important rule in the science of propaganda is to keep within the bounds of plausibility. Thus, for example, the story current in Great Britain in the first decade of the nineteenth century about Napoleon eating a baby for breakfast every morning was not difficult to believe, but when rumor began to enlarge the story and to have it that he ate two babies for his breakfast, it encountered a condign incredulity. So, too, in the case of the Russian newspaper Pravda which accuses Mr. George S. Messersmith, American Ambassador to the Argentine Republic, of having "openly advocated war on the Soviet Union." Had Pravda attributed this to any one of a number of Americans in official life there might have been some chance that it would be believed, at least by those who would like to believe it. But the notion that so discreet and decorous a diplomat as Mr. Messersmith should have made, whether openly or privately, such an indiscreet and indecorous statement is so palpably ridiculous that even the editors of the New York Daily Worker have apparently decided to ignore it.

The accusation in Pravda, it seems, was based on an item from Rio de Janeiro distributed by the Federal Press, a labor news agency, and cabled to Moscow by a representative of the Russian agency Tass. It told how Mr. Messersmith had addressed a meeting of some American Legionnaires in Buenos Aires, and, after pledging them to secrecy, told them that the Department of State is already convinced that war with Russia is inevitable. The suspiciously roundabout origin of the dispatch and the absence in it of any source or authority for the statements suffice to stamp it as spurious. And it is utterly out of character with anything that we know or have ever heard about Mr. Messersmith. When Mr. Messersmith errs, as he sometimes does, it is never on the side of sensationalism and reckless statements.

Inside Elliott

"I was invited," writes Mr. Elliott Roosevelt, "to Churchill's country home for the weekend, and on the morning I was to leave to rejoin my outfit I was summoned to his room to say goodby. He was stalking about the room, clad only in a cigar. Ho! I thought. Here's something to tell my grandchildren about!" But, whether because he deemed it on further consideration an unsuitable sort of anecdote for tender ears, or because he felt it would have less interest for another generation than his own, Mr. Roosevelt has decided not to save it for his grandchildren but to tell it instead to the readers of Look, which describes itself as "America's Family Magazine."

It is not clear whether Mr. Churchill's lack of decorum on that memorable occasion prejudiced his guest in the matter of British diplomatic policy; but it is clear enough, after two installments of young Mr. Roosevelt's memoirs, that Mr. Churchill in particular and British toryism in general are to be the principal villains in the piece, although there are also some minor villains such as the sinister General de Gaulle, of whom Roosevelt pere said, "I can't imagine a man I would distrust more," and several comedy relief characters such as the unfortunate General Giraud, at the thought of whom Roosevelt pere "threw up his hands and laughed."

Mr. Roosevelt fils begins his second installment by observing sadly that, "Already Washington cocktail party gossip is of another war—with Russia. Why? Why are we—as I am convinced—being shoved (Mr. Roosevelt's italics) away from the unity which won the war and which is so necessary to the peace?" Elliott knows why, because when he was at Casablanca he was warned about British, French and Dutch imperialism, and whither it would lead. It was at Casablanca, according to his story, that his father told him:

> I'm talking about another war, Elliott. I'm talking about what will happen to our world if after this war we allow millions of people to slide back into semislavery. Don't think for a minute that Americans would be dying in the Pacific tonight if it hadn't been for the shortsighted greed of the French and the British and the Dutch. . . . This time I've tried to make it clear to Winston that while we're their allies, they must never get the idea we're in this war just to help them hang on to medieval empire ideas. I hope they realize, after we've won, that we're not going to sit by and watch their system stultify the growth of every country in Asia and half of Europe.

Thus, thanks to Elliott's inside information and statesmanlike grasp of the world situation, we begin to get some inkling of who is shoving whom into this new war the Washington cocktail set is talking about. Doubtless it will become even plainer after the next installment in which young Mr. Roosevelt promises to tell how Mr. Churchill lost his temper and quarreled with Stalin at Tehran.

But there is one point where young Mr. Roosevelt's indignation against Mr. Churchill and his reactionary ideas is tempered with something resembling pity. This is where he describes a meeting with Capt. Randolph Churchill, the former Prime Minister's son. "I had been looking forward," he says, "to talking with Randolph, but after such a looking forward, such disapointedment!" Most of Mr. Roosevelt's readers, we are sure, will agree with him that it is a great pity when so famous a man has so fatuous a son.

Fighting Credit Control

Industrial banks, small loan companies and other interested groups are campaigning for repeal of Regulation W under which the Federal Reserve Board controls consumer credit. We hope that efforts to break down salutary restraints on this type of borrowing will be successfully resisted. For, as we stated recently in an editorial urging legislative authorization for permanent control of consumer credit, the rapid expansion that has occurred in recent months in the volume of such credit is a danger signal, pointing to its inflationary potentialities.

The need for controls over installment credits, charge accounts, and other kinds of consumer credit is especially great at the present time, because so many kinds of goods that consumers want to buy are still in short supply. The August issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin includes "A National Survey of Liquid Assets," dealing particularly with consumer spending and saving plans. The conclusion reached is that the "demand for consumer goods made possible by the current all-time high in consumer income, plus purchasing power obtained from the spending of liquid assets and from borrowing, will continue to exceed the supply of goods." In other words, the increased use of installment and other forms of consumer credit to finance the buying of goods adds to current purchasing power, in face of goods shortages, and consequently aggravates existing inflationary pressures. These facts seem to us to justify maintenance of control over consumer credit operations.

"Halloooo"

Letters To The Editor

Communications must be addressed to the editor and must carry the complete name and address of the writer, though pen names will be permitted at the editor's discretion. Letters of less than 200 words will be given preference, and all letters are subject to condensation. Contributors are limited to one letter a month. No communication can be returned.

Conditions At Lichfield

The letter of Mr. George Moise, published in The Post of September 3, indicates that Mr. Moise is far more misinformed on the subject of Lichfield than the press he accuses.

That many of these men in Lichfield were AWOLs is undoubtedly true, but I find it difficult to believe that they had turned their backs on combat and walked away from the Ardennes bulge.

No figures on classes and types of prisoners are available to me or any other outraged American veteran, but it has always been my understanding ever since I first heard of Lichfield, that many of the AWOLs confined there were wounded combat veteran; who had been sent back to England for hospitalization, had been pronounced cured, and were immediately placed under restriction in a replacement center for shipping back to the front lines without so much as a 24-hour pass to the nearest village.

I am personally familiar with one case in which a man was shipped back to England three times for hospitalization for wounds suffered on three separate occasions in the line of combat duty. To refuse these men a few hours of free air, a glass of watery beer and a girl was criminally stupid on the part of an Army which talks so loudly of morale. Of course the men went AWOL, and who can blame them? The bulk of them ducked under the fence at English bases and they were looking for a glass of beer. It amounts to just about that.

Many of the men confined in the Lichfield horror camp were American heroes, and it is time that someone brought this fact to the attention of the public.

ANTHONY F. MERRILL.
Washington.

Formula For Peace

The people of the world were never homogeneous. Never were they united by a common religion, economic system, language or ideology. There are more than 5000 spoken languages, each giving vent to its own nationalism.

The foundation for permanent peace is not the principle that one nation or group of nations is to impose its will on another nation by the use of force, economic sanctions or by granting favorable credit or trade relations. The formula for lasting peace must recognize the fact that all races and nationalities contribute to the progress of this world, they all have a right to a livelihood, and all have a right to their language and beliefs.

When the ideology and experience of the West and East are fused by peacemakers, the resulting amalgamation forms a powerful bulwark for peace. The Congress of Vienna, 1815, with Russia playing an important role, wrote a peace that lasted 100 years.

The views of Russia are to be considered in order to effectuate a lasting peace. Russia is not united by a common language. It is composed of 189 different nationalities, each speaking its own language in its own territory. Russia has learned by experience the "know-how" of giving nationalism its proper prestige so that these national groups live within her borders in harmonious relations with each other. In homogeneous democracies the stress is that the majority of people rules the minority. In heterogeneous countries the stress is that the rights of each minority speaking group must be protected against the encroachments of larger national groups. Russia can contribute much valuable experience and wisdom to effectuate a lasting peace.

The greater the differences between the East and West at the Peace Conference the larger must be the field of exploration into their respective ideologies and experiences. If their conflicting views are finally fused into a common decision, the people will enjoy a peace for several centuries.

RICHARD J. ZAVERTNIK.
Chicago, Ill.

Parade For "Monty"

In The Post of August 28, I read a letter written by Alexander Christie of this city, suggesting that your paper organize a parade in honor of Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, who is coming to the States on a visit to General Eisenhower. I think Mr. Christie's suggestion an excellent one. We all remember how elegantly General Eisenhower was entertained in London. We now have the chance to reciprocate in honoring the British field marshal whose superb leadership contributed in no small measure to the Allied victory.

BARBARA J. RAYMOND.
Washington.

Pension Increase

Jerry Kluttz's column of September 4 states that the convention of the National Federation of Federal Employes, at Cleveland, Ohio, was informed by Chairman Reynolds, of the House Civil Service Committee, that "the new Congress must again raise the salaries if the cost of living remains high."

Civil Service Commissioner Arthur S. Fleming also said then that "the least Congress can do is to make sure that the dollars of Federal workers purchase as much today as they did in 1941."

While the general run of Federal workers at least have their worthy claims recognized and ventilated, a minority remains, former Federal and District employes, who continue utterly forgotten. I refer of course to Federal and District pensioners, who receive the same pittance they received years before 1941, despite sizable boosts in prices for the vitally necessary things they must buy even to exist. Mention also must be made they too are forced to pay income tax on all amounts over $500, if single.

As a matter of simple justice and decency, why not add the pensioners to those who are entitled to a sizable increase due to admitted altered conditions. They too have a just claim, even a greater claim, to recognition, because they alone utterly were forgotten when generous benefits were ladled out.

SAUL SALOMAN.
Washington.

Austrian Responsibility In The War

Recent statements of the Austrian representative regarding his country's role in the second World War should not go unopposed. It should not happen again, the way it happened after World War I, that Austria, though just as guilty as her big sister Germany, could get away with it just by playing innocent, and pleading for sympathy all over the world as a victim rather than a perpetrator of aggression. It was not that way.

To begin with, it looks strange to recognize as the exponents of democracy emerging from the deathly grip of Nazism, representative of the same Christian Socialist party, the party of Dollfuss and Schuschnigg, who, in 1932 and 1933, strangled and killed the democratic republic of Austria, using a trick of legalistic formalism to discard the Austrian Parliament and replace it by their dictatorship. This dictatorship was just as fascistic as Mussolini's and Hitler's, and bore a strong resemblance to Franco's, in that it enjoyed, just as Franco, the blessings of the Vatican. It had its ruthless censorship, its prisons for dissenters, its gallows for rebels, and its militant anti-Semitism.

It was possible, under the Dollfuss-Schuschnigg regime, for a Socialist to be in prison for a year or more without any charges. It was possible for a faithful follower of the regime to get rid of a competitor simply by denouncing him to the police for alleged critical utterances against the government.

If Austria has been "raped" by Hitler, all of Germany has, too. Certain parts of the Reich, such as Socialist Saxony or Catholic Rhineland, were even more opposed to Nazism than Austria. It is a fact that the Nazis did not have a majority of votes when they overran that country. And when victory was theirs, they were hailed and acclaimed in Austria just as much as in other parts of the Reich.

The fact that Austria did not belong to the Reich, prior to 1938, is incidental. Ever since 1918 there was a majority in favor of "Anschluss" in Austria, and the latter would have been accomplished long before but for the veto of the western powers.

It is true that there were Quislings in other countries. However, the Austrian Nazis were not just Quislings. They were just as good Nazis as the rest of them, or even better. Pogroms in Vienna outdid all the persecutions of Jews all over the Reich in cruelty and ruthlessness. And they were not organized from Berlin, either!

In those two years of 1938 and 1939 when refugees were still permitted to leave Austria they had to go through the endless ordeal of government offices passing on their tax accounts, their political and social records, etc., until they emerged stripped of everything but their passports. In those practices of unlimited cruelty Austrian officials outdid the Germans. If there was one, out of thousands, who did show some sympathy or decency toward people whose only crime consisted in being Jews, it usually was a Prussian or a Bavarian. Austrian officials went out of their way to humiliate and torture their victims.

After all, there were Austrians among the most trusted lieutenants of (Austrian) Adolf Hitler—such as Seiss-Inquart and General Jodil. Hitler knew he could trust them: He would never have put a Norwegian, or Hollandian, Quisling in such high positions.

I have no doubt that the present chancellor of Austria and the members of his cabinet are decent and reliable anti-Nazis. However, you can find decent and reliable anti-Nazis in Berlin or Munich, too, for that matter. On the other hand, the fact that Viennese newspapers have to report (and honestly regret) anti-Semitic and Nazistic demonstrations occurring in postwar Austria does not exactly justify preferential treatment for that country.

I do not advocate a policy of revenge. I do believe that justice should be meted out against individual criminals, but not against millions of people some of whom—and you don't know which—are guilty. I do not believe in collective responsibility. However, I believe in equal justice. It might be dangerous, as a precedent, to let little Austria get away with it for the second time in history, just because Viennese politicians are smart enough to play for sympathy which the people as a whole does not deserve any more than the German people at large.

VIENNESE NATIVE.
Washington.

Matter Of Fact

By Joseph Alsop

The Struggle Begins

BERLIN—On Friday, September 6, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will formally repair the errors of the past in a statement at Stuttgart on American policy toward Germany. He will not speak his mind as a man in the street can do. Nevertheless, his statement will mark the formal initiation of the struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union, which will decide whether this unhappy country is to join the free world of the West or become one of the slave states of the Soviet system.

The struggle is only beginning now because, hitherto, we have remained passive and confused in the face of a determined Soviet campaign to gain control of Germany by the methods described in previous reports in this space. It is appropriate now that the errors of our past policy should be described as well. They arose directly and exclusively from the influence of those who wished to "pastoralize" the most populous and energetic industrial nation in Europe. That influence was strong in Directive 1067 of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, which is still the basic directive of the American Military Government in Germany.

Not the least extraordinary aspect of the picture here is the astute use made by the Soviet Union, through its instrumentality, the American Communist Party, of the wooly-mindedness of such perfectly well-meaning persons as former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., and the other pastoralizers. The best way for the German people to be driven into the arms of the Soviet Union was for the United States to stand forth as the champion of indiscriminate punishment and harsh misery in Germany. In the disorganized period at the close of the war considerable numbers of American Communists and fellow travelers infiltrated the Military Government, and there became the most passionate advocates of pastoralization as well as assisting Soviet policy in other ways.

◆◆◆

THE CHIEF center from which the infiltration was accomplished seems to have been Camp Ritchie, Md., where German and other language officers were trained for military intelligence. The inference is that the infiltration was carefully concerted.

At any rate the fact is uncontested that a considerable number of American Communists found posts in the economic division, the information control division and even the counter-intelligence branch of the military government. In the economic division, they were especially strong on the staff of Morgenthau's special Treasury representative, Bernard Bernstein, who was in charge of decartelization of German industry. And they used this position, playing upon Bernstein's belief in the pastoralization theory, to try to hold down the whole German economy to a level of drab, unrelieved, unbearable misery. It was in the atmosphere they industriously worked to create that we negotiated the famous agreement on the level of German industry, as to which one of the actual negotiators said to this correspondent that "if adhered to, it would condemn all of Germany to a permanent diet of potatoes."

One of these men, who can be named if need be, is even known to have entertained and elicited confidences from two German Socialists, H. Schlemmer and B. Goering, during the period last fall when the Socialist Party was struggling to avoid merger with the Communists. The two Germans, thinking of their host only as an American, spoke with considerable freedom. And the next day German Communists asked them why they had said what they did at this American official's table.

Again, in the information control division, fellow-traveling or Communist officials succeeded in licensing the three main newspapers in the American zone, the Frankfurter Rundschau, Stuttgarter Zeitung, and Rhein-Neckar Zeitung, to German Communists. Until corrective steps were taken the Rundschau used to be called the Frankfurter Pravda.

◆◆◆

BUT THESE foolish and sometimes shameful episodes were merely symptoms. The American Communists were for a time able to throw their weight about because American policy was deeply confused and the American people had not thought the German problem through. That was the fundamental difficulty. It is to that difficulty, rather than underground influences, that our mistakes must in the last analysis be traced.

All of these mistakes have, in one way or another, involved a failure to recognize that a struggle for Germany had begun with the end of the war. Therefore, we adopted a rigid denazification policy, and let the Soviets hire the best men we threw out of jobs. Therefore, we adopted an information control policy wholly concerned with the crimes of the Nazi past, and without any realization of the meaning of the Soviet challenge. Therefore, we inhibited the early growth of a strong labor movement, which must eventually be the foundation stone of the free Germany of the future. Therefore, we let the Soviets cherish and bribe their servile German politicians while we denied the leaders of the democratic parties the transportation, publication rights and other essentials of their task. Some of these mistakes have not been corrected even now. But it is to be earnestly hoped that Byrnes' statement will mark the opening of a new era.

Quality Good, Catch Is Scant On Md. Oysters

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—The Maryland oyster—that delicious bivalve—appears to be of good quality this year, but just how greats its quantity will be is uncertain.

The Tidewater Fisheries Commission today reported that in the few places where the oyster season has begun oysters "seem to be in excellent condition for this time of the season."

But the commission said production was hard to predict, adding, "we do know serious mortality occurred last spring because of heavy rains and it is felt that there will be some decrease in production this season because of this condition."

Fattening Earlier

Oysters already taken "seem to have started to fatten earlier than usual," the commission declared.

Only a few tongers are working now and taking from 10 to 40 bushels per boat, depending upon the location and the hours worked.

There is apparently a shift on the part of tongers to packing houses, grabbing and guiding fishing parties as well as to other occupations.

Crab packers recently stated that so long as good catches were made it was probable crabbers would stay on the job rather than turn to oyster fishing early in the season.

The commission's hesitancy about predicting oyster production this year stems from a troublesome condition that developed in the upper part of the Chesapeake Bay last year.

Lower Salinity Hurt

Fresh waters due to heavy rains rushed into the bay, lowering the salt content of the area. This made life hard for oysters, which need a fair amount of salt in the water to thrive and many of them died.

The condition last year apparently hampered production substantially, for there was only a 70,000-bushel increase over the previous year's catch despite the commission's conservation program.

The oyster crop last year on which taxes were paid reached approximately 2,500,000 bushels.

So far, the oyster season this year has opened only in Kent, Queen Anne's, Talbot and Anne Arundel Counties.

Argentine Midshipmen at Naval Academy

Associated Press Photo

GUESTS AT ANNAPOLIS—Dark-suited midshipmen of the Argentine navy march to chow with American middies at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. The Argentine midshipmen came from their ship, La Argentina, anchored in New York Harbor, for a visit at the academy

Bids Are Asked On Four Road Projects in Va.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 5 (AP).—The State Highway Department today called for bids on September 19 on four projects involving approximately 23 miles of highway work and an additional sidewalk construction project at Altavista.

The projects:

Route 21, Bland County, 3.57 miles of waterbound macadam surface treatment north of the town of Bland.

Route 42, Giles County, 7.94 miles of traffic bound macadam surface treatment from the intersection of the Bland-Giles line to a point near the intersection with Route 100.

Route 234, Prince William County, 5.2 miles of conditioning bituminous surface treatment near Manassas.

Route 269, Highland County, 6.83 miles of traffic bound macadam surface treatment from a point 2 miles west of McDowall to the West Virginia line.

Route 29, Campbell and Pittsylvania Counties, 1385 feet of sidewalk on the bridge over Staunton River and an additional 0.61 miles of sidewalk at Altavista.

On the same date, the department will receive bids on the painting of 17 bridges in the Richmond construction district.

Kidnaped Texas Girl Escapes In Va.; Two Suspects Caught

Richmond, Va., Sept. 5 .—Two soldiers, captured by Virginia police a few hours after a Texas girl told Farmville officers she had been kidnaped and forced to drive from Taxarkana, Tex., to Virginia, faced a Richmond police court hearing today on charges of armed holdup, theft of an automobile, and kidnaping of four persons in Richmond.

The girl, according to Farmville police, was Ruth Teague, 18, of Sulphur Springs, Tex., who went to police headquarters and reported she had been forced at pistol point to chauffeur the soldiers to Virginia.

Arrest Follows Gunfire

The arrest of the pair, who Troopers E. R. Callis and O. C. Trice said admitted they were AWOL from Camp Hood, Tex., followed a chase on U. S. Route 1 near Ashland in which police shot a rear tire off the car in which the soldiers were riding.

Troopers listed them as Frank Valentine Famular, Jersey City, N. J., and Clarence F. Kummert, 19, of Pittsburgh. They were first lodged in the Henrico County jail and later removed to the police court lockup here.

Miss Teague reported she, a male companion and another girl had picked up the pair as hitchhikers near Sulphur Springs, Tex., Monday night and that after riding with the party about 200 miles to Texarkana, the soldiers refused to leave the car. She said they struck the male driver with a pistol butt, forced him and the second girl to get out of the automobile, and made her drive on to Virginia.

Escapes Near Farmville

She said she escaped from her captors when they stopped at a filling station on Route 60 to buy gas and left the car. She drove to Farmville where she told police of her plight.

Eighteen-year-old Miss Teague, of Sulphur Springs, Tex., was none the worse for her experience, she said late today.

"I was scared to death yesterday, though," she admitted.

She received a telephone call today from her fiance, J. T. Martin, of Sulphur Springs, who wanted to know if she was all right and she reassured him and asked him to tell her parents not to worry about her. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Swinford, of Sulphur Springs.

Acting Farmville Chief of Police J. W. Crute said that in all probability Miss Teague, who is being held as a material witness while the FBI investigates the case, would spend the night in the Prince Edward County jail here. She "doesn't seem to mind," Crute said, adding that "it's a nice jail. It's nearly as good as a hotel—it even has a shower. And she didn't have a place to stay, anyway."

State police in Richmond said the soldiers told them they then hitchhiked into Richmond where they obtained a ride in a car driven by Wilson Abernethy, 21, of Richmond, and occupied by his sister and another couple.

Abernethy told the State troopers that one of the soldiers got into the rear of the car and the other in front, and that a few minutes later the hitchhikers pulled guns, said it was a holdup and told the driver to keep going.

The troopers said one of the girls and the other boy were ordered out of the car on the outskirts of Richmond. They obtained aid at a service station in locating State Police who later caught up with the car.

Wouldn't Let Driver Stop

The police said that they sounded a siren when they caught up with the automobile but the driver refused to stop, waving his arm in a motion indicating he was not being permitted to stop. Trooper Trice said he then opened fire on the tires of the fleeing car, shooting the left one. When the tire blew out, he said he saw two pistols being thrown from the machine, the troopers then drove up beside the car and made the capture. None of its occupants had been harmed.

Callis said the officers were able to recover one of the pistols, a German make gun which he doubted would fire. He said a search was being continued for the other.

Police in the southwest earlier had been given an alert for the men following a report by the two occupants forced out of the car in Texas, whose account of the incident was virtually the same as that of Miss Tigue. A Texas service station attendant told police the two soldiers threatened him with a pistol which he said was a German luger.

Labor Ample, Crozet Starts Apple Harvest

Charlottesville, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.)—Apple growers in the Crozet area began moving early varieties to market this week, secure in the knowledge that there will be enough labor to pick the main crop when it ripens about September 15.

The approximately 2000 pickers contracted for the rush season will include 125 Bahamans who have remained at the White Hall camp since the end of the peach-picking period. Local labor from this and nearby counties and some out-of-State pickers under private contract fill out the quota.

Crozet growers are paying 50 cents an hour, or 14 cents a bushel, to labor this year, an increase of 10 cents an hour and 4 cents a bushel over last year's scale. The wage was arrived at last spring and was based on proportionate increases in payrolls over the Nation.

County Agent T. O. Scott said today the increased wage probably was partly responsible for the unexpected influx of local labor to the orchards, a development which made the importing of pickers from Kentucky unnecessary. More than half of the 2000 pickers are from Albemarle County, he said.

This year's crop will be good, Mr. Scott said, and will about equal the harvest in 1944. Recent cool weather has improved the color of the apples.

The early varieties now being harvested—Grimes, Delicious and Albemarle Pippins—ripened about two weeks early, agricultural authorities estimated today, following early blooming last spring. The Winesaps, which are expected to be ready for picking about September 15, also seem to be several days ahead of the usual schedule.

Shipments are slow so far, county authorities said, and some growers are putting apples in storage in expectation of an improved market later in the season.

New Martinsburg Bus Line

FIRST PASSENGER—Bus service was to be inaugurated today in Martinsburg, W. Va. Mayor Paul B. Martin (right) enters a bus with R. L. Emery, jr., operator of the service, in advance of the formal opening of transit service. Three full routes are to be operated from 6 a. m. until midnight, on a half-hour schedule during the rush hours; at other times hourly

Taxi Licenses, Pension Voted In Winchester

Winchester, Va., Aug. 5 (Spl.).—Dr. C. R. Anderson was reelected president of the Winchester common council last night in one of the busiest sessions in years.

Among the business transacted was the passing of an ordinance regulating the licensing and operation of taxis in the city, the adoption of a pension plan for all city employes, and the granting of a 10 per cent salary increase for workers under City Manager S. Lee Grant.

The council also passed on first and second reading ordinances creating the office of city auditor and purchasing agent, also a water and sewer bond issue in the amount of $650,000.

Bids on a franchise to provide bus passenger service in the city were also opened and the contents referred to a committee for study and recommendations.

Bidding for the franchise were J. A. Russell, Suffolk; H. L. Barnes, Portsmouth; H. P. Kern and others trading as the Winchester Bus Co., and John M. Taylor, formerly of Winchester.

Middletown Parley Called

Middletown, Va., Sept. 5.—The Middletown council last night decided to call a mass meeting on September 24, to explain the $35,000 bond issue recently approved by the council to install a town water system. An election will be held October 1 to vote on the issue.

It was the first meeting of the new council year but there were no new faces in the body all members having been reelected. Fred J. Larrick is mayor.

New Stephns City Mayor

Stephens City, Va., Sept. 5.—W. Lomax Parker assumed the duties of mayor of Stephens City last night as the council met for the first time. Parker who served two years ago succeeds Floyd B. Cadwallader.

The first official business was to announce that the town was in the market for a new town sergeant. John Hartley who has held the post for several years is ill.

Camp Lee to Pray For Vet's Daughter, Dying of Tumor

Camp Lee, Va., Sept. 5 (AP).—Thousands of Camp Lee soldiers will pray Sunday for the life of a little girl, being snuffed out, doctor say, by an incurable brain tumor.

She is Nancy Henderson, 7, the daughter of Master Sergeant Ralph W. Henderson of Burlington, Vt., stationed here. Early last week, Sergt. Henderson was placed on an overseas shipment assignment bound for Alaska, but was taken off the orders when Army officials learned through the American Red Cross of his daughter's condition.

Lieut. Col. John O. Woods, Camp Lee chaplain, announced today that next Sunday has been declared a day of special prayer among the 30,000 Camp Lee quartermaster troops for the little girl.

Attended by a nurse 24 hours a day, Nancy, stricken last April, must be fed through a tube. The tumor already has impaired nerve centers, controlling movement and speech.

Md. Anti-Pollution Bill to Establish 10-Man Commissio

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Paul W. McKee, executive secretary to the Maryland committee on water pollution, said today the committee hoped to present its bill designed to clear up Maryland streams to the Legislative Council in October.

He said that as a result of the committee meeting yesterday, the proposed bill would be revised to provide for setting up a 10-man commission to deal with water pollution.

The body would be known as the Water Pollution Control Commission.

No new enforcement provisions would be contained in the measure, but the commission would be empowered to coordinate activities of State agencies now dealing with pollution.

It would also be authorized to step in where there was "laxity in enforcement," McKee said.

Fines for violating water pollution laws would range from $100 to $500 a day.

McKee said the revised bill would be further studied by Dean S. S. Steinberg of the University of Maryland College of engineering, chairman of the committee, and then be given to Dr. Horace E. Flack, secretary of the legislative council for consideration.

Chairmen Named For Teacher Groups

Woodstock, Va., Sept. 5.—Chairman of committee were announced by the Shenandoah County Education Association. They are:

Teacher welfare, Paul Will; social, Miss Ora Lee Hottinger; public relations, Mrs. Bragg Moyer; legislative, Alvin Lutz; constitution, Miss Lola Taylor; nominating, Miss Jessie Smoot; membership, Miss Mary Wenger; program, Gene Morlan.

Seaman Drowned In Severn River

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Steward's mate, 1/c Johnnie Green, jr., 21, Negro, Gainesville, Fla., was accidentally drowned last night while tying up a liberty boat at the S. S. Block Island, the Navy announced today.

The Block Island is an escort carrier used as a training vessel and anchored in the Severn River.

Winchester Has Coldest August in 36 Years

Winchester, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—Weather statistics compiled at the Winchester Research Laboratory show that last month was the coldest in the 36 years in which records have been kept.

The mean temperature during August was 69.07. Only once during the month did the mercury reach into the 90's, a high of 91 being recorded on August 5. The lowest for the month for a 49 record-order registered on August 26.

Baltimore Livestock

Baltimore, Sept. 5 (USDA)—CATTLE—Receipts, 300. Receipts all slaughter classes extremely light. General trade slow. All slaughter classes steady with week's unevenly slower market. Few lots medium and low good 1000-1250 lbs. grass-fat steers to outsiders, 19.25@19.50; few medium and good heifers, 14.00@16.50; medium beef cows, 11.50@13.00; common, 10.00@11.00; canners and cutters, 7.50@9.50; shelly canners around 7.00; both good beef and sausage 14.10 maximum; common and medium sausage bulls, 11.50@13.50; with lightweight cutter kinds as low as 9.00; stockers and feeders scarce, steady; few lots common and medium lightweight stockers, 12.00@13.00.

CALVES—Receipts, 200. Vealers fairly active, steady with Wednesday. Practical top, 20.00. Mixed lots good and choice 120-220 lbs. vealers, 19.00 to mainly 20.00; commons and medium, 13.00@18.50; culls around 13.00; extreme lightweights down to 7.00.

HOGS—Receipts, 150. Active, unchanged at ceiling; virtually all good and choice barrows and gilts, including sows, 16.50.

SHEEP—Receipts, 100. Spring lambs active, steady with Wednesday. Practical top and popular price, 20.00; lightly sorted lots good and choice 90-110 lbs. spring lambs, 19.50 to mainly 20.00; mixed lots medium and good, 16.00@19.00; common around 14.00; lightweight culls down to 10.00; slaughter ewes active, steady; good and choice shorn slaughter ewes, 7.00@7.50; culls downward to 2.50.

Paroles Granted 15 Md. Inmates

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Governor O'Conor today announced the granting of 15 paroles to inmates of penal institutions, seven of which were given under the Indeterminate Sentence Act.

The list of paroles under the act was the largest submitted to the Governor for approval at any one time.

Among those paroled under the act was:

Frederick D. Parker, Negro, 17, breaking and entering, St. Mary's County Circuit Court.

Also paroled was Mary Jane Giles Fields, serving a period of one year, Maryland State Reformatory for Women, stolen goods, Prince George's County Circuit Court.

Pangle Named Chief Of Strasburg Police

Strasburg, Va., Sept. 5.—Frank Pangle, Strasburg police officer, was appointed chief of police at the first meeting of the new town council. Pangle will succeed R. L. Keller. Police Officer Charles Crabill submitted his resignation to become effective within the next 15 days. Members were appointed to the various council committees, and C. S. McCarty, outgoing Mayor, handed over the duties to the newly elected Mayor, J. Ray Miller.

Clarke County Agent Wins New 1946 Auto

Berryville, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—J. W. Olcott, Clarke County agent, has a new 1946 Chevrolet for which he paid $1. The Waynesboro American Legion notified the local man yesterday that his ticket was picked out of a bowl containing 6000 others and entitled him to the new auto.

Friendship Art To Be Discussed

Claire Gornell wiss discuss "The Art of Friendship" tonight at 8:30 p. m. at the Willard Hotel in a program sponsored by the Biosophical Institute, a center for young people recently opened here.

Open to the public the month's program will include a musicale arranged by Blanche Friend at the same time next Friday, on September 20, Gilbert S. Mark will introduce "Poetry I Like," with those in attendance asked to bring their own favorite selections, and on September 27, a "Human Relations Quiz" will be conducted by Frances and Maurice West. An admission fee of 25 cents is charged.

Annapolis Plebe Class Smallest in 7 Years

Annapolis, Md ,.Sept. 5 (AP).—The Navy disclosed today that the smallest plebe class since 1939 had been admitted to the Naval Academy. It numbers 879 of whom 600 were expected to be graduated.

The new class has been slow in coming into the institution. There were 340 plebes sworn in during July and with the recent additions it is expected the total of the new closs may reach 890.

Last year there were more than 1000 in the plebe class.

Small Apples Wanted By Britain, Growers Told

Hancock, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Small apples will find a good market in Great Britain, Samuel Dillon, jr., member of the committee meeting with the British Food Mission, told local growers.

He said the British are ready to buy four million bushels of undersized apples because British housewives prefer them to large ones. Usually, growers do not bother about grading small sizes but sell them in bulk to processing plants.

New Warden Wants Locks For Prison

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Robert C. Bowen of Eastport was on the job today as Anne Arundel County jail warden but he said no new locks had been put on the door of the prison from which five inmates escaped in four years.

Bowen, who replaced William Crouse as warden said, "I'm just working on a day-to-day basis until the sheriff's term expires. I was appointed by the county commissioners."

The former warden was ordered dismissed by the county commissioners after two prisoners "walked out" August 19.

At that time Crouse surmised the prisoners had escaped by using a "pice of tin" on a jail lock. The returned prisoners told authorities they had walked out when a cell block door was left open.

Under a 1945 law affecting Anne Arundel County the new sheriff to be elected in November, instead of the county commissioners, will appoint the warden.

Sheriff Joseph Griscom had told the county commissioners after the recent escapes that the former warden "failed to cooperate."

Traffic Up 25% On Toll Bridges

Baltimore, Sept. 5 (AP).—The State Roads Commission today reported an increase of more than 25 per cent last month in passages over the Chesapeake ferry system, the Susquehanna Bridge at Havre De Grace and the Potomac bridge at Newburg.

Traffic on the Susquehanna bridge, the Commission said, has not yet reached the 1941 peak. But across the Potomac bridge, traffic has increased 300 per cent since that time.

The August figures:

Chesapeake Bay ferries—195,072 passengers last month, 153,877 in 1945.

Susquehanna bridge—377,186 last month, 267,719 in 1945.

Potomac bridge—58,514 last month, 37,832 in 1945.

County Needs Seven More Instructors

Berkeley Spring, W. Va., Sept. 5. Schools of this county, opening next Monday, are short seven teachers, including three rural schools which may not be able to open unless the posts are filled by that time, Price E. Clark, county schools superintendent, said today. He called the situation "critical."

Four high school teachers are needed, he said—an instructor in mathematics at Paw Paw High; one on each for English, mathematics and physical education for girls in the high school here. The rural schools lacking teachers are at Highland, Duckwalls and Cherry Run.

Lafayette 'Descendant' Seeks Citizenship on 1784 Md. Law

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Governor O'Conor said today he had received a letter from a self-styled descendant of the Marquis de Lafayette seeking to avail himself of a 1784 law granting Maryland citizenship to the famed Frenchman's male heirs.

Viscount Albert Augier de Moussac, in the Nation on a nonimmigration visa, told the Governor his time was running short and he needed assistance soon.

His letter said, "as a direct descendant of Maj. Gen. Marquis de Lafayette, I often heard of the kind dispositions of the laws of the State of Maryland re our eligibility to citizenship of this State. I am enclosing herein a photostatic copy of my genealogical tree as established in Paris . . . The Marquis de Lafayette having had no children, I happen to be his next of kin."

He said a 1787 edition of the Book of Maryland Laws declared that November 1, 1784, "the General Assembly made Major General Marquis de La Fayette and his heirs for all time citizens of the State of Maryland.

"There is no greater wish in my heart than to prevail on your kindness to show me the best possible way to avail myself of the generosity of the elders of your great State. Like my great ancestor I had the honor to fight in the last war side by side with your soldiers, and although my stay in your great country has been so far a short one, I have learned very fast to love it."

De Moussac gave his address as Kennsington-Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.

Md. Area Loans Near 27 Million Under GI Bill

Baltimore, Sept. 5 (AP).—Veterans in the Maryland area have borrowed almost 27 million dollars from banks and other lenders under the G. I. loan guarantee program to purchase homes, farms and businesses, the Veterans Administration Maryland Regional Office reported today.

In the week ended August 30, a total of $1,253,005.62 was borrowed by 235 Maryland veterans. Twelve borrowed a total of $188,819.33 to purchase businesses; 222 obtained mortgages amounting to $1,224,186.29 for homes, and one veteran borrowed $10,000 for a farm.

Under the program, 4866 loans have been made to date in Maryland for homes, on which lenders have advanced $25,787,382.93. Business loans as of August 30 stood at 322 for a total of $728,083.96. Thirty-nine veterans have negotiated farm mortgages amounting to $185,387.

Anne Arundel Schools Need 17 More Teachers

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—Seventeen vacancies for teachers in the Anne Arundel County schools were reported today, seven of these at Glen Burnie High School.

Dr. Howard A. Kinhart, supervisor of senior high schools, said he was working to fill the 11 high school vacancies.

Needed there are two commercial teachers, a full-time librarian, a combinaiton business training and English teacher, two other teachers of academic subjects and a physical education teacher.

Ruth Dudderer, supervisor of elementary schools, said at least six positions were open in the grade schools.

Farmer Recovering From Kick by Horse

Berryville, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—The condition of Howard Morris, young Clark County farmer who was kicked in the head yesterday by a horse, was reported favorable at the Winchester hospital where he was rushed after a farm hand found him unconscious in the barnyard.

Gardner to Appear At New Hearings In Bank Fraud

Richmond, Va., Sept. 5 (AP).—William Reeves Gardner, one of 10 defendants charged with misapplication of funds of the defunct Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Fredericksburg, today was ordered brought into Federal District Court September 9 when motions for separate trials will be argued by four other defendants in the case. The order was entered by Judge Robert N. Pollard.

Gardner now is serving a seven-year sentence in the State Penitentiary for embezzlement.

The motions for severance were made by Joseph Edwin Proffitt, president of the Floyd County Bank; Joseph A. Sowers, cashier in the Floyd bank; Paul Karsten, jr., former vice president of the Fredericksburg bank, and D. E. Nelson, retired real estate dealer of Roanoke.

Also named in the indictment were Hugh N. Rakes, former Virginia dairyman, and his wife, Lillian C. Rakes; Clarence L. Robey, president of the National Bank of Purcellville; Kyle M. Weeks, law partner of Proffitt, and Harry Lamson, Washington real estate man.

The defendants were charged last fall with misapplication of funds of the Fredericksburg bank amounting to more than $400,000.

Baltimore Wheat

Baltimore, Sept. 5 (AP).—Wheat, No. 2 red garlicky, spot, 203; No. 2 red garlicky, spot, with transit, 204½; No. 2 red garlicky, September, 203; No. 2 red garlicky, September, with transit, 204½.

Cattle Sale Is Highlight At Timonium

Timonium, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—The national Aberdeen-Angus cattle sale was scheduled today—Governor's Day at the Timonium State Fair—with some of the finest registered cattle in the country assembled for the event.

Also on the program was a draft horse pulling contest and farm and garden exhibits.

Belinda of White Gate, a yearling heifer valued at $50,000, won the female grand championship yesterday for the Ingeridge-Ellersile Farms of Charlottesville, Va.

Another blue ribbon winner was Repeater's Blackbird, C. S. 2d, 2-year-old heifer entered by Cold Saturday Farms, Finksburg, Md.

In the household exhibit, Mrs. Ross Smith of White Hall, veteran of 20 fairs, took top prize of $200 after outscoring a large field, including two daughters and three daughters-in-law.

Howard S. Leaverton of Chestertown, president of the Maryland Farm Bureau, presented the award.

Winners in the poultry division: R. J. Raffensberger of oYrk, Pa., game bantam class.

Paul E. Hilterbrick of Littlestown, Pa., Polish bantams.

William Gorsuch of New Windsor, R. C., white class.

John M. Gaver, trainer for the Greentree Stable, Buff Rock and Rhode Island Reds.

Stepjhanie Toole of Randalstown, Buff Bramms.

In the Guernsey cattle division, Longvalley Farm of Glenarm won first prize for bulls with Caumset, and Louis Merryman & Sons of Sparks took top honors for cows with Windsor Maxim's Beatrice.

Mrs. Evelyn Ray of Timonium won the garden flower exhibit, with M. R. Shipley of Harmon taking first place for the dahlia class.

Ima Wisebuyer says . . .

"Stores may be short of shorts and shirts and sheets, but why run all over town? Most of the things you want are listed in the YELLOW PAGES. Use your classified telephone directory to save time and trips when shopping for machines, supplies or services."

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company

BARNABY By Crockett Johnson

Nonsense. There's been no talk of the teachers going on strike— As for that imaginary little pixie tutoring you . . . That's silly—
Where does he pick up all this talk, Ellen? Or are false rumors being spread by some vicious person?
Never mind tattling on your father, m'boy. Pay attention to the lesson— Ah. How very fortunate. Here's your little friend, Jane. She, too, shall be a student in my class.
Is HE playing school, Barnaby?

Veterans of Rainbow Division Protest Its Assignment to N. Y.

By Marshall Andrews
Post Reporter

The 42d Infantry Division, the Rainbow Division of two World Wars, has been ordered reactivated as part of the New York National Guard. The Post learned yesterday.

Rainbow veterans here immediately launched a protest against assigninig the division to one State.

"The Rainbow in both wars had a particular significance," said Harold B. Rodier, member of the Veterans Association's national executive committee and editor of its monthly publication, "Rainbow Reveille." "Its significance was its nationwiide representation. If the War Department can't make it a national division now they should put its number aside until the next war."

In World War I the Rainbow Division was formed of National Guard units from 26 States and the District of Columbia. It was reactivated July 14, 1943, for World War II and drew its original strength from all the States and the District in proportion to population. By the time it entered combat in December, 1944, the division had supplied some 16,000 replacements to other divisions and had been brought back to strength largely with men transferred from other branches of the service.

A committee composed of Rodier, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, coodinator of defense transportation; Walker E. Colston, M. Manning Marcus and Elmer Neagle will call today on Gen. Thomas T. Handy, deputy chief of staff and a member of the World War I Rainbow Division. All members of the committee are members of the Veterans Association's National Executive Committee and all but Rodier are past national presidents.

Members of the committee expressed the belief that reactivation of the division in a single State "will be violently opposed by the rank and file of Rainbowers." They said they were not consulted by the War Department and learned of the projected reactivation by accident.

It was learned, however, that the adjutants general of New York, Ohio, Iowa and Alabama, which furnished the four infantry regiments in the original division, had approved the project. A questionnaire on the subject has been sent by Homer W. Gardner of Des Moines, Iowa, national president of the Rainbow Division Veterans' Association, to executive committee members. Results of this poll will be transmitted to the local committee.

It was understood that the 165th Infantry, one of the four regiments in the original Rainbow Division, will be the nucleus of the postwar unit. It could not be learned what other regiments would be assigned.

Off The Record

By Ed Reed

"The next thing you know the OPA will be telling me how many fires I can have."

Meat Dealers Predict Prices, Shortages to End Buying Spree

Local meat dealers predicted last night that the public's meat-buying spree will end tomorrow night along with uncontrolled prices for that commodity.

Scant stocks will be left over in retail refrigerators for next week's trade, they said. And local wholesalers completed the unhappy picture with predictions that they won't be getting future supplies to replenish the dealers' showcases.

The dim future, of uncertain duration, is further borne out by reports from the Nation's leading stockyards and packing plants. In Kansas City, seven independent packing plants closed yesterday as receipts at the city stockyards reached a record low.

Pens Virtually Empty

In Chicago, where the stockyards' 8000 pens are virtually empty, total receipt of 500 head of hogs on sale matched Wednesday's record low and compared with 3180 brought in a week previously and 3913 the same date last year.

Most traders at the Nation's stockyards and packing houses declared it has become increasingly plain that farmers are refusing to market their animals at present ceiling prices, which went into effect there last Saturday.

Present meat supplies in Washington, at both the stores and in wholesalers' storage, will dwindle to almost nothing by next Wednesday. And by next weekend the situation will be "tougher than it ever has been," according to Raymond Briggs, chairman of the wholesale meat division of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

Many Supplies Cleaned Out

Wholesalers surveyed on the subject said their few remaining supplies are earmarked for delivery to local stores early today. Others said their supplies were almost completely cleaned out in yesterday morning deliveries.

Mindful of the coming general scarcity of meat, OPA officials emphasized they are prepared for attempted returns to illicit dealings. Suspected caches of meats in major cities are being watched to prvent diversion to black market channels, OPA enforcement officers said. The meat, they said, will either sell at ceiling prices or not at all.

Flagrant Black Market In Meat Charged by OPA

"Flagrant black market activity" in meats was ascribed to Spund's Market, 3423 Connecticut ave. nw., by J. Grahame Walker, District OPA enforcement head, yesterday.

Walker so characterized the OPA suit filed in District Court yesterday against four owners and operators of the market, asking that they be enjoined from repetition of charged violations.

The suitcharges that on or about June 27 the market bought and sold ungraded meats, failed to keep required purchase and sale records, and sold in 18 instances at prices 14 to 80 per cent above prescribed ceilings. It named and identified the defendants as Ada and Bloomah Grant, owners, and Max and Sam Grant, operators.

OPA enforcement officers reported finding ungraded carcasses of cattle and hogs in the defendants' icebox, "in addition to numerous packages of such meat wrapped and ready for delivery at over-ceiling prices." The defendants, they said, refused to disclose the source of the meat and failed to keep purchase records required by law.

Maurice Friedman, attorney for the market, denied the allegations. He said all meat sales there had been made at OPA prices during OPA control. Concerning ungraded meats, he declared that some such meat was delivered and paid for on an off-day for the market's regular buyer but that this was noted in time for proper inspection and grading of that meat before it was sold at retail.

BYRNES

From Page 1

moderate and it will not bang any door on future cooperation with Russia, in Germany or elsewhere.

Will Not Challenge

It will not challenge so much as accept a challenge—for what Russia has been doing in taking current output as reparations and in pushing communism in Germany has been accepted in Washington as a challnege to the western powers.

At the Foreign Ministers' Conference in Paris in July Foreign Minister Molotov delivered what was regarded here as a bid for German support against the west. Since then, it is felt hert, the Russians have been busy integrating their zone in Germany into the Russian system, and their propaganda has been reaching out into the western zones.

It is this process which Byrnes intends to check if he can.

Leaves for Stuttgart

Berlin, Sept. 5 (AP).—Secretary of State Byrnes departed by train tonight for Stuttgart, where tomorrow he will make a 45-minute speech to "elaborate and clarify" American policy in Germany.

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney made that appraisal today of Byrnes' speech.

Byrnes flew in from Paris, accompanied by Senators Connally and Vandenberg and Benjamin V. Cohen, State Department counselor. He conferred with Robert Murphy, United States Ambassador to the military government of Germany, and Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor, before joining them on the special train to Stuttgart.

The Secretary of State left Paris shortly before the return there of V. M. Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister. Molotov also was in Berlin today, but there was no indication of a meeting between the two foreign affairs chiefs.

Chilean to Try Channel

Dover, England, Sept. 5 (U.P.).—Chilean Swimmer Jorge Berroeta hoped, despite pessimistic weather forecasts, for clear skies tomorrow night for his second attempt to swim the English Channel. Berroeta's gallant try last month when tides forced his withdrawal half a mile from Dover won him great popularity here and his daily workouts are watched by sizable galleries.

Gas on Stomach
Relieved in 5 minutes or double your money back
When excess stomach acid causes painful, suffocating gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fastest-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxatives. Bell-ans brings comfort in a jiffy or double your money back on return of bottle to us. 25c at all druggists

Cost-of-Living Index Reaches All-Time High in Washington

Pushed by uncontrolled meat and dairy prices, Washington's retail price index for goods and services reached an all-time high between mid-July and mid-August.

The 1920 ceiling was 141.9 per cent of the 1935-39 base period used in computing living costs. For the month ending August 15, retail prices here mounted to 142.1 per cent of that index.

A rise of 3.1 per cent in food prices during that period was the primary factor in pushing prices here above the previous price ceiling set in June, 1920, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

During the mid-July to mid-August period, meat prices advanced 8 per cent, after having increased 27.7 per cent the previous month.

Meat Prices Double in 7 Years

In the survey period ending August 15, District families paid 21 per cent mroe for bacon, 20 per cent more for veal cutlets, 14 per cent more for pork and lamb chops and 13 per cent more for legs of lamb than in the month before.

For all types of meat, prices showed a startling increase of 125 per cent higher than in August, 1939, which means that the meat a Washingtonian could buy for $1 in 1939 cost $2.25 in August, 1946.

In the month ending August 15, dairy prices rose 1.2 per cent, with an increase of 1.7 per cent in the price of milk, while butter prices fell 8.2 per cent.

The price of oleomargarine, however, jumped 22.4 per cent during the month, while lard prices mounted a record 67 per cent, to an average District retail price of 38.9 cents a pound.

A spokesman at the Labor Department's bureau of labor statistics explained that the oleomargarine rise followed a sharp rise in butter prices the previous month. He said the unusual increase in lard prices was due to the mounting cost of pork.

Clothing prices during the recent survey period continued to climb, rising 0.5 per cent, with higher prices for shirts, overalls, work trousers, women's heavy coats and wash frocks partially responsible for raising the index to 177.8 per cent of the 1935-39 level.

Fuel oil prices during the survey period increased 0.5 per cent, while the cost of miscellaneous goods and services rose 0.4 per cent, with higher prices reported for gasoline and some household cleaning supplies. Rents were not surveyed here in August.

Leemans in Oil

A hondsome oil painting of Alphonse "Tuffy" Leemans, George Washington University's great fullback of the 1930s, will be donated the Touchdown Club tomorrow night by the G. W. Alumni. Leemans' picture will be placed beside that of Jim Thorpe in the Club's Hall of Fame.

Luray, Va.
HUNTING—FISHING
Here you'll find excellent sport, lots of game (in season), fine fishing, riding, tennis, open fireplace rooms and good food.
Shenandoah River Lodge
LURAY, VA. . . . PHONE LURAY 80
Wash. Rep., 917 15th St. N.W. Rm. 804. Phone EX. 1332 for Details.

Two New Polio Cases Reported In D. C. Area

An 18-year-old dancer and a 6-year-old boy were added yesterday to the Washington area roll of infantile paralysis sufferers as the Nation-wide epidemic for the second consecutive week showed a downward trend.

A day after arriving here from Atlantic City, Lula-Bell Kussart was admitted to Gallinger Hospital yesterday as a polio case.

According to the hospital, Miss Kussart's home is in Corogardo, Ill. She was said to be in favorable condition last night, with no paralysis of the limbs evident.

Maryland Boy Stricken

The other local case is a boy, admitted to Children's Hospital, whose home is in the 8900 block of 49th st., Berwyn, Md.

To date this year there have been 76 Washington area polio cases, 61 of which originated in suburban Maryland and Virginia. At the same time last year, the District proper had had 81 cases and 68 others had been hospitalized, in the Capital from the suburban counties. Deaths total five, compared with 16 at the same period in 1945.

Nationally, 1781 new cases were reported last week, the United States Public Health Service announced, a decline of 25 from the figure for the week ended August 24. It was the second straight week in which cases fell off, leading authorities to believe that the epidemic is past its peak.

Increases Noted

Increases were noted, however, in Illinois, Wisconsin, California, Nebraska and North Dakota. For the first time since July 20, Minnesota did not lead the States in cases reported. Its figure for last week was 208, ten fewer than the number reported by California.

So far this year, 12,431 polio cases have been reported throughout the country, compared with 6156 for the same period in 1945 and 9474 in 1944. The three leading States this year are Minnesota, 1820 cases; California, 1091 and Illinois, 1046. Virginia has had 68 cases to date and Maryland 49.

Md. Men Held for Manslaughter In Fight Death of Taxi Driver

Two men were charged with manslaughter yesterday in connection with the death of Robert L. Moore, 47, a taxi driver, of 18 5th st. se., Washington.

Moore died September 2, at Gallinger Hospital where he had been treated following an alleged assault August 17.

Held under $2500 bond each at Rockville were James R. Timsley, 22, a roofer, of 4301 41st st., Brentwood, Md., and George R. Carroll, 32, also a roofer, of Cherry Hill rd., Berwyn, in Montgomery County.

Montgomery County States Attorney Joseph B. Simpson said the fatal blow was struck in the premises at Carroll's home about 10 p. m. August 17.

The arrests were made by Montgomery County Detective Corporal Stanley Harding, County Policeman Frank Griggs and State Trooper Paul Federline.

It was first believed that the blow had been struck in Prince Georges County, thus police in both counties investigated the case.

Police said Moore was engaged to take the pair to North Beach, leaving 9th st. and New York ave., nw., Washington, at 6:30 p. m. After several other passengers were picked up and other stops made, an argument ensued among the passengers with the result the group drove to Carroll's home.

Police listed as witnesses three other passengers in the cab, Harry McNeill, 43, of 1315 Massachusetts ave. nw., Washington, and his wife Edna, and Charles Ballard, 32, of 1217 5th pl. Capitol Heights, Md.

Timsley and Carroll will be arraigned in Rockville trial magistrate court next Thursday.

CRASH

From Page 1

pocked by barren, low hills. Elko is about 225 miles airline northeast of Reno.

Other Victims Listed

Robert Owen, YMCA, New York City; George Henry Aman of Switzerland; Joseph Badami (no address); Robert W. Trabant, United States Army, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Bernard Gottfield or Gottlied, United States Army (no address); Robert E. Carson, United States Army, Brooklyn; Harold Elmo Launderville (no address); Jimmy Barabus, Merchant Marine; Irene Barabus, 932 Madison, Brooklyn; Anthony A. Difillippo, United States Army, Brooklyn; Gusseppe M. Musemeci, United States Army (no address); Zaren Aslanian (no address).

Five other persons, including a Negro woman, remain unidentified, the Red Cross said. Airline headquarters in New York said that Claire Cross and O. L. Payne were also passengers.

For Richer Tasting Chocolate Candies, Use
BONUS
Chocolate Flavored Syrup

For chocolate candies the whole family loves, use Bonus, the pure, wholesome chocolate flavored syrup that's always ready to use. Dozens of other uses, too!

PEPSI-COLA
TOPS FOR QUALITY
EVERVESS SPARKLING WATER
TRY EVERVESS SPARKLING WATER
NEW PRODUCT OF PEPSI-COLA COMPANY
SOLD AT YOUR FAVORITE STORE
Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N.Y.
Franchised Bottler: Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Washington, D. C.

CARPEL'S
QUICK-FROSTED SWEET
GREEN PEAS
Farm-Fresh Flavor! Top-O'-the-Crop Quality!
Cleaned, picked and ready for quick cooking!
Special Peas like these are the result of a perfect combination of soil and climate . . . and they come to you with the same "dewy-fresh" deliciousness as the moment they were picked. For a real treat, try this new crop of tender, delicious Peas and other fine frosted foods that are now at your favorite grocers.
For Free Frosted Foods Recipes, Write to—
CARPEL FROSTED FOODS, INC., WASHINGTON 18, D. C.

NOW
Your Dealer Can Supply You With WHITE
Enriched!
SELF RISING
Washington FLOUR

It is the same snowy WHITE perfect Flour it has always been—with which you make those delicious biscuits, waffles, shortcakes and all the other delicacies without the expense or bother of mixing with baking powder. The purest leavening phosphates are added at the mill.

Made of the special growth of wheat which your kitchen equipment handles so perfectly.

WHITE Enriched Self-Rising Washington Flour is now ready for you at all independent grocers, chain stores, markets and delicatessens—in the familiar White Sacks.

Buy it with confidence because you know you will use it with SATISFACTION.

Send postal card for FREE copy of the Washington Flour Cook Book—of tested recipes.

Wilkins-Rogers Milling Co. Inc.—Washington, D. C.

A Washington Industry Owned and Operated by Washingtonians

Nelson B. Bell About the Showshops

Three Exhibitors' Polls Vote Joan Leslie the 'Star of Tomorrow'

JOAN LESLIE is the No. 1 "Star of Tomorrow," in the collective opinion of the Nation's motion picture exhibitors.

This is the top finding of the Motion Picture Herald's sixth annual poll of the showmen whose customers tell them what they like and don't like and, by the record, are never wrong in their evaluations.

Joan Leslie

Miss Leslie ran first straight across the board—led the circuit exhibitors' ballot, the independent exhibitors' and the combined vote of all exhibitors.

In point of fact, the same names—with two or three exceptions—in slightly different order, constituted the list of 10 winners on all three ballots.

Hume Cronyn, No. 9 in the vote of the circuit exhibitors, and Evelyn Keyes and Peter Lawford, Nos. 9 and 10 in favor among the indipendent exhibitors, didn't quite make the master list of combined vote winners, which was as follows, in the order named: Joan Leslie, Jackie "Butch" Jenkins, Zachary Scott, Don De Fore, Mark Stevens, Eve Arden, Lizabeth Scott, Dan Duryea, Yvonne De Carlo and Robert Mitchum.

Miss Leslie attained her legal majority only last January, after six years on the screen. During that adolescent interval she appeard to high advantage in "Sergeant York," with Gary Cooper; "Yankee Doodle Dandy," with James Cagney; "The Male Animal," "Rhapsody in Blue," "Thank Your Lucky Stars," "Cinderella Jones" and other pictures.

In celebration of her legal maturity, however, she promptly filed a seven-figure damage suit against Warner Bros. for having seemed to have demoted her from star to featured played with Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson in "Two Guys From Milwaukee."

As to which side of the controversy will derive the greater succor from the result of the poll of exhibitors, one guess is as good as another.

The theatermen, after all, were voting their choices for "Stars of TOMORROW."

Are they a little slow on the uptake, or have the Warners repented of their haste and been converted to the view that tomorrow never comes?

Not as evidence in exhibitor defense, but as an interesting commentary on the value of this particular poll, it is worth pointing out that the respective winners of the 1941, '42, '43 and '44 voting were Laraine Day, Van Heflin, William Bendix and Sonny Tufts. The boys and their prompter, Old John Q. Public, didn't go so far wrong on them.

Speaking of winners, "Anna and the King of Siam," Twentieth Century-Fox picturization of Margaret Landon's popular biographical novel, has been voted the Boxoffice Blue Ribbon Award by the National Screen Council as the best picture for family consumption released in August. Warner Brothers' "Night and Day," Technicolor biography of Cole Porter now at the Metropolitan, was runner-up, with Twentieth's "Centennial Summer" and RKO-Radio's release of Disney's "Make Mine Music" coming in for honorable mention.

Seems Like Old Times

The new stage bill at Loew's Capitol turns the calendar back a few years with thoroughly engaging results.

Memories of the Capitol Rockettes are revived by a group of spirited and versatile line-girls who give the living portion of the program both variety and a closely woven unity, in true revue fashion. They are a youthful and comely bunch whose routine range from precision dancing to acrobatics, all executed with fine skill. The Dorothy Byton Girls, they are called, and their fan dance particularly is a thing of great beauty.

Interlarded among their offerings are the specialties of Duke Art and Junior, a man and a girl in a deft and amusing exhibition of fast clay modeling; Nirska, an accomplished fire-dancer in a "Butterfly Fantasy" which has hardly been matched since the days of Loie Fuller, and Georgie Kaye, a dancing monologist in the headline spot.

Mr. Kaye got off to a slightly slow start at yesterday's first performance, but had the customers falling out of their pews once he got fairly into the psychiatric bit that constitutes the piece de resistance of his act. His jitterbug dance to "Central High" music took him off on a gale of laughter and a storm of applause. If he reminds you of anyone, it will be of Henry Youngman a shade more than anybody else.

The Fox Movietone News, with a salty clip of Admiral "Bull" Halsey; Sam Jack Kaufman's "Request" overture—soloing Milton Schwartz' violin an dLynn Allison's thrushing—plus Milt Slosser's turn at the Wurlitzer, are the additional auxiliaries of "Smoky's" second week on the Capitol screen.

Running its string of bookings through the current month, the National Theater will be housing Mae West and her latest comedy, "Come on Up," for one week only, beginning Monday night, September 23. This will be following Vinton Freedley's "The Temporary Mrs. Smith," starring Francine Larrimore, which will be following Brock Pemberton's "The Magnificent Heel," costarring Peggy Wood and Bert Lytell, which will be opening next Monday night. And could you do with a few flying participles?

Having played to a quarter of a millio npeople and well over $300,000 at the New York City Center, Laurence Olivier's Technicolor picturization of Shakespeare's "Henry V" now is going great guns at the Golden Theater on West 45th st. It has just opened to a $7,000 advance sale in Buffalo, $10,000 in Toronto and $10,000 in Montreal. Next house to get it—on September 18—will be the Cinema Theater in Detroit. What's wrong with Washington, a redheaded stepchild or something?

Eternal-Unities Note

The Detroit manager wants to know if it will be all right for him to change the name of the picture to "Henry V-8" for his run!

2 Brothers Injured In Bicycle-Truck Crash

Elkton, Md., Sept. 5 (AP).—William N. Carroll, 9, and his brother Clyde, jr., 6, were in Union Hospital today with serious injuries suffered when their bicycle collided with a truck, State police reported.

William received a broken nose and possible concussion and Clyde, who was riding on the handle-bars, suffered broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

Winchester Rites Set For Edwin L. Stine

Winchester, Va., Sept. 5 (Spl.).—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Edwin Lee Stine, retired county farmer, who died yesterday at the home of a son here. He was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church and the Sarah Zane Fire Company. Four sons, a daughter and a sister survive.

SUPERMAN

(- HOW I EVER GOT INTO THIS FIX, I DON'T KNOW. I STEP INTO A BARGAIN LINE AN' THE NEXT THING I KNOW, I GOT A JOB /-)
ALL YOU'VE GOT TO DO IS PRESS THIS BUTTON EVERY HOUR ON THE HOUR. AN IDIOT COULD DO IT. I HOPE YOU CAN.
YEAH—THAT'S RIGHT, TILLIE. I'M WORKING.
OH, I'M SO HAPPY!
MIGHT AS WELL RETURN TO MY CHORES AT THE DAILY PLANET AS CLARK KENT. NOW THAT I'VE DONE MY DAILY GOOD DEED.

The Gallup Poll

Veterans' Battle Over Election Meets Mixed Public Reaction

By George Gallup
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 5.—The "battle" which war veterans staged at Athens, Tenn., when they wrested control of the town government from an entrenched political machine, has met with a mixed reaction throughout the rest of the country.

The number of voters who approved of what the veterans did is just about equaled by the number who disapproved of the tactics they used. However, veterans of World War II show a substantial vote of approval of what their colleagues did.

This is shown by a coast-to-coast poll conducted by interviewers for the Institute.

The issue has considerable national significance. There are reports that veterans in other States are contemplatng similar action to get rid of political machines like that which ruled Athens and the surrounding McMinn County.

The survey shows that about five in every 10 voters (52 per cent) have heard or read about the Athens affair. These were asked:

"What do you think about what the veterans did in the recent local election in Athens, Tenn?"

When analyzed, the replies of the 52 per cent who had heard or read of the affair fell into the following general categories:

All right, or all right under the circumstances	25%
Good idea but wrong method, they went too far, shouldn't have used violence	20
No opinion	7
	52%

Among World War II veterans 74 per cent had heard or read of the Athens affair. Their reactions contrast as follows with those of the general public:

All right, or all right under the circumstances	46%
Good idea but wrong method, they went too far, shouldn't have used violence	26
No opinion	2
	74%

How typical voters throughout the country reacted to the news of the Athens affairs is shown by the following comments selected at random from the survey:

"They took the lead in a good cause but in the wrong way. . . . Except for resorting to volence, I approve of the action. . . .

"They've got the spirit everyone should have. . . . They are on the right track; more ought to do that. . . . That's the way to clean up crooked politics. . . . Sometimes the only way to clean up a mess is to get tough. . . .

"The veterans were wrong; in this country law and order should not be taken into individual hands. . . . This country doesn't accept things like that—we're supposed to use ballots not bullets. . . ."

The Athens veterans charged that agents of the McMinn County political machine had taken the ballot boxes after election to stuff them with fraudulent ballots in order to defeat candidates put up by the veterans. The angered former servicemen stormed the jail where the deputies were hiding and finally forced surrender after many shots had been fired.

LEONARD LYONS

Manhattan Memos

New York, Sept. 5.—Jim Farley, who leaves shortly for a trip around the world, will apply this week for an absentee ballot—the first time he ever found need for one. Despite his opposition to Jim Mead, Farley will vote the straight Democratic ticket. . . . Clifford Durr of the FCC will leave for Moscow this month. He will be the American delegate at the Five-Power Radio Conference to be held there September 28.

Ruth Gordon

These are the local political moves: Corporation Counsel John J. Bennett, the Democratic candidate for Governor against Tom Dewey in '12, may get a Supreme Court nomination. His present post will be taken by the chairman of the law committee in Brooklyn . . . Murray Hearn of the city court, will get a Supreme Court nomination . . Ruth Gordon, now writing and producing plays, was asked by Katharine Hepburn: "Is it true that you've retired from the stage?" Miss Gordon, who has been a stage star for many years, said it was true. Miss Hepburn then told her: "I, too, am planning to retire." Miss Gordon asked: "Retire from what?"

In Tokyo last month General MacArthur told visitors that the military occupation of Japan should not last longer than three years—that civilians would take the job over in 1949 . . . When Ernest Gruening resigns as Governor of Alaska his post will go to Edward L. Bartlett of Juneau, now Alaska's delegate in Washington. This will be in pursuance of the Administration's policy of appointing natives for governing posts of territories . . . The Orson Welles-Cole Porter musical, "Around the World," which closed here last month, will be performed in London soon . . . The Court of Appeals nominee will come from Queens County.

Gabriel Pascal, whose newest Shaw hit movie is "Caesar and Cleopatra," will reissue his first one, "Pygmalion." Shaw recently signed a document giving to Pascal personally all the reissue rights, which probably will net the producer-director a million dollars . . . Nunnally Johnson, author and producer of the new film which will introduce Peter Lind Hayes, was approached by a member of the Bing Crosby organization, who said that Crosby might be interested in playing one of the roles if it could be lengthened into an important one. "When there's a possibility of getting Bing," said Johnson, "all roles are flexible."

Because of the new State Department control on foreign intelligence, the FBI is closing the offices it maintained in London, Paris and Madrid . . . The documents captured in Germany concerning espionage contained a list of Nazi agents working here. But every single one of them was on the FBI suspect list. All had been under constant surveillance by Mr. Hoover's G-men . . . An FBI man was sent to Nuremberg to question Goering. He told the G-man that the Germans hadn't been able to organize even one case of sabotage here. "And as for espionage, we didn't need it," said Goering. "What we wanted to know, we learned from American magazines."

The Democratic candidate for Attorney General in New York will be a Brooklynite of Italian descent . . . Monty Banks, husband of Gracie Fields and sponsor of El Borracho in New York, is building a five-terraced restaurant in Capri, facing the sea.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WHY SUFFER FROM MISERY OF SIMPLE PILES?

● Think of it! A single soothing ointment that speeds relief from those tortures of simple piles. It's amazing Pazo Ointment—acts instantly to relieve pain of itching—soothes inflamed tissues—lubricates dry, hardened parts—helps prevent cracking and soreness—acts to reduce swelling and check minor bleeding. It's wonderful!

Your doctor can tell you about amazing Pazo Ointment. Get it at your druggist's today . . . with the painless, thorough Pazo Pile Pipe . . . or in handy tin and suppositories. Made by the makers of famous Grove's Cold Tablets.

FREE! RELIEVE ITCHING PIMPLES!

Stop that itch at once! There's a guaranteed way to get relief. MEDREX OINTMENT is a Doctor's prescription, contains 8 tested ingredients which ease externally caused itching pimples, eczema and other skin irritations. Flesh colored, greaseless MEDREX OINTMENT must bring relief or your money back. MEDREX OINTMENT guaranteed! Two sizes, 60c and $1 at all druggists. Try MEDREX SOAP—25c cake.

MEDREX OINTMENT

M-G-M's "LASSIE COME HOME" Fine!
M-G-M's "SON OF LASSIE" Finer!
IN TECHNICOLOR with Elizabeth Taylor, The "National Velvet" Girl, Frank Morgan, and Tom Drake, the Lad You Hailed in "The Green Years"
WATCH FOR IT!
M-G-M's "COURAGE OF LASSIE" Finest!

SATURDAYS
8:45 and 12:30 Midnite
MOONLITE CRUISES
TWO 3-hour cruises Saturday night. BEER and Refreshments served. Large twin dance floors. Comfortable chairs. Cozy glass-enclosed decks. 7th Street car to dock. Free Parking.
FREE DANCING! AL SAKOL'S BAND
$1.15 Tax Incl.
Weeknites 85c
Largest and Fastest Boat on the River
S.S. POTOMAC
7th & MAINE AVE. S.W. PHONE NATIONAL 7732
Sunday SUNSHINE Cruise
4-Hour Cruise Sundays—Leave 2 P. M. Longest boat trip on the river! See famous Potomac sights, including Boiling Field, Alexandria, Mt. Vernon, Ft. Washington, Indianhead, etc. Free Dancing to Al Sakol's Orch. Refreshments, luncheon and dinners.
Adults $1 (tax incl.), Children, 50c

TRY OUR MARFAK LUBRICATION
—You'll feel the difference

Now that hot summer driving is about over—and your car's body and chassis need attention—you'll appreciate that grand and glorious Marfak feeling. It lasts and lasts and lasts.

Marfak lubrication cushions chassis parts against bumps. It is extra tough, sticks to the job, resists squeeze-out—gives you positive wear-protection for a full 1000 miles. Applied by chart, never by chance—Marfak is a finer chassis lubricant. You get it at TEXACO DEALERS. Bring your car in for a Marfak job today.

TEXACO DEALERS

TEXACO

where you get . . .

SKY CHIEF GASOLINE · FIRE-CHIEF GASOLINE · HAVOLINE AND TEXACO MOTOR OILS · MARFAK LUBRICATION

THE TEXAS COMPANY

TUNE IN . . . Texaco Star Theatre every Sunday night starring James Melton . . . CBS — 8:30 P. M.

"It's True!" say Good Judges of Good Whiskey

"Fleischmann's Preferred Has the Full, Ripe Richness of the World's Finest Brands!"

HERE is news for men who are really good judges of good whiskey. Now at last, they can enjoy a whiskey that is as gloriously rich, creamy and delicious as the world's finest, most limited brands.

We set out several years ago to try and make such a whiskey. We spared no expense. We made countless experiments. We drew from the world's choicest reserves. We used the world's most delicate skill and backed it up with all our resources.

The result is—Fleischmann's PREFERRED, blended whiskey, one of the world's most remarkable whiskies. Velvety! Creamy! Full! Delicious! Try Fleischmann's PREFERRED today!

"Bet your life! Fleischmann's Preferred has the full, ripe richness of the world's finest, most limited brands! But don't take anybody's word for it—try it, and see!"

"Compare them! See for yourself! You'll discover that Fleischmann's Preferred has the full, ripe richness of the world's finest, most limited brands!"

And it's 90 Proof, too!

BLENDED WHISKEY. 65% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS. 90 PROOF. THE FLEISCHMANN DISTILLING CORPORATION, PEEKSKILL, NEW YORK.

Bums Blank Braves, Slash Card Lead

This Morning

With Shirley Povich

THE RED SOX have made it a very un-thrilling September for American League fans with the exception of the Boston citizenry who can gloat in the satisfaction of the 16-game lead Joe Cronin's lads have amassed. But there is a suspense item, nevertheless. It's the three-man struggle for the league batting championship.

POVICH

Ted Williams, who was supposed to top the hitters, is running third to a couple of interlopers named Mickey Vernon and Johnny Pesky. Williams' .333 isn't even good enough to label him the top hitter on his own club, what with Pesky batting .336 in the latest averages. And out in front is Vernon, the Cinderella hitter who never batted .300 before in his big league career but is now boasting a very gaudy .341.

Theres' nothing final, of course, about these figures. The Red Sox still have 16 games to play and the Nats have 25. Vernon, Pesky and Williams are close enough to permit the lead to change after any span of two or three games. Williams, who isn't having one of his good years, still merits enough respect to be labeled the favorite to finish on top, but he's compelled to make his move quickly now. The time is running against him.

The three-cornered battle for the hitting championship offers wonderful evidence that there's no fixed style for good hitting. As hitters, Williams, Vernon and Pesky resemble each other only in the respect that they are all left handed. To sum it up briefly, Williams is the free swinger, Vernon the stand-up hitter, and Pesky operating from a bit of a crouch, the picture of a little guy who is tough up there at the plate.

Pesky's batting feats this year are not as sensational as is generally believed. He's been a pretty good hitter ever since he broke into organized baseball in 1940 with the Red Sox's Rocky Mount, N. C., farm team. For consistency, he tops both Williams and Vernon. He batted .325 for Rocky Mount, and when they moved him up to Louisville in 1941, he also batted .325. When the Red Sox brought him up in 1942, Pesky clubbed out a .331 average for the full season.

Who can say Pesky is a flash in the pan, and doesn't belong up there among the leading hitters? He finished second to Williams in '42, before they both went into the Navy. If he led the league, it wouldn't be the first time a hitter of his type led it. Pesky as a hitter is almost a counterpart of Buddy Myer who topped the hitters in 1935.

PESKY, WITH HIS speed, gets the kind of hits that Williams and Vernon don't get. When he was hitting .350 last month, it was said of Pesky that "he hits .200 and runs the other .150." He gets many an infield blow, which is no sin, but rather an accomplishment. Pesky is deserving of credit in that, unlike Williams and Vernon, he got off to a sad start in the first two months of the batting race.

The most interesting figure among the leading trio, however, is Vernon who was not reckoned to have any business among the batting leaders when the season opened. As I was saying, he never was a .300 hitter in the big leagues, but except for a two-day lapse he's been on top since May, and is still beating off all challenges.

Vernon may not be the best hitter in the lot, but he gets the smarter kind of hits, and some kind of special credit is due him, too. With the Nats topheavy with left-handed hitters and opposing clubs shooting left-handed pitching at the Washington club at every opportunity, Vernon doesn't get the best break. But in the face of it, he continues to lead the league.

VERNON HAS MADE an art of hitting left-handed pitching into left field. He's serious about this batting championship, and he's sacrificing some of his power to get those hits that count. When he wasn't bidding for the batting crown in former years, Vernon was hitting a longer ball. He's not above bunting, either. He doesn't lay one down as well as Pesky, but it's a pretty good bunt that Vernon makes nevertheless.

Williams' home runs count no more in the averages than one of Pesky's infield hits or one of Vernon's left-field singles. That's where Williams suffers. Vernon and Pesky could outhit him by 10 points, and there would still be no argument as to which was the most valuable hitter. It would have to be Williams, because of the length of his blows.

Certainly Williams is an amazing kind of hitter. In what is, for Williams, a season-long slump, he's still only eight points out of the batting lead. That's tribute enough to the fellow. He could still take it all and lead the league in one of his bad years, but the hourglass is working against him.

90,000 to Watch Skins-Rams Battle

By Al Costello
Post Reporter

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 5.—The Washington Redskins and Los Angeles Rams (nee Cleveland Rams) pile into each other again tomorrow night in a preseason game that is expected to draw more than 90,000 fans into gignatic Los Angeles Coliseum.

The setting will be a little different than their last clash—December 19, when the National Football League Championship was at stake in ice-locked Cleveland. That was when the Rams won their title, 15-14 with the goal posts' help.

Tomorrow balmy weather will prevail and strange as it my seem, the game will be as important to the Rams as that of the frigid ady when they won the title, back in Cleveland.

This is the first game in Los Angeles for the transported Rams. They will be playing before one of the largest crowds in professional football history . And each one of the spectators is a prospective Ram customer in their new surroundings. A dismal showing, such as the Rams made in losing, 16-0, to the College All-Stars in Chicago last month would just about wreck their chances for success—for the time being at least.

Game Important

On the other hand, a victory or even a sensational showing while losing, would just about assure the Rams of a successful season, things being what they are in this football-mad town that thinks nothing of 90,000 and 100,000 crowds.

All week, Coach Adam Walsh has been harping on the importance of this game to his squad, which has been training in nearby Compton. This is one game the Rams want.

And so do the Redskins. They haven't forgotten those two lickings the Rams handed them last year. One was a 21-0 exhibition game that hardly mattered, but the one-point championship decision was a galling pill. The Redskins want to get even and this, to them, looks like a beautiful spot to collect.

Coach Turk Edwards will start his strongest Redskin array. His No. 1 backfield of Sammy Baugh, Dick Todd, Steve Bagarus and Frank Akins tentatively is slated to take the field, but late today Turk was debating the advisability of replacing Bagarus with Al Couppee and Akins with Sal Rosato.

Rough Citizens

Couppee at right half and Rosato at fullback, are burly and rough citizens, especially Couppee. Edwards figures a few bone-bending blocks thrown by both in the early moments may do much towards opening the way when Bagarus and Akins come in.

The Rams, of course, have their ace passer and most valuable player last year in prime condition. That would be Bob Waterfield, who passed for two touchdowns and kicked the extra point that beat the Redskins for the title. Also there's Kenny Washington, Negro triple-threater; Jim Hardy, former Redskin; Albie Reisz, Fred Gehrke, Jim Gillette, Pat West, Jim Benton, Steve Pritko and a dozen others from last year's championship array on hand.

Tom Harmon, former Michigan All-American and war hero, definitely is out with a dislocated elbow. The rest of the Rams, although bruised and battered somewhat from the All-Star game, will be able to play.

The Redskins with the exception of George Watts, big rookie tackle, are in almost perfect physical trim.

The line-ups:

Redskins		Rams
Turley	L.E.	Rickey
Adams	L.T.	Schultz
Ward	L.G.	Mergenthal
Aldrich	Center	Naumetz
Sieber	R.G.	Matheson
Stenn	R.T.	Bonley
Kovatch	R.E.	Pritko
Baugh	Q.B.	Waterfield
Todd	L.H.	Gillette
Bagarus	R.H.	Gehrke
Akins	F.B.	West

Game on Air

Tonight's Redskins-Rams game will be broadcast on Station WMAL, starting at 11:05 p. m.

Tigers Blast Feller With '9' in Fourth

Detroit, Sept. 5 (AP).—Bobby Feller, Cleveland fastballer plagued by a string of five defeats in his last six games, fell victim of the Detroit Tigers' biggest scoring splurge of the season here today.

In the fourth inning before he finally was driven out of the box, Feller faced nine Detroit batsmen and seven of them hit safely as the Tigers scored nine runs off Feller and his successor, Bob Lemon.

Included in Detroit's big outburst off Feller were Hank Greenberg's three-run-homer—his thirtieth of the year—a triple by Dick Wakefield, who also homered off Lemon in the same frame, doubles by George Kell and Hoot Evers and singles by Roy Cullenbine, Skeeter Webb and Freddie Hutchinson.

Prior to today the most runs scored off Feller in a single inning this year was five by the New York Yankees.

Cleveland	AB	H	O	A
Case,lf	3	1	2	0
M'iewicz,cf	4	0	2	0
Edwards,rf	3	2	1	0
Fleming,1b	4	1	5	1
Ross,3b	4	0	1	1
Meyer,2b	3	0	2	2
Peters,ss	3	1	3	1
Hegan,c	3	0	6	2
Feller,p	1	0	0	0
Lemon,p	2	0	2	2
Totals	30	5	24	9

Detroit	AB	H	O	A
Lake,ss	4	1	0	1
Lipon,ss	1	0	3	0
Kell,3b	5	1	0	5
Evers,cf	3	2	1	0
Groth,cf	0	0	0	0
Gr'berg,1b	3	1	8	0
W'field,lf	4	3	3	0
C'enbine,rf	4	2	2	0
Webb,2b	4	2	4	2
Tebbetts,c	4	0	5	2
H'chinson,p	4	1	0	2
Totals	35	13	27	12

Cleveland	000 000 000— 0
Detroit	010 900 00x—10

Runs—Lake, Kell, Evers, Greenberg, Wakefield (3), Cullenbine, Webb, Hutchinson. Runs batted in—Webb, Cullenbine, Tebbetts, Hutchinson, Kell (3), Greenberg (3), Wakefield. Two-base hits—Flemming, Wakefield, Kell, Evers. Three-base hit—Wakefield. Home runs—Greenberg, Wakefield. Double plays—Hegan and Peters; Webb and Lipton. Left on bases—Cleveland, 5; Detroit, 4. Bases on balls—Feller, 2; Lemon, 1; Hutchinson, 2. Strikeouts—Feller, 2; Lemon, 3; Hutchinson, 4. Hits—Feller, 11 in 3⅓; Lemon, 2 in 4⅔. Passed ball—Hegan. Losing pitcher—Feller. Umpires—Jones, Grieve and Berry. Time, 2:02. Attendance, 20,814.

Gumpert Wins 10th As Yanks Rap A's

Philadelphia, Sept. 5 (AP).—Although he needed help in the eighth inning, Rookie Right-hander Randy Gumpert was credited with his tenth victory of the season as the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 today.

The winners piled up a commanding lead in the first three innings at the expense of Dick Fowler, who took his sixteeenth defeat. Phil Rizzuto greeted Fowler in the first inning with a safe bunt and scored on Bill Johnson's double. Two more Yankees crossed the plate on singles by Aaron Robinson and Nick Etten and a walk to Charlie Keller.

New York	AB	H	O	A
Rizzuto,ss	5	1	4	2
Johnson,3b	5	2	0	3
Henrich,rf	5	0	3	0
DiMaggio,cf	3	1	0	0
Keller,lf	3	0	1	0
Robinson,c	4	2	2	0
Etten,1b	3	2	9	0
Gordon,2b	3	0	3	5
Gumpert,p	4	0	0	2
Murphy,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	8	27	13

Philadelphia	AB	H	O	A
Hayes,c	4	2	2	1
Grimes,2b	4	3	2	1
McCosky,cf	4	3	2	0
Rosar,c	4	1	3	0
Suder,ss	4	0	0	2
Chapman,lf	4	0	2	0
McQuinn,1b	4	0	9	1
Majeski,3b	4	0	1	3
Ch'topher,p	1	0	0	3
*Stalnback	1	0	0	0
Harris,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	7	27	13

amamam dream

*Batted for Christopher in eighth.

New York	302 000 001—6
Philadelphia	000 000 110—2

Runs—Rizzuto, Johnson (2), DiMaggio, Keller (2), McCosky, Majeskie. Error—Chapman. Runs batted in—Johnson, DiMaggio, Etten (2), Gordon, Suder, Henrich, Grimes. Two-base hit—Johnson. Three-base hit—Johnson. Double plays—Gordon, Rizzuto and Etten (2); Rizzuto and Etten. Left on bases—Yankees, 8; Philadelphia, 5. Base on balls—Gumpert, 2; Fowler, 3; Christopher, 2; Harris, 1; Murphy, 1. Strikeouts—Christopher, 3; Gumpert, 2. Hits—Gumpert, 7 in 7⅓; Christopher, 2 in 5⅔; Harris, 1 in 1. Winning pitcher—Gumpert. Losing pitcher—Fowler. Umpires—Wafer, Passarella and Summers. Time, 1:49. Attendance, 6993.

Chisox Turn Back Browns in 11th, 4-3

Chicago, Sept. 5 (AP).—The Chicago White Sox combined two singles and a sacrifice in the eleventh inning today to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3.

The Sox won the game on Bob Kennedy's single, Don Kolloway's sacrifice and Cass Michaels' single.

The Browns scored all their runs off Joe Haynes. Mark Christman's single, Al Zarilla's double and Jeff Heath's long fly gave the Browns two in the first. Heath's fourteenth homer into the left field stand in the fourth accounted for the third Brownie run.

The Sox pounced on Nelson Potter for three in the seventh on singles by Michaels, Tucker, Hodgin and Appling. There also was a passed ball by Hank Helf, which permitted Hodgin to score.

Kennedy, who hadn't made a hit in 14 times at bat, opened the eleventh with a single to center. Kolloway's sacrifice moved him along to second and the game ended when Michaels got his second hit of the game, a single to left.

St. Louis	AB	H	O	A
Ch'tman,3b	5	2	0	2
Zarilla,rf	5	3	2	0
Heath,lf	4	1	3	1
Stephens,ss	4	0	0	3
W'ardino,2b	4	0	2	5
Stevens,1b	4	0	12	1
Helf,c	3	1	2	0
†Lucadello	1	0	0	0
Mancuso,c	0	0	1	0
Potter,p	3	1	0	0
Biscan,p	0	0	0	0
Muncrief,p	1	0	0	0
Totals	39	7	*31	12

Chicago	AB	H	O	A
Hodgin,lf	3	1	3	0
Appling,ss	5	1	0	5
Kuhel,1b	3	0	11	0
Platt	1	0	0	0
Trosky,1b	1	0	2	1
Wright,rf	1	0	2	0
Kennedy,cf	5	1	3	0
K'lowsky,3b	4	1	2	1
Michaels,2b	4	3	2	7
Haynes,p	4	0	4	3
‡Tucker	1	1	0	0
†Whitman	0	0	0	0
Werger,p	1	0	0	1
Totals	39	10	33	19

*One out when winning run scored.
†Batted for Helf in tenth.
‡Batted for Kuhel in eleventh.
§Batted for Haynes in eleventh.
¶Ran for Tucker in eleventh.

St. Louis	200 100 000 00—3
Chicago	000 000 300 01—4

Runs—Christman, Zarilla, Heath, Hodgin, Kennedy, Hayes, Whitman. Error—Stephens. Runs batted in—Judnich, Heath (2), Hodgin, Appling, Michaels. Two-base hits—Zarilla, Helf. Home run—Heath. Sacrifice—Kolloway. Double play—Appling, Michaels and Kuhel. Left on bases—St. Louis, 3; Chicago, 8. Bases on balls—Potter, 3. Strikeouts—Potter, 1; Muncrief, 1; Haynes, 1; Maltzberger, 4. Hits—Potter, 7 in 6⅓; Biscan, 0 in ⅔; Muncrief, 3 in 3⅓; Haynes, 7 in 7; Maltzberger, 0 in 4. Passed ball—Helf. Winning pitcher—Maltzberger. Losing pitcher—Muncrief. Umpires—McKinley, Rowe and Rommel. Time, 1:56.

Terps Await Shaughnessy

Acting Coach Al Heagy tentatively divided Maryland University's 108 football hopefuls into A and B squads yesterday at College Park for Chief Mentor Clark Shaughnessy's scrutiny when he returns Sunday.

Jim Kurz, 1942 fullback, was passing the ball from center for the No. 1 eleven.

It is the center job that has been bothering Old Liner mentors, and Kurz, 6 feet 2 inches, 202 pounds, looked as if he might solve their problem.

Other first string men left when Heagy got through cutting the hitherto unabridged field:

Eli Broglio and Albert Phillips, tackles, both newcomers; George Simler, outstanding 1940 freshman, and Bob James, letterman in 1941 and 1942, ends; Emile Fritz and Dick Johnston, 1945 regulars, guards; Tommy Mont, quarterback, and Red Wright, fullback, both 1941-42 aces; Joe Pokorney, 1944 player, and Bill Poling, fine runner last season, halfbacks.

The "A" aggregation, making five elevens and spares, included all the lettermen from 1945 and previous seasons, 29 in all.

Following is the A squad's No. 2 team:

B. Crosland and L. R. Morter, ends; R. and A. Stuart, the brothers who pack 473 pounds between them, tackles ;W. Fehr and H. Nary, guards; Jim Brasher, center; Vic Turyn, quarterback; B. Sniscak, left half; Sam Behr, right half, and Harry Bonk, fullback.

Lexington, Va.—The ball carrying of Harry Harner and the punting of Mike Boyda highlighted football practice at Washington and Lee University.

Charlottesville, Va. — Dick Davis, University of Virginia halfback standout, was sidelined by a minor leg ailment.

Blacksburg, Va. — Virginia Polytechnic Institute Football Coach Jimmy Kitts stressed punting in his drill. The only casualty was Dick DeShao, who twisted his knee while returning one of the punts.

Winchester, Va.—Life father, like son almost proverd true at a clay-target shoot here. Ralph Luttrell, of Alexandria, took first-place honors by breaking 50 targets. The best his 13-year-old son could do was 44 out of 50.

Fairfax, Va.—A 75-man squad, including Veterans Calvert Withron, Jack Simpson, Lester Poole and Bull Harnell, linemen, and Calvin Coleman and Larry Fones, backs, reported for Fairfax High's first football practice of the season. The Rebels, coached by Bob Mavity, open an 11-game slate September 20 against Washington-Lee High at Balston.

Fredericksburg, Va.—With 10 lettermen on hand, James Monroe High opened football practice under Coach Johnny Madden. Opening game is set for September 20 against Benedictine Military School in Richmond.

Potomac Crew All Set . . .

THESE FIVE standard bearers of the Potomac Boat Club will participate in rowing events of the President's Cup Regatta Sunday afternoon over the Key Bridge course. They will oppose some of the top oarsmen of the Nation, including the champion Nereid Boat Club, Belleville, N. J. Left to right, kneeling: A. Douglas, stroke; D. V. Kern, W. M. Gordon, T. C. McNeill; in rear, Coxswain J. B. Moon

Griff Backs Old Schedule

Clark Griffith, a lone, thin voice in opposition when the major league club owners voted to increase the 1947 schedule to 168 games, triumphantly confirmed a report yesterday that the action will be reconsidered.

"The two league president have asked the club owners for another vote, by mail, and my ballot against the longer schedule has already been post-marked," said Griffith.

The 76-year-old owner of the Washington club declared that he along among the 16 owners voted against increasing the schedule by 14 games.

"The season is too long now," said Griffith. "For years I've maintained that we should be done with the world series by October 1."

Griffith declared that after more sober thought on the schedule policy, the owners are certain to return to the customary 154 games for each club.

The decision to reconsider followed Nation-wide criticism of the longer schedule in which the club owners were assailed for selfish attempts to crowd more games into the season after agreeing to correct contract inequalities with the players. The longer season's effect on the standard records was also cited, in opposition.

The proposal for a longer schedule was not an effort to nullify wage gains wno by the players' committee, said Griffith. "It wasn't retaliation. A 168-game schedule was proposed in 1945 by Harry Grabiner, then general manager of the White Sox. Now he's with Cleveland. He was the ringleader in asking for more games."

The National League voted unanimously in favor of the longer schedule at the Chicago meeting last week, with seven American League clubs favoring it. If the two leagues fail to agree on a schedule policy, Commissioner A. B. Chandler will cast the deciding vote. He is said to favor the 154-game schedule.—POVICH.

Falkenburg Hands Talbert a Spanking

By Gayle Talbot

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—There probably is no more erratic tennis player in the world today than Bob Falkenburg, a gangling 20-year-old from the University of Southern California, but sakes alive, how he can lather that pellet.

The kid brother of "Jinx," most beautiful of the Falkenburgs, reared back and hauled off and beat Billy Talbert, the Davis Cup star, today in the weirdest match and the greatest upset the national championships are likely to produce. It put Bob in the semifinals.

The scores of the wild five-setter that kept a crowd of 5000 alternately thrilled and bored for nearly two hours speak eloquently of Falkenburg's peculiar genius. They were 3—6, 6—1 2—6, 6—2, 7—5. In the three sets the collegiate champion won, his service was a shaft of lightning. In the other two, he couldn't have got it inside the court with a permit.

He Bumps Into Kramer

Besides planting young Bob in the semifinals, where he will meet Jack Kramer, the triumph quite probably assured him a trip to Australia this winter with the American Davis Cup team.

Capt. Walter Pate plans to take along a fifth man, or spare—always providing the United States licks Eweden in the inter-zone next week—and his choice has narrowed down to either Falkenburg or Tom Brown, jr., of San Francisco.

By defeating such a veteran star as Talbert, runner-up for the championship the past two years and fourth seeded man in the tournament, Falkenburg clearly stamped himself the most promising of the younger crop. If he ever brings the rest of his game up to his service he will be unbeatable.

He cleanly aced Talbert 19 times, and many times practically knocked Billy's racket from his grasp. On his first service in the deciding set, he aced Talbert four straight, which might be a record for this stage of a national meet.

Too Much for McNeill

Bob will have a couple of days to dream before he tackles Kramer, the tournament favorite. His chances of getting past Big John must be considered very slim. Kramer, his blistered hand completely healed, looked terrific in repelling the challenge of Don McNeill, the 1940 champion, 6—3, 6—2, 1—6, 6—2, in today's other quarter-final.

After watching Kramer today, it would be difficult to pick Frankie Parker or any other amateur to beat him soon. Parker will play his quarter-final tomorrow against Tom Brown, jr., of San Francisco while Gardnar Mulloy of Miami engages Pancho Segura of Ecuador. The semifinals are due Saturday.

Pauline Betz continued her steady course toward th efinal of the women's division but dropped her first set of the tournament before she disposed of Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif.. 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

Th estadium crowd got a thrill when the 23-year-old Miss Moran took the second set, sensing an upset, but Miss Betz quickly calemd everybody down once they resumed play after the rest period. She was much too good when it counted.

Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, playing with the fury of a girl tennis player scorned, took the stadium court late in the day and gave Louise Brough, a fellow Californian, a terrific lacing, 6—2, 6—2. She will meet Miss Betz in a semifinal on Saturday.

The Majors

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
Boston	95	40	.704	....
New York	78	55	.586	16
Detroit	74	55	.574	18
WASHINGTON	63	68	.481	30
Chicago	61	73	.455	33½
Cleveland	60	74	.448	34½
St. Louis	55	75	.423	37½
Philadelphia	44	90	.328	50½

Yesterday's Results

New York, 6; Philadelphia, 2.
Chicago, 4; St. Louis, 3 (11 innings).
Detroit, 10; Cleveland, 0.
Boston at WASHINGTON (night).

Today's Games

New York at Philadelphia (night)
Chandler (17-7) vs. Savake (2-13).
Cleveland at Detroit
Reynolds (16-13) vs. Benton (7-7).
Boston at WASHINGTON (night)
Dobson (11-6) or Ryba (0-1) vs. Newsom (13-10).
(Only games scheduled.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
St. Louis	82	49	.625	....
Brooklyn	81	51	.614	1½
Chicago	72	57	.558	9
Boston	67	63	.515	14½
Cincinnati	57	74	.435	25
Philadelphia	56	75	.427	26
New York	55	77	.417	27½
Pittsburgh	51	75	.405	28½

Yesterday's Results

Brooklyn, 1; Boston, 0.
Pittsburgh, 2; Cincinnati, 1.
New York, 6; Philadelphia, 5.
Chicago at St. Louis (night).

Today's Games

Philadelphia at New York
Raffensberger (7-12) vs. Trinkle (6-11).
Pittsburgh at St. Louis (night)
Heintzelman (8-10) vs. Dickson (12-5) or Brazle (9-10).
(Only games scheduled.)

Bonus for the Best

Montreal, Sept. 5 (AP).—The National Hockey League has decided to pay $1000 bonuses to the players who win trophies or gain a place on the league All-Star team.

Famous Speedboat Sold; May Race Here

Detroit, Sept. 5 (AP).—Miss Golden Gate III, principal challenger to Guy Lombardo's Tempo VI in the Labor Day gold cup speedboat race here has been sold by Dan and Gene Arena of Oakland, Calif., to Albin Fallon of Detroit.

Fallon already owns the Hotsy Totsy, former gold cup winner which had mechanical trouble in this year's classic. He said he hopes to have Miss Golden Gate ready for the President's cup race on the Potomac River later this month.

Sain's Wild Pitch Brings 1-0 Victory To Lombardi

Boston, Sept. 5 (AP).—Brooklyn scored a run on a single, a theft of second, a sacrifice and a wild pitch today to defeat the Boston Braves and temporarily cut the St. Louis Cards' league lead to a game and a half.

The pace-setting Cardinals are scheduled to play the Chicago Cubs tonight.

Augie Galan bpened the seventh inning with a single and immediately stole second. He moved to third on Dixie Walker's sacrifice and counted when Pitcher Johnny Sain's first offering to Ed Stevens broke low and inside to escape Catcher Phil Masi for a wild pitch.

Meanwhile, Vic Lombardi blanked the Braves on three singles. The little southpaw didn't issue a walk and not a Boston runner reached second base. The Braves' first hit, a looping single over Peewee Reese's head in shallow left center, came after one was out in the fifth off the bat of Nanny Fernandez.

Sain gave up only eight hits with Carl Furillo, young outfielder, touching him for a double and a single. He was the only batsman on either side to get more than one hit.

The game concluded the present Brooklyn visit to Boston and the Dodgers are idle until Saturday.

Brooklyn	AB	H	O	A
Stanky,2b	4	1	1	0
Whitman,lf	4	0	0	0
Galan,2b	4	1	0	2
Walker,rf	3	1	1	0
Stevens,1b	3	0	12	0
Furillo,cf	4	2	3	0
Reese,ss	3	0	2	3
Edwards,c	4	1	7	0
Lombardi,p	2	1	1	3
Totals	31	5	27	6

Boston	AB	H	O	A
Culler,ss	4	1	1	3
Ryan,2b	4	0	2	3
Holmes,rf	4	1	2	0
Masi,c	3	0	9	1
F'nandez,3b	3	1	1	4
Hopp,1b	3	0	11	0
Wyse,cf	3	0	2	0
Holmberg,p	0	0	0	0
Sain,p	3	0	0	0
Totals	30	3	27	10

Brooklyn	000 000 100—1
Boston	000 000 000—0

Run—Galan. Two-base hit—Furillo. Stolen bases—Furillo, Galan. Sacrifices—Lombardi, Walker. Double play—Ryan, Culler and Hopp. Left on bases—Brooklyn, 7; Boston, 3. Base on balls—Sain, 2. Strikeouts—Lombardi, 3; Sain, 2. Wild pitch—Sain. Umpires—Conlan, Boggess and Barr. Time, 1:41. Attendance, 7342.

Pirates Score Pair In 9th, Nip Reds, 2-1

Cincinnati, Sept. 5 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates landed on Johnny Vander Meer with three hits in the ninth inning today to score a couple of runs and win the ball game 2-1.

Up until that time, Vandy had held the Pirates scoreless although they put together three hits in the sixth but were kept from crossing the plate by excellent Redleg fielding.

The Cincinnati left hander, who now has won nine and lost 10, was lifted from the game after the three Pittsburgh singles and a walk were for the winning markers. Harry Gumbert got the next two batters to end the inning.

Rip Sewell, the winning pitcher, came into the contest in the eighth, after Johnny Lanning had given way to a pinch hitter.

It was the thirty-sixth defeat of the season by one run for Cincinnati and during the game the Reds pulled a pair of double plays to bring their season's total to 169.

Pittsburgh	AB	H	O	A
Gustine,2b	5	1	3	2
Fletcher,1b	4	2	12	2
Russell,cf	4	1	2	0
Elliott,rf	4	2	1	0
Baker,c	3	1	3	0
Whitehead	0	0	0	0
Salkeld,c	0	0	0	0
Cox,ss	3	1	0	1
V.Robays,lf	3	1	0	1
Handley,3b	3	0	1	2
Lanning,p	1	0	0	0
†Kiner	1	0	0	0
Sewell,p	1	0	1	0
Totals	34	10	27	13

Cincinnati	AB	H	O	A
Corbitt,s	4	1	1	2
Z'tara,3b	4	0	1	6
Adams,2b	4	0	2	3
Holmes,rf	4	1	2	0
Haas,1b	3	0	11	1
Mueller,c	3	1	5	0
Libke,rf	4	1	3	1
Lukon,lf	3	1	2	0
Usher,cf	3	0	2	0
Wyse	1	0	0	0
Rigney	0	0	0	0
Graham,rf	4	2	1	0
Vander Meer,p	3	1	0	1
Gumbert,p	1	0	0	0
‡Frey	1	0	0	0
Totals	31	6	27	14

*Ran for Baker in ninth.
†Batted for Lanning in eighth.
‡Batted for Usher in ninth.
§Batted for Gumbert in ninth.

Pittsburgh	000 000 002—2
Cincinnati	000 010 000—1

Runs—Whitehead, Cox, Vander Meer, Errors—Corbitt, Vander Meer. Rus batted in—Van Robays, Handley and Adams. Two-base hits—Elliott, Gustine, Libke. Sacrifices—Baker, Haas, Corbitt. Double plays—Zientara, Adams and Haas; Zientara, Haas and Mueller. Left on Lanning, 6 in 7; Sewell, 0 in 2; Vander Meer, Haas—Pittsburgh, 8; Cincinnati, 9. Hits—10 in 8⅓; Gumbert, 0 in ⅔. Winning pitcher—Sewell. Losing pitcher—Vander Meer. Umpires—Stewart, Dunn and Magerkurth. Time, 1:52. Attendance, 1284.

Graham's 2 Home Runs Top Phils for Giants

New York, Sept. 5 (AP).—Jack Graham's second home run of the day, with two on in the ninth inning, gave the New York Giants a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies today.

The winning clout came after the Phils had broken a 3-3 tie in the top of the ninth, scoring twice on a pair of Giant errors, three walks and a double by Del Ennis.

Solo home runs by Will Marshall and Ernie Lombardi got the Giants away to a two-run lead in the first inning. Ron Northey connected for a circuit blow for the Phillies in the third and Graham sent his twelfth four-master into the ritght field stands in the fourth.

The Phillies tied the count in the seventh on a walk to Johnny Wyrostek and singles by Northey and Vance Dinges.

Woody Abernathy, who pitched to only one man, was the winner, while Anton Karl, who failed to get a man out in the ninth, was the loser.

Philadelphia	AB	H	O	A
Wyrostek,cf	4	1	2	0
Northey,rf	5	2	1	0
Tabor,3b	3	0	1	1
†Dinges	1	1	0	0
O'Neill,ss	1	0	3	2
Ennis,lf	5	2	1	0
McC'lick,1b	3	0	12	1
Seminick,c	4	1	2	0
Verban,2b	4	0	2	2
Donnelly,p	3	1	0	4
‡Gilbert	0	0	0	0
Karl,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	38	9	24	11

New York	AB	H	O	A
Rucker,cf	4	0	3	0
Witek,2b	3	0	3	1
Marshall,lf	4	1	1	0
Lombardi,c	4	1	7	0
Gordon,3b	4	2	0	6
McC'lick,1b	3	0	12	1
§Rigney	0	0	0	0
Graham,rf	4	2	1	0
W'mse,ss-3b	4	0	2	2
Voiselle,p	2	1	0	1
Sch'acher,p	1	0	0	0
Abernathy,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	8	27	11

*Ran for Tabor in seventh.
†Batted for Donnelly in ninth.
‡None out when winning run scored.
§Ran for Gordon in ninth.

Philadelphia	001 002 002—5
New York	200 100 003—6

Runs—Wyrostek (3), Northey (2), Ennis, Marshall, Lombardi, Young, Rigney, Graham (2). Errors—Gordon, Young (2), Dinges, Ennis. Two-base hits—Seminick, Ennis, Young. Home runs—Marshall, Lombardi, Northey, Graham (3). Left on bases—Philadelphia, 11; New York, 4. Bases on balls—Donnelly, 3; Voiselle, 1; Schumacher, 4. Strike outs—Voiselle, 5; Donnelly, 3; Schumacher, 1. Hits—Voiselle, 6 in 5⅓; Donnelly, 5 in 8; Schumacher, 3 in 3⅓; Abernathy, 0 in ⅓; Karl, 3 in 0 (none out in ninth). Winning pitcher—Abernathy. Losing pitcher—Karl. Umpires—Goetz, Jorda and Reardon. Time, 2:39. Attendance—4504.

Maryland, Virginia Roundup

BALTIMORE, MD. — Howdy Myers received 105 candidates at the first football practice of the season for Johns Hopkins University. Included among the squad were three holdovers, Backs Lou Koerber and George Mullinix and Guard George Eichner.

Westminster, Md.—The first football practice since 1942 at Western Maryland attracted a turnout of 40 men. On hand were 10 lettermen, including Backs Art O'Keefe, Curley Coffman, Stan K

Arkansas' Scott, Resigned Navy Star, 1A in Draft

Player May Appeal; Hurt Says Coach

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 5 (AP).—Clyde (Smackover) Scott, star wingback of the University of Arkansas football team next fall, was notified by his Union County draft board today that he had been reclassified 1-A.

Scott indicated he might appeal on grounds that his two years service at the United States Naval Academy before he resigned and returned to Arkansas should be counted as military service.

Such an appeal might delay his induction at least until the 1946 football season ends.

John Barnhill, Arkansas head coach, said Scott was suffering from a bone injury in one of his feet, the result of playing with Navy last season. Barnhill said the injury had given him trouble in early practice sessions with the Razorbacks.

Scott resigned from the Naval Academy this summer and was married to the former Miss Leslie Hampton of Lake Village, Ark. He decided to continue his studies and athletic career at Arkansas.

If Your Horse Fails, You See Red Every Time

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 5 (AP).—Sharp-eyed Tom Daly came forward today with something unusual in that common medium of exchange around race tracks—advice.

His words of wisdom did not, contrary to race track custom, have anything to do with a "sleeper in the fourth" etc. He was suggesting for the better enjoyment of a race:

"Don't try to follow the horses. It's an impossible job. Memorize the colors and watch them."

Daly ought to know. He's spent most of his afternoons during the last 32 years perched at some race track vantage point, binoculars slung around his neck, microphone in hand. His is the voice that booms over the speaker at Garden State Park that such-and-such is second by a nose and so-and-so third by a head going into the far turn—when most of the crowd sees the horses as little more than a blur of movement against the faraway landscape.

"People would be surprised," he said, "to find out how much easier it is to watch a race if they would only memorize the colors worn by the jockey on their particular horse.

"That way they can pick out the colors easily and follow them throughout the race. It's a simple formula which has been used by turf experts for many years."

Joe Hits the Road, Tami Hits Mates

New York, Sept. 5 (AP).—Tami Mauriello went through five brisk rounds with three sparring partners at the Park Arena today while Joe Louis confined training activity for their September 18 heavyweight title bout to roadwork.

Louis was back at his Pompton Lakes, N. J., camp after coming here yesterday for the opening of his Harlem restaurant. Trainer Mannie Seamon said he expected to have Joe resume boxing Saturday.

Garden State

1—Mile and 1; $2500; 4-year-olds up.

Threeply	114	Rare Flares 109
Ann-San	109	Good Gravy 114
Floretdma	104	Display Flight 112
Lucy S.	112	Ticco 118
†Myrtle M.	114	Silk 117
†Schorsch-Gallo entry.

2—5½; $3000; maiden 2-year-olds, c. & g.

Probation	120	Joe Mandell 115
†Final Curtain	120	Yale 120
‡Bahrameter	120	Flares Durbar 120
Big Dub	115	Night Count 120
Sis Boom Baa	120	†Pilaster 120
Play Neddie	120	†British Isles 120
Bull Tar	120	Good Service 120
†Wm. G. Helis entry.
‡The Pentagon Stable entry.

3—5½; $3500; 2-year-olds; claiming.

†Bullow	114	Knight's Hurry 114
Chally Mally	114	Lady Pam 113
Speedy Quest	113	Top Knot 113
Glib Lady	116	Tiger Hae 111
†Flying Raid	111	Colonial Boy 119
Rappahannock	122	High Wind 116
Z-Bo	119	Lookout Lover 116
†Bryson-Stevens entry.

4—¾; $3500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Pelops	117	Overlin 109
Miss Lavender	109	Rough Feathers 117
PPlane Shadow	115	Artillerist 115
Hedgethorn	115

5—5½; $3500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Pekity Q.	115	Elre 117
Forevermine	117	Milkstone 120
O. K. Ruby	104	Gorget 117
Blustering	114

6—7½; 14500; 4-year-olds up.

Hornbeam	124	Black Gang 124
Panacea	121	Salvo 109
Boy Knight	121

7—1 1/16; $3000; 3-year-olds; claiming.

Jet Plane	111	Pari-Chute 115
Fallon's Folly	106	†Corkonian Lad 113
Outsider	115	Fagranny 110
Spanaqua	116	Sightseer 116
Mad Fast	119	†Gauntlet 116
Comic Ann	110	Grian 111
East B.	110
†Meyers-Barnhart entry.

8—Mile; $3500; 4-year-olds up; claiming.

Cordon	116	Toloses 113
Marbacka	107	Gypsific 121
Navarrese	115	Ned Canron 118
War Dressing	112	Battlefire 113
Bohemia	112	Abnei 107
High Command	116

Post Consensus

AT AQUEDUCT
1—Jackanapes, Fairanfit, Dusty Devil.
2—LIQUID LUNCH, Wise Admiral, Swifttown.
3—Don Miller, Politics, Danzatine.
4—Airmate, Trilby, Aching Back.
5—No selections.
6—Best Dress, Reedee, Darby Dan entry.
7—Love Story, Camptown Track, Stargazer.
8—Bel Mo, Escary, Leave Taking.

AT NARRAGANSETT
1—BUCKEYE, She Whan, Minna's Agent.
2—Big Thicket, Our Bid, Jessera.
3—Trace Chain, Steeple, Magnus.
4—Balmy Spring, Icy Stream, Little Hoop.
5—Jonus, Antify, Puss Tapper.
6—Tres Mete, Challenger, Navy Cross.
7—Alabama, Rocstein II, Barrynow.
8—Riotous Rebel, Shoot First, Signazar.

AT GARDEN STATE
1—Myrtle Ma., Fiorednz, Threeply.
2—British Isles, Bahrameter, Play Neddie.
3—Rappahannock, Celestial Boy, Lookout Lover.
4—Pelops, Overlin, Rough Feathers.
5—Milkstone, Gorget, O. K. Ruby.
6—BOY KNIGHT, Black Gang, Hornbeam.
7—Sightseer, Spanaqua, Cartonian Lad.
8—War Dressing, High Command, Gypsier.

AT DEYROUT
1—Milk Route, Air Cadet, Sheila May.
2—Noldorne, Lyrical, Dessapage.
3—Bright Trace, Surgeon Dick, Ecomadale.
4—Surendi, Astound, Grand Flash.
5—Branded, Bal-Yit, Honey Penny.
6—TIGER EXPRESS, Admiral Pat, Newscaster.
7—Easy Spell, Kender, Castle Boss.
8—David R. Jr., Bit Gay, Top Sergeant.

AT HAWTHORNE
1—Appetizer, Do Brand, Feather Up.
2—Be a Bee, Judge Sales, Air Victory.
3—Steele Chief, Gotham, Reno.
4—Gigelbury, Dustabout, Suede.
5—Fieldloch, Rush Act, Song O'War.
6—Port Chester, Westfield, Coe Style.
7—Double Brah, Gal Ann, Marjanes.
8—TASK FORCE, Custe, Rambeau.

See by the Papers

By Bill Ruble

Garden State Racing Chart

Garden State Park, Camden, N. J., Sept. 5, 1946 (AP).
WEATHER CLOUDY, TRACK FAST.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $2500. For maiden 2-year-olds; claiming price $7500. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 2:32. Off at 2:33½. Winner, G. Ring's ch. f. (2) by Menow—Volette by Dis Donc. Trainer, C. M. Peltner. Values, $1650, $500, $250, $100. Time, 1:13⅕.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Straight
RINGOLETTE	(Gonzalez)	115	1	1	1½	1½	1²½	1²	$6.90
SLOWER	(Bacuris)	115	4	4	2²	2²	2²	2²	21.40
FEARMENOT	(Gilbert)	115	9	2	4½	3hd	31	3hd	2.95
LEGIONAN	(Howell)	115	10	3	6½	6½	5½	4²	24.55
KANKEKEE	(Permane)	118	5	5	7½	7½	7½	6²	13.90
LEVENTIA	(C.Kirk)	115	11	11	10½	8hd	7½	11	11.10
BROWN CLIPPER	(Leblanc)	115	3	6	3½	4hd	4½	8hd	6.50
LARRY DOOLEY	(Jemas)	118	8	9	5½	5²	6²	9½	2.50
GILDED TRUMP	(Hacker)	118	6	10	11½	11²	10²	10²	48.45
GOWN MODEL	(Yager)	115	7	12	9½	9²	11¼	11¼	105.45
MIX MAN	(Furlewig)	113	12	7	12	12	12	12	145.50

RINGOLETTE, $15.90, $8.80, $5.70; SLOWER, $19.40, $11.30; FEARMENOT, $4.10.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $3000. For 2-year-olds; claiming prices $4000 to $3500. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 3:03. Off at 3:03½. Winner, Mrs. P. Dales Watts' ch. f. (2) by Head Play—Shady Play by Messenger. Trainer, P. Dales Watts. Values, $1850, $700, $300, $150. Time, 1:14⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Straight
OVER THE HILL	(Stout)	116	4	5	5²	4²	3½	1½	$3.90
PHARANELLA	(Buxton)	116	10	2	4½	2½	2²	2hd	1.35
SCREME	(Howell)	116	11	1	1½	1²	11	3²	20.90
LADY GERALD	(Permane)	113	5	6	2½	3²	4²	4½	12.70
ROCKWOOD BETTY	(Jemas)	109	1	7	7½	6²	6²	5¹	9.90
GREAT HOPE	(Descamilla)	112	6	10	10½	7½	7½	6½	69.25
MACEDONIA	(Moon)	114½	12	11	12	12	9²	7½	42.10
STAR'S BOY	(Blenz)	116	2	9	8²	5½	5½	8²	13.85
PATS ANNE	(Lynch)	113	8	8	9²	8½	10²	9²	8.50
GOTAHISWORLD	(Lynch)	116	9	3	6hd	9²	8½	10½	35.15
APRA	(Leblanc)	113	3	4	3½	10¹	12	11²	50.10

OVER THE HILL, $9.80, $4.00, $3.60; PHARANELLA, $3.30, $2.80; SCHEME, $6.50.

Daily Double—RINGOLETTE and OVER THE HILL Paid $200.40.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $3000. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 3:33. Off at 3:34. Winner, M. B. Goff's b. g. (3) by Pilot Shot—Transformation by Transmute. Trainer, E. W. King. Values, $1850, $700, $300, $150. Time, 1:12⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
TRANSHOT	(Permane)	119	6	3	2½	2½	2½	1hd	1nk	$6.35
ADMIRAL'S AIDE	(Young)	119	8	7	5½	4²	3²	2½	2¹	3.30
HEARTH MOUSE	(Gonzales)	116	7	2	1½	1½	11	1½	3¼	3.45
PIED PIPER	(Lynch)	116	3	9	6²	5½	5²	4½	4³	4.30
SARALEE C.	(Root)	110	5	6	3½	3hd	4hd	3½	5²	15.10
I'M O'SULLIVAN	(Walters)	116	4	8	9½	8²	8²	6hd	6hd	4.70
CARAMENT	(Bernhardt)	116	10	1	4½	6²	6½	7½	7¾	102.50
CHAOS	(Jemas)	119	11	4	7²	9²	7²	7½	8²	5.40
MERITA	(Yager)	114½	2	5	8²	11½	9½	9²	9²	161.65
GET SET	(Manley)	108	1	12	12	12	11½	10²	10¹	112.75
BAKEMUP	(Gilbert)	115	12	10	11hd	12½	12	11²	11²	69.50
DOT O DASH	(Cusimano)	111	2	11	10hd	10hd	11½	12	12	113.35

TRANSHOT, $14.70, $6.60, $4.60; ADMIRAL'S AIDE, $4.80, $3.20; HEARTH MOUSE, $3.20.

FOURTH RACE—The Blackwood. Mile and a furlong. Purse, $4000. For 4-year-olds and up. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 4:06. Off at 4:06½. Winner, Mrs. H. K. Haggerty's blk. f. (5) by Trace Call—Boat by Man o' War. Trainer, R. Herbert. Values, $2500, $850, $400, $250. Time, 1:51⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
RAMPART	(Breen)	119	6	2	3½	3²	3½	1hd	$1.25
MISS WAR	(Mora)	106	5²	4	4²	4¹	4²	1½	2.25
SHELTIE	(Stout)	109	3²	3	2¹	2hd	2½	2nk	6.90
CHANCE GAME	(Padgett)	109	2²	2	1½	1½	1hd	3²	6.05
JUSTA NOTE	(Hacker)	121	4	5	5½	5½	5²	5²	9.65
ICE GIRL	(Young)	110½	1	6	6	6	6	6	39.20

RAMPART, $4.50, $2.90, $2.30; MISS WAR, $2.90, $2.40; SHELTIE, $2.70.

FIFTH RACE—The Cooper River. One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $4000. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won ridden out; place driving. Went to post at 4:46. Off at 4:38. Winner, F. A. B. Widener's br. g. (3) by Roman—Black Lashes by Bickle. Trainer, M. H. Dixon. Values, $2560, $850, $400, $250. Time, 1:45⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
HAPPY C.	(Gilbert)	121	5	4	2½	2¹	1¹½	1½	1½	1.75
ROLLINO	(Padgett)	121	9	8	6²	6²	2½	2½	2½	4.50
BOAT MAN	(Jemas)	112	3	5	3²	3½	3²	4²	3¹	3.75
KING PRETTY	(G.L.Smith)	109	2	3	5½	5²	5¹	5½	4½	54.00
OPEN PALM	(Manley)	104	10	7	4¹	4½	6¹	6²	5½	12.55
MAMANIE	(Lullo)	113	1	1	9	7¹	7¹	8¹	6²	2.45
HAT TRICK	(Eye)	121	3	3	1²	1½	2½	3²	7²	14.05
HONESTTOWN	(Young)	110½	4	2	3½	3½	4½	7hd	8¹	30.65
PROPOSITION	(Stout)	106	7	10	7½	9	9	9	9	16.35
MARCI P.	(C.Kirk)	112½	6	9	4					72.75

†Wheeled.

HAPPY C., $5.50, $3.90, $2.70; ROLLINO, $5.40, $3.20; BOAT MAN, $2.80.

SIXTH RACE—The Cover Girl. Six furlongs. Purse, $4000. For 4-year-olds and up, fillies and mares; Grade D. Start good. Won easily; place driving. Went to post at 5:05. Off at 5:06½. Winner, H. A. Dabson's b. m. (5) by Case Ace—Comeover by Whisk Broom II. Trainer, H. A. Dabson. Values, $2500, $850, $400, $250. Time, 1:10⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
NANCE'S ACE	(Gonzalez)	109	7	1	1½	1½	1²	1²	$1.10
FAST	(Root)	116	2	7	5¹	2½	2²	2²	7.40
HARRIET SUE	(Cleveland)	107	1	4	3½	3½	3½	3¾	4.70
FAIR ANN	(Permane)	107	3	8	8²	7¹	5½	4¹	†5.40
CARMEL TOWN	(Young)	110½	5	5	6½	5½	4½	5½	9.40
PRIMES BISCUIT	(Seawithers)	113	6	6	7½	8	6½	6½	22.60
VRODI	(Jemas)	107	4	3	4½	6½	7²	7²	19.95
BUNGALESE	(Padgett)	107	8	2	2½	4hd	8	8	†

†Mrs. G. Fox entry.

NANCE'S ACE, $4.20, $2.90, $2.40; FAST, $5.90, $3.50; HARRIET SUE, $3.10.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile and a furlongs. Purse, $2500. For 4-year-olds and up; claiming price $2500. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 5:37. Off at 5:37. Winner, A. J. Frallinger's ch. g. (8) by Constitution—Bon Bon by Towton Field. Trainer, J. Doub. Values, $1650, $500, $250, $100. Time, 1:54⅘.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
CARRIGHATAR	(Young)	114	8	5	4¹	4¹	3¹	2½	1½	60.65
BEANSTALK	(Gilbert)	117	2	2	2½	2hd	2¹	1½	2½	5.65
GREMLIN	(Bernhardt)	117	6	4	3½	1hd	1hd	1hd	3½	6.00
APPOINTER	(Leiby)	117	1	3	6½	6½	4½	3½	4¹	4.80
FLINT MAID	(Permane)	111	5	6	5½	5½	5²	5²	5½	46.10
PASSAN	(Folk)	106	4	7	8½	8²	8¹	6²	6²	24.20
EPAMINONDUS	(Riano)	114	9	9	9¹	7²	7½	7²	7²	10.15
MYSTERY BOOK	(Lynch)	114	3	1	1½	3½	6¹	8hd	8²	2.45
ROCKET PLANE	(C.Kirk)	114	10	8	10	10	9²	9¹²	9²²	29.35
BURDMAN	(Bacuris)	117	7	10	7²	9¹	10	10	10	5.25

CARRIGHATAR, $123.30, $40.60, $20.50; BEANSTALK, $6.90, $4.90; GREMLIN, $4.50.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $4000. For 4-year-olds and up; claiming price $10,000. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 6:09. Off at 6:10. Winner, A. M. Bank's b. g. (5) by Easton—Metella by Mad Hatter. Trainer, L. Murray. Values, $2500, $850, $400, $250. Time, 1:46⅕.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
OFFENBACH	(Mora)	119	5	1	1²	1²	1²	1hd	$7.05
COLD SOBER	(Cotero)	110	11	2	4²	4²	3²	3²	4.60
RE ROLLS	(Bacuris)	115	8	6	5½	5²	5½	4½	15.15
ASTRAL	(C.Kirk)	115	4	10	10½	9²	7½	7¹	4³²	2.80
VICTOR	(Howell)	115	7	5	2½	3½	5²	5²	6hd	13.50
FIREBROOM	(Cleveland)	110	9	7	6¹	6½	6½	6²	5¹	13.40
THE WING	(Lullo)	114	2	3	3²	2²	2¹	2½	7²	9.70
RING MASTER	(Puglisi)	111	6	8	7½	7½	8½	8½	8²	16.45
BARDIA	(Bernhardt)	115	3	4	8²	8²	9²	9²	9½	4.55
I'LL BE BACK	(Jemas)	115	1	11	11²	11¹	10²	10²	10²	28.40
SIGNALS BLOKE	(Permane)	117	12	9	9²	10²	11²	11²	11²	51.65
HIGH LEGEND	(Perse)	114	10	12	12	12	12	12	12	67.95

OFFENBACH, $16.10, $7.30, $5.40; COLD SOBER, $6.30, $3.10; RE ROLLS, $9.10.

Hawthorne

1—¾; $2000; 2-year-olds; claiming.

Scotlyn	105	Very Brave	108
Tree Tot	113	Leapyearlass	115
Damagnas Cal	113	Lady Rheanelle	110
Paris Maid	107	Feather Up	110
Concho Blue	105	Flip Corkin	108
Dark Image	110	Donna Sue	105
Timandra	110	Mountebank	108
Miami Rose	105	De Brand	118
Bracket	113	Appetizer	110

2—6½; $2200; 3-year-olds; claiming.

Slovak	100	Little Hare	108
Right Hand	105	Judge Sales	108
Bis	103	Win-Pin	111
Air Victory	105	Skip Level	107
Miss Texas	107	Heather Girl	108
Comic-Back	110	Flying Pro	110
Interroreen	110	Giant Drift	105
Maiden Quest	107	Re A Bee	102
High Figures	107	Cant Sweep	107

3—¾; $2000; 2-year-old maidens.

Artre	118	Chief Command	118
Andemas	118	Diavolo Chief	118
Reno	118	Song Sparrow	118
Bulmont	118	Steeple Jack	118
McLish	118	Balheim	118
Keener	118	Blammy	118
Gotham	113

4—1 1/16; $2200; 3 and 4-year old maidens.

Billies Choice	114	Gigelbury	112
Martha Doyle	109	†Show	112
Dustabout	104	†Suede	117
Indian Ruler	112	Sure Flight	104
Hanny Finn	117	One Hock	109
Jimmys Rose	109
†M. Lowenstein entry.

5—6½; $2500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Affiant	116	American Eagle	114
Fieldloch	106	Song O'War	111
Rush Act	114	Bob's Dream	110
Unchallenged	115

6—8½; $2500; 3-year-olds up; allowances.

Port Chester	120	Lederne	112
Private Andy	112	Teddy Reigh	115
Miss Tullahoma	117	Coe Style	110
Sierra Jean	117	†Arielita	107
Scholarity	102	Brown Dame	107
Wise Tiger	115	Instonic	110
Lady Kentucky	114	Westfield	107
†Captain Dave	115	Grado Primero	112
†R. Rousher entry.

7—1 1/16; $2500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Gal Ann	114	Indian Trace	111
Thornond	106	Sirius Band	106
Miss Winks	114	Double Brah	113
Azrarian Son	117	Solke J.	112
Marjanes	120	Record March	114
Phrona	109	Jetta T.	118

8—1 1/16; $2500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Nameless	109	Task Force	112
Oasis	113	Provencal Boy	120
Saving Dan	116	Mandrell	116
Old Lover	114	Guy Hoziel	114
Well Play	99	Learay	117

HAWTHORNE SELECTIONS
1—Miami Rose, Tree Tot, Bracket.
2—Flying Pro, Miss Texas, Righthand.
3—Stammy, Song Sparrow, Chief Command.
4—Gigelbury, Indian Ruler, Martha Doyle.
5—RUSH ACT, Affiant, Fieldloch.
6—Teddy Reigh, Coe Style, Brown Dame.
7—Maejanes, Gail Ann, Jetta T.
8—Task Force, Guy Hoziel, Mandrell.
—Chicago Daily Times (AP).

DAILY DOUBLE PAID $16.20.

3—¾; $2200; maiden 2-year-olds; claiming.

Far Greater, 115 (Pierson)		16.20	5.20	3.40
Big A, 115 (Brooks)			4.00	2.60
Sir Spice, 115 (Caffarella)				2.80

Sir Blasker Snooky Fox, Retipe King, Camolino, Chicle Red, Lady Pharist, Cloud Battle.

4—1 1/16; $2500; 3-year-olds; allowances.

Broom Ride, 106 (Rutnagel)		6.40	2.40	2.00
Lou Jay S., 112 (Smith)			3.40	2.60
Gallenia, 113 (Brooks)				6.00

Snow Kiss, King's Pride, Prairie Flower, Mail Johnny, Hash Brown, Puddle Jumper, Johnstown Kid, High Hope, Clay.

5—¾; $2500; 2-year-olds; allowances.

Sally's Girl, 113 (Leisure)		6.40	2.60	2.80
Front Page, 116 (Pierson)			2.80	2.60
Pine Tree, 113 (Higley)				3.40

Confirmation, Stone's Throw, Miss Retire, Mid Victory, Lady Pharo, Bowstring, Parklyn, Senalese, Verona Sands.

6—6½; $2000; 4-year-olds up; allowances.

Jack's Jill, 107 (Smith)		2.80	2.60	2.40
Quixale, 110 (Gilsdevell)			12.40	6.00
Duquesne, 108 (Fruit)				4.40

Bushwhacker, Fire Dust, Comeandgo, Artistic Rose, Dideroi, Headline.

7—1 1/16; $2500; 2-year-olds up; claiming.

Baby Gold, 110 (Brooks)		9.80	3.80	3.40
Some Man, 112 (Marinelli)			3.40	2.60
Miss Rebellion, 98 (Rendlarelli)				4.40

Final Reward, War Wise, Queen Jody, Four Tens, Florizan Ace, Some Bid.

8—1 1/16; $2200; 2-year-olds up; claiming.

Alaflar, 111 (Datter)		25.20	12.00	6.60
Jim Fat, 120 (Nichols)			23.20	10.80
Be No, 114 (Fay)				8.40

Sweet Mary, Foment, Sunny Jack, She Shes, Roy H. S., Redrock Canyon, The McClain, Just Tourist, Big Boss.

Narragansett

1—¾; $2400; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Mad Sadie	114	Rondoo Lady	110
Minna's Agent	110	Nikoh's Pal	113
Black Bun	113	Chance Run	115
Buckets	108	Bird O'Gold	110
Gradn Step	117	Sha Whan	110
Ci Light	113	Brodsar	110
Bad Cold	113	Reigh Velly	110
Bay Acre	113	Resolution	108

2—¾; $2500; maiden 3-year-olds, up.

Peace Pipe	118	Elwood Thesen	112
Teddy Fon	110	Young Joe	110
Sam Norris	115	Forgiven	110
French Queen	113	Jonora	117
Big Thicket	120	Final Purpose	115
Our Bid	107	Valery	115
Sir Chester	115	Miss Punks	112
Saron Girl	113	Knitable	112

3—¾; $3400; maiden 2-year-olds.

Esperance	115	Sunter	118
Trace Chain	118	Steepie	118
Amita	115	Pat H.	118
Dillsburg	118	Devil Daughter	115
Pranabe	110	Valiant	115
Sweet Sweet	115	Mint le Diable	181
Magnus	118	Red Lake	110
Maid of Kent	115	Zacie	115

4—¾; $2500; 3-year-olds up; claiming.

Moony Boy	113	Five B's	110
Kalamazoo	110	Foxy Prince	171
Soulful	108	Royal Edge	110
Cold'a Best	113	Two Down	113
Quakertown	104	Icy Stream	113
Treasure Bound	105	Duchess Myrna	110
Baloo	115	Light Count	113
Balmy Spring	117	Little Hoops	120

5—1 1/16; $3000; 2-year-olds; claiming.

Buck's Girl	110	Feather Flurry	110
Jeems	113	Volonel Harry	108
Happy Pat	108	Nath	113
Mally	113	Pana Tapper	105
Void Scotch	113

6—¾; $3500; 4-year-olds up; allowances.

War Page	120	Little Sandy	106
Windmill	119	Challenger	120
Wise Advice	111	Navy Cross	130
Stepping Miss	110	Cherrydale	108
Lost Gold	106	Yankee Raider	111
†Can Double	120	Marksman	113
Time Note	113	Restriction	113
Valdina Lamar	115	†Burgoo Maid	112

†Mrs. A. J. Bruno and Ruth Sidell entry.

7—1 1/16; $2500; 4-year-olds up; claimign.

Turkey Feather	106	Oh Apple	116
Skipper Z.	108	Green Log	106
Devils Bit	103	Countess Play	103
One	111	Mse Chance	111
Marco B. Good	113	Resolution II	113
Patsy T.	103	Spiritual	113
Alcinous	11	Fluzy	113
Nebraska	118	Barrynow	116

8—1 1/16; $3000; 2-year-olds up; claiming.

Belmar Bee	110	Brooklandville	108
Flying Silver	110	Peacemaker	112
Garden Pot	117	Busy Nine	113
Mackaby	115	Shoot First	117
Roman Governor	115	Riotous Rebel	113
Arbor Vita	117	Stormy Bill	113
Rio Grande	114	Single Up	110
Siganar	115	Calaboso	112

1—¾; $2400; 3-year-olds; claiming.

Silent Rose, 109 (Scoma)		5.20	3.20	2.60
Joe's Gelg, 107 (Bauer)			9.80	4.40
Briggsy, 112 (Robertson)				2.80

Time to Run, Elias, Leo L., Good Feature, Miss Wesie, Kings Lamp, Transong.

2—5½; $2500; 4-year-olds up; claiming.

Sweet Eleanor, 109 (Anzon)		84.80	23.80	14.20
Collifs, 108 (Baird)			6.40	5.00
Manipulate, 115 (Hartwick)				14.40

Sky Beauty, Grand Venture, Dairy Lady, Expendable, Roadmaker, Easy Blend, Mend, Lucky Ed, Jorie-Mar.

DAILY DOUBLE PAID $254.80.

3—¾; $2500; 4-year-olds up; claiming.

Flying Here, 113 (Kuiper)		20.80	10.00	4.80
Tyrana, 105 (Bauer)			2.40	2.80
Mr. Jim, 112 (Baird)				3.00

Lazy Bones, Stormy, Alpsomar, Not Tomorrow, Battle O' Wits, Fast Tempo, Neat Kse.

4—¾; $2500; 3-year-olds; claiming.

Walkup, 112 (Keene)		22.60	9.40	6.00
Flashy Flash, 112 (Martin)			8.60	5.20
Dispelled, 112 (Scoma)				16.20

Hop On, Dreaming, One Lee, Ethel May B., Eternal Jean, MacFetchit, Bari, Poker Face, High Kick.

5—5½; $3000; 3-year-olds up; allowances.

Darby Dingbat, 114 (Pollard)		4.00	3.00	2.00
Rex O'Sullivan, 111 (Zehr)			16.20	6.60
Dispose, 121 (Martin)				3.40

Sneez

Bride Wore Apron This Season—Throw Away That Bicarb

MRS. WALTER JACOBUS LIKES LEMON SPONGE PIE

MRS. RAPHAEL SEMMES IS FRENCH

HERE'S a fluster-proof foursome of Capital brides, who meet all their homemaking problems with a smile. Whether it's creating a pie "like mother made" or adapting their foreign background to American life—or even doing their own laundry—they all have discovered it's fun to keep house and also have found time for some social life.

These young women, although they are brides, are clever enough to have found those short cuts that make homemaking easier. And every one of them is thrifty, too, while doing all this!

MRS. RAYMOND SLUYTER STRINGS BEANS AT HOME IN NEARBY VIRGINIA

Harris & Ewing

MRS. PHILLIP BOWIE LIKES DINNER BY CANDLELIGHT

Mary Haworth's Mail

Man, 26, Courts Girl, 17, With Her Parents' Approval; Finally Admits He's Been Married Which Shocks the Girl, but Not Her Mother

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I will be 18 in November. I belong to a prosperous and very nice family. About three months ago I met a young man who is 26. My parents met him at the same time and they really like him.

They both agreed he was a sensible chap and thought it perfectly all right for me to go out with him, even though he is more than eight years my senior. I met his parents also, and they seem to like me. Everything was going fine and we saw each other two or three times a week. Then, just about two weeks ago, he told me he has been married.

He said he hated to tell me, because he knew I wouldn't like it, but he thought it best to state the truth. He told me all the circumstances. He says he got married about five years ago and thought he was in love with the girl at the time. But after marriage he discovered they disagreed on everything. When the war came, he of course joined the Army, and later found out she was running around with other men.

Mother Still Sanctions Court

HE ASKED for a divorce and while he was overseas they were divorced by proxy. He says he was just a silly kid and didn't stop to think before they got married. I reported all this to my mother and told her I wouldn't go out with him again. She told me I didn't have to stop seeing him unless I wanted to,—and she said if he treats me all right, that's what counts.

He is very nice to me and I do like him, but I feel too young to be going with a man who has been married. When I told him I thought it best not to go out with him any more, he told me he loved me. He said he is sure of it this time,—and he asked me to marry him. I told him I wouldn't be ready to marry for a long time,—meaning three years at least.

He said he'd be willing to wait, and in the meantime work to build a future for us. He seems very sincere and sure about loving me. Now, do you think it's all right for a girl of 17 to go with a man 26? Do you think it might lead to another mistake, like his first marriage was? Please answer soon.

B. K.

Mother's Given Her Bad Counsel

DEAR B. K.: It seems to me that your instinct in this matter is much keener than your mother's. I think you were perfectly right and very wise in feeling you shouldn't go out with the man any more. Your conviction on this score was so sensible and justified, all things considered, that I can't imagine why she half-argued against it,—unless she figured that was the smart way to play her cards.

As you know, parental opposition to ill-advised romance often adds fuel to the flame, so maybe she was walking on eggs to avoid that mistake. In any event, take it from me: She gave you bad advice in saying it's how he treats you that counts. What counts is his character history,—his record for truthfulness, honor and stability. Or the reverse. And in my opinion, he has given a pretty dubious version of his checkered past.

For instance, his talk of "proxy" divorce has a hollow sound. And his gossipy defamation of his discarded wife bespeaks the cad. We've heard of marriage by proxy, of course; but divorce by proxy is a new one on me. I've asked a lawyer if there is such a thing. Not that he knows of, he says,—and adds that a study of the man's divorce papers, if any, would be in order, if one wished to make sure what his status is.

Girl Had Best Obey Her Hunch

FROM my viewpoint, the man isn't cricket, or he wouldn't have played for your interest under false pretenses to begin. He waited until he thought you were hooked before exposing his hand,—and that's sharp practice with a girl your age. As for marriage a little later,—various surveys into factors underlying divorce indicate that marriage made between girls of your age-level with men in the latter twenties seldom pan out. There seems to be something askew in the personalities of those who make such a choice at that age.

So my advice is: Obey your hunch. Break off with him and turn back to your own age group for beaus, before you find yourself a slave to the habit of going with him,—after which you'd never "see the light" so clearly again.

M. H.

Photo by Gloeau

MARRIED SEPTEMBER 1, Mrs. Norman Julian Robinson was Erika Lore Goldberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Goldberg. Mr. Robinson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robinson, San Bernardino, Calif. The couple will live in Arlington

Sure—Mix Well in a Tossed Salad

June's Mrs. Newlywed Knows Her Onions by Now

By Martha Ellyn

MANY of this summer's brides have been busy cutting themselves a neat little pattern of living. I've followed up some of Washington's newlyweds and found flusterproof hostesses who are taking vest-pocket apartments, house furnishings shortages and high prices as the order of the day.

Banquet cloths, service plates, finger bowls and maids aren't even being missed.

When Alberta Higginbottom was growing up in New Martinsville, W. Va., she scorned her mother's suggestions that she learn to cook. "When I marry I'll have a maid," she said.

She laughs now at her know-it-all attitude. "That was before I came to Washington to work in the photographic laboratory of Mr. Hoover's FBI and met Walter Jacobus," explained this demure, blue-eyed blonde.

Now not only has Alberta learned to prepare meals that have the polish of Walter's mother's,—according to her husband—but she's even mastered lemon sponge pie, a traditional dessert of the Jacobus family since their early days in Boston.

It was the boasting bridegroom who told of their first guest meal. His boss came to dinner. "That was when Alberta lost her amateur standing," said Walter.

The following guest dinner is one that should appease any hungry man. Since Alberta is still working at the FBI, she had to cook it after she left the office.

DINNER MENU

Loin of Pork
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Peas Apple Sauce
Carrot Sticks Radishes
Hot Biscuits Butter
Lemon Sponge Pie
Coffee

The lemon sponge pie is a tricky bit of pastry. As many an experienced cook knows, the sponge has a tendency to seep beneath the crust.

Fruits of War

PRACTICE makes perfect. That's why Barbara Willis, daughter of the late Admiral Howard Vickery, USN, and Mrs. Vickery, had a head start on pots and pans technique when she became the bride of Phillip Bowie in June.

When the Vickerys had no cook during the war Barbara took over the chore. And that was after a day's work at the National Broadcasting Company. "The Joy of Cooking," by Irma S. Rombauer, was her cookbook, and it's still her kitchen bible. That is the book whose author sent Wendell Willkie a condolence message when its sales topped "One World" by one copy.

Hollandaise sauce was one of the first things Barbara mastered. She uses it on practically everything—Eggs Benedict, fish and vegetables such as artichokes, asparagus and broccoli.

Her bridegroom has no food whims—"eats everthing I cook." But he relishes all salads, with LOTS of onions.

Roast beef, steak or some other cut of beef is usually on a Bowie dinner menu. Here's one they consider tops. And all dinners are eaten by candlelight.

DINNER MENU

Rare Roast Beef
French Fried Potatoes
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Asparagus With Hollandaise
Coffee

Early to Rise

WHILE working on the Paris staff of Vogue, Carmel Garcia-Benito was asked to be a hostess at the Paris Officers Club. It was there that Lieut. Raphael Semmes, AUS, son of Col. and Mrs. Harry Hodges Semmes of Washington, met the girl who became his bride on June 29.

Carmel now gets up at 6 to prepare breakfast for her husband. Breakfast is usually cereal, scrambled eggs, toast and tea. The eggs are often oven-cooked on buttered toast, with hot cream of mushroom soup poured over them. She's of the opinion that "coffee doesn't wake one up like tea."

Although Carmel didn't know how to cook before she married, she now enjoys giving dinner parties.

"The self-service in markets here amazes me. I'd like to buy something of everything I see," she says. "But some of the clerks don't understand me. When I first shopped and spoke of a 'head of salad,' the clerks were amused. You call salad 'lettuce' in this country."

Carmel thinks it's odd for men to help with cooking and dishwashing. "It's not dignified for a man," she says seriously—even though she confesses to "hating to wash dishes."

Pommes de terre Savoyarde is sturdy fare made of potatoes, onions and cheese. She serves it in individual casseroles.

POMES DE TERRE SAVOYARDE

Butter individual casseroles. Place 1-inch layer of thinly sliced potatoes in dish, then a layer of thinly sliced onions, repeating until casserole is filled, with onions as top layer. Dot each layer with bits of butter, salt and pepper. Cut a slice of American cheese the shape and size of casserole and place over top of food to cover completely. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees, for one hour.

Lady From London

MRS. Raymond P. Sluyter has been on the move ever since she arrived here on a freighter from London. She was the only woman aboard. This week Rozina, wife of Lieut. Raymond P. Sluyter, USN, is again packing.

The first thing she wanted when she got off the boat was a banana split. "During the war we had no ice cream in England, so I'm making up for lost time and eat at least a pint a day," she says. "I gained a stone the first few months I lived here—that's 14 pounds.

"And I've done my own cooking, too.

"There was so little to cook back home that I never learned, only I have always made tea. I drink tea before breakfast, for breakfast, at 10:30 and at 4 o'clock, then at dinner."

Tea-making is a ritual to Rozina. She has an idea that many Americans don't bother to heat the water to the boiling point. And tea bags are not on her shopping list; she wants the tea loose.

The traditional beef roast was the choice the day I talked with Rozina. It was going to be medium done that night. And this was the menu she had planned:

DINNER MENU

Joint of Beef
Baked Potatoes Green Beans
Corn on Cob
Ice Cream Cheese Biscuits
Tea Coffee

The double dessert and beverage were explained this way: "My husband likes cheese and biscuits (crackers) for dessert, and I prefer ice cream, so I serve both."

Pep All Day DOES Depend On Breakfast

New York, Sept. 4 (AP).—"Eat a good breakfast!" You must have heard that advice before. But do you heed it? Statistics show that most Americans don't.

Breakfast, experts say, is as important as any meal of the day. It should include approximately a third of a day's intake of food. We cannot attain maximum efficiency at the office, at school, or at our housework, unless we are well fed before we start.

Don't Get in Rut

People think of breakfast as a dull meal. But a varied menu will tempt the palate of anyone who sits down before it.

Here's an unusual, appetizing angle to lure your family into eating a good breakfast. Have it on the table when they come in and watch the interest mount.

Cornflakes
Blackberries
Melon Balls
Sliced Peaches
Sugar
Milk

Place cornflakes, or other prepared cereal, in a large wooden salad bowl. On top of them arrange the fruit. When the family is ready to eat, toss the "salad" together and have individual salad bowls ready for each serving. Let each person top his own with a sprinkle of sugar and milk.

Try This, Too

You should serve eggs for breakfast at least three times a week. Though there is no better egg than a properly soft-cooked one, there are other ways of cooking eggs.

Serve eggs fried—perhaps with a little bacon. Or cook them in the manner the French term "on the plate"—which means baking them in individual oven-proof shallow dishes. These are especially good with crisply fried sausages.

Don't Bewail Fact—Get Busy!

Overweight Child Isn't Happy, But It's Problem in Health, Too

By Ida Jean Kain

AN OVERWEIGHT child can have a most unhappy time. It sometimes happens that in a family one child will be immensely overweight while all the others are normal. If the family is large and has a hard time making ends meet and the mother is worn out, nothing is done. Mother frets about it and tries to curb the fat child's appetite, but she is too busy to fix special foods.

What can parents do in such a predicament? Take that child to a doctor or a clinic without further delay. In all probability the basis of the trouble is a glandular disturbance. Dr. Hugo Rony in his excellent text book, "Obesity and Leanness," states that in a group of overweight children, of 22 boys and 28 girls between 7 and 16 with the average age of 13, only 6 were found entirely free from glandular disturbances. Of course all these children were considerably overweight, their average excess weight 54 per cent. That is the type child I am referring to today.

Perhaps glandular deficiency is very slight but it can still lead to considerable overweight, because with a lowered metabolism the normal fondness for exercise lessens, then just moderate overeating can lead to fat storage. The slow child tends to get fatter and fatter on little more food than the other children eat.

The doctor will prescribe the hormone or combination of hormones lacking, which will regulate the metabolic process, making it possible for the excess fat to be burned. But diet is important, even in the treatment of glandular obesity. The mother will have to help her child curb that big appetite. The best plan is to talk it over and try to get cooperation. The fat child who feels she can be like other children if she eats less, will really try.

Mother should make a few substitutions, perhaps tell the other children something like this: "You can't have melon for dessert, that's just for Mary." Then, even though the others may be getting a much better dessert, Mary feels happy, instead of slighted. Mary can have the milk from the bottom of the bottle, rather than from the top, and a piece of fruit beween meals rather than candy. She should always have the lean part of the meat, with never any fat on it.

Bazaar Leader Away But Busy On Mercy Fete

Although she spent the summer in Blowing Rock, N. C., Mrs. Wayne Wirgman has been devoting much of her time to plans for Washington's House of Mercy bazaar.

Mrs. Wirgman

Chairman of the bazaar committee, she has acquired works of art from two famous artists and a study from a collection to go on sale November 7. The sale will benefit the House of Mercy.

Louis Lundean, whose paintings of western scenes hang in many famous American homes, has contributed an example of his work, as has William van Dresser, portrait artist, whose gift is a charcoal sketch. Third art object, a bird study, comes from the collection of Mrs. William Phelps Eno.

During the summer Mrs. Wirgman helped raise money to furnish luncheons to local school children.

Hello and Goodby

THERE'LL be lots of Navy at the hello and goodby cocktail party Capt. and Mrs. Val H. Schaeffer give Tuesday at their home on Cathedral ave. Glasses will be raised in farewell to Rear Admiral and Mrs. Ralph E. Jennings, who are leaving soon for Alameda, Calif., and in welcome to Rear Admiral and Mrs. "Jock" Clark, who have just come from Corpus Christi for station here (he's to be assistant deputy chief of aeronautics), and Capt. and Mrs. Stanhope Ring, recently arrived from Coronado, Calif.

Accompanied by their daughter, Elizabeth, Admiral and Mrs. Jennings expect to drive West around the middle of the month. Their son, Ralph Wood Jennings 2d, will remain here at Landon School for Boys until next summer.

The Rings and their three children—Susan, Stuart and Billy—are among the fortunate newcomers who have found a place to live, a house on Utah st. nw. The captain will be at the War College.

Things Look Up

NOW that she's able to hobble around after nursing a broken ankle for several weeks, Mrs. Alexander A. Vandegrift finds the world looking much brighter and next week it will look brighter still. A week from today she and the general expect to leave for Ponte Vedra and the sun-bathed beaches of Florida. They'll also see their son, Lieut. Col. Alexander A. Vandegrift, jr., who's stationed in the Peninsula State.

Other Social Notes

Mrs. E. S. Maloney is in Atlantic City for a holiday and is at the Marlborough-Blenheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schlessinger, Los Angeles, are in Washington for a two weeks visit, and are stopping at the Shoreham.

Sir John Magowan, British Minister, who has been on a trip to England, returned Tuesday on board the Queen Mary.

Mrs. John J. Pelley, who has been away for the summer months, now is in Chicago and will return to the Wardman Park Hotel Friday.

Child's Meals Must Include Food He Needs

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It always is a mystery to parents how children can manage to exist on the small portions of food they consume. It both worries and annoys the parent to set before the child the planned diet that growing children should eat and then watch him spurn all but the sweets.

Mrs. H. W. P. says her 4-year-old has a chronically poor appetite. "I offer him the foods he should eat, but he eats little cereal, meat or fruit and practically no vegetables. He usually eats dessert, either gelatine, puddings, ice cream, cake or cookies. He has always been finicky about milk and won't drink it unless I give him chocolate milk.

"He does not appear to be losing weight, even though he s lean looking, like his father. He has not been ill the last year, which surprises me, as heretofore he was sick every few months. I guess his health must be improving, but I am tormented with visions of him starving himself to death."

That won't happen, the instinct for self-preservation being too strong in all of us. But the child is denied a well-balanced diet when he subsists principally on milk, chocolate and sweets. He can't grow strong bones and teeth.

It might be advisable to follow some such program as two cups of milk a day, chocolate milk for the time being—mixed with plain. Divide this into three parts for the three meals.

Offer him a varied diet and encourage him to take at least two tablespoonfuls of each food served, explaining he will learn to like it. When he finishes this he may have dessert, but not before, or in place of it. This practice is not used as a threat or a bribe, just a recognition of the place dessert has in the diet.

Underwood & Underwood

NEWLY WEDDED Mrs. Leonard J. Loiacono was Elizabeth de Leonibus before her wedding in St. Patrick's. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale de Leonibus; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Loiacono. They will live in Philadelphia

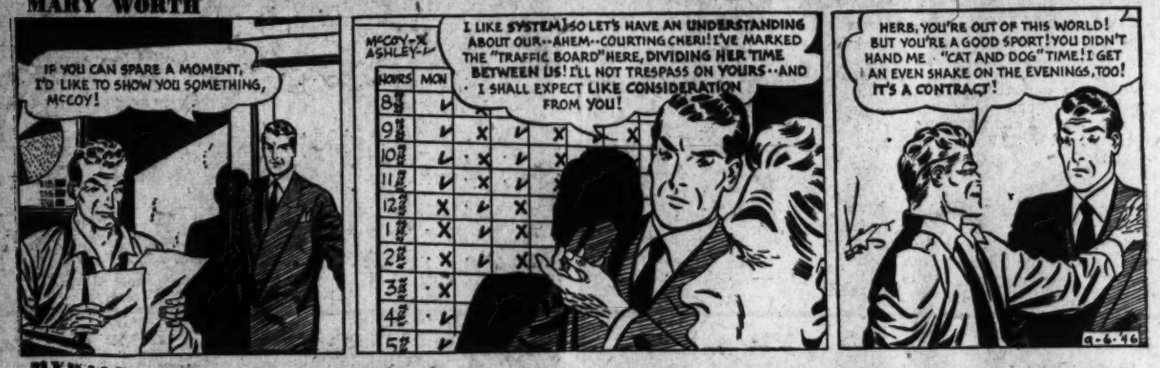
TERRY

WHY, YOU MISERABLE LITTLE MAN — DO YOU THINK I WOULD STOOP TO USING YOU TO MAKE TERRY LEE JEALOUS?
YES, NASTALTHA, I THINK YOU WOULD...
I DON'T NEED TO DO THAT! YOU THOUGHT I WAITED FOR YOU TO TAKE ME TO THE ARMY-NAVY CLUB DANCE — BUT I WAS THERE WITH TERRY LEE ALL THE TIME YOU WERE WANDERING AROUND TRYING TO REACH MY HOUSE!
YOU'RE KIDDING!
HERE COMES TERRY, NOW! ASK HIM!
WELL— ASK HIM!
NO... I'M... AFRAID HE WOULDN'T LIE!

JOE PALOOKA

MR. PALOOKA... THERE'S A MAN JUST CAME IN TO SEE YOU, HE'S IN THE LOBBY... THE MAJOR.
THANK YOU.
WERE YOU LOOKING FOR ME, MAJOR? MY NAME'S JOE PALOOKA.
AH... I'D KNOW YOU IN A MINUTE! I'VE SEEN YOUR PICTURE OFTEN ENOUGH.
I HAVE A LOT TO TELL YOU. I JUST FLEW IN FROM THE PACIFIC. LET'S GO IN THE BAR, WE CAN HAVE A FEW STINGERS AND TALK.
I DON'T DRINK, MAJOR... BUT I'LL BE GLAD TO TALK.

MARY WORTH



IF YOU CAN SPARE A MOMENT, I'D LIKE TO SHOW YOU SOMETHING, McCOY!
I LIKE SYSTEM! SO LET'S HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING ABOUT OUR--AHEM--COURTING CHERI! I'VE MARKED THE "TRAFFIC BOARD" HERE, DIVIDING HER TIME BETWEEN US! I'LL NOT TRESPASS ON YOURS--AND I SHALL EXPECT LIKE CONSIDERATION FROM YOU!
McCOY-X ASHLEY-V
HOURS MON
HERB, YOU'RE OUT OF THIS WORLD! BUT YOU'RE A GOOD SPORT! YOU DIDN'T HAND ME - "CAT AND DOG" TIME! I GET AN EVEN SHAKE ON THE EVENINGS, TOO! IT'S A CONTRACT!

MYRTLE

LOOKIE, POP! MY NEW BOY FRIEND SENT ME HIS PICTURE
as ever C. Barr
I SUPPOSE THAT "C" STANDS FOR CANDY
GOSH, POP! HOW DID YOU GUESS IT?
DUDLEY FISHER
ISN'T HE SWEET?
JUST LOOKS SWEET ENOUGH TO EAT!

MICKEY FINN

WAKE UP, UNCLE PHIL! WE'RE ALMOST THERE!
HUH? WHAT? OH! I WASN'T ASLEEP - I WAS JUST RESTIN' MY EYES!
WAKEETA! WAKEETA!
THERE THEY ARE!
POLICE HEADQUARTERS? RIGHT ACROSS THE STREET!
THANK YOU!
WAKEETA

DIXIE DUGAN

??- MISS DUGAN- WHY DID YOU COME TO SEE ME???
MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE I FEEL SORRY FOR YOU
FIRE- SMOKE- ALL AROUND ME - SOMEBODY SAVED ME - WHO WAS IT??
YOUR STEPSON
K-KENNETH?? (GULP) I-I MUST SEE HIM—
BUT HE DOESN'T WANT TO SEE YOU, MR. LAFTON—
A LITTLE REST AND HE'LL BE O.K., MR. BRADFORD—HE MUST'VE BEEN CLOSE TO THE FLAMES...HIS BACK IS PRETTY RED
YOU'RE COLOR BLIND— IT'S YELLOW

CHIEF WAHOO and STEVE ROPER

THIS STICKER WILL COVER UP THE SPOTSHOT MAGAZINE LABEL, WAHOO!--- NOW LET'S STROLL UP TO THE LOUNGE CAR!
OKAY, STEVE!--BUT WAHOO LOUNGE FINE ANYPLACE!
HOLD IT, CHIEF!--- BACK UP!
THAT MUG IN A HUDDLE WITH CUPCAKE DEVINE IS "SNAPPER" CASSINO--THE CLIP JOINT OPERATOR WE HELPED SEND UP THE RIVER FOR STEALING MRS. DOUBLEDAY PREEN'S DIAMONDS TWO YEARS AGO!

WINNIE WINKLE

AFTER ALL, WINNIE, JEEVES WORKS FOR MR. BIRDBRAIN - PIERRE WORKS FOR MR. MINT. - JAMES WORKS FOR MR. LUCRE - AN' YOU----
I WORK FOR MR. BIBBS-- I KNOW---
BUT WHERE ARE YOU GOING NOW, FATHER?
OH, JES' OUT - TO GIT A BREATH O' FRESH AIR!!
WELL, IF IT'S ANYTHING LIKE THE BREATH YOU JUST BROUGHT IN-- YOU'D BETTER STAY RIGHT HERE!!

KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED

HOW CAN I TELL THE CHIEF HE WAS SWINDLED BY THE "PROFESSOR"?
..WE GIVE MANY FURS, AND THIS SERVANT OF THE GREAT ONE SAY...
...OUR TRAPS FOREVER WILL BE BLESSED WITH PLENTY!
HOW DID YOU KNOW THIS SPIRIT MAN WAS COMING TO YOUR VILLAGE?
MEDICINE MAN TELL ME!
HMM! MAY I SPEAK TO YOUR MEDICINE MAN?

DONALD DUCK

OZARK IKE

BALL FOUR...AND THE BUGS NOW HAVE MEN ON FIRST AND SECOND, WITH ONE AWAY, IN THE NINTH...
THERE'S AN INFIELD POP-UP...SO IT LOOKS LIKE THE GRAY SOX ARE A CINCH FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP, AS THEY LEAD BY TWO RUNS!
OZARK IKE
LE'ME AT THAT PLATE!!

PENNY

THE MEN FINISHED PAINTING YOUR ROOM TODAY, DEAR. IT LOOKS LOVELY.
OH, MOTHER, THAT'S SUPER LET'S SEE IT.
OH, IT'S LUSH! DO YOU THINK I COULD HANG MY CAMP PICTURE AND NOT BOTHER FATHER?
I THINK SO. I'LL BE BACK IN A LITTLE WHILE.
HEAVENS PENNY
NO!
DON'T WORRY, MOTHER, I'LL KEEP AT IT 'TIL I GET IT RIGHT, I MEAN IF IT KILLS ME!

DOTTY

DOTTY, I'M WEARING MY SPORT COAT TO THE PARTY!
OH, I'M SORRY, HORACE-- IT'S AT THE CLEANERS--
JUST WHEN I NEED IT TOO!! ALL THE OTHER GUYS WILL WEAR SPORT CLOTHES!
WELL, "CRUSHER" IS HERE WITH CONNIE--WHY DON'T YOU ASK HIM TO LOAN YOU HIS COAT?
WHY SURE, MR. D.-- I'LL BE HERE TILL YOU GET BACK!
WELL, DEAR-- DO YOU FEEL SPORTY ENOUGH NOW?

MARK TRAIL

HERE'S SOMETHING STRANGE.. "WOODS AND WILDLIFE" WANTS ME TO REPORT TO THEIR OFFICE..
"TO DISCUSS A SECRET PHOTOGRAPHIC PROJECT THAT WILL MEAN A LOT TO ME FINANCIALLY.."
THAT SOUNDS GOOD, MARK, AND....
NO, DOC, I'M NOT GOING..
WHY NOT?
I'VE GOT SOMETHING MORE IMPORTANT TO ATTEND TO!
ED DODD

Advertisement

JOHNNY PUTS ON STEAM
WHY WON'T YOU LET JOHNNY GO?
SORRY, MR. SMITH.. BUT HE CAN'T KEEP UP ON LONG HIKES!
IF YOU CAN'T RAISE MY SON RIGHT...
BUT HE JUST WON'T EAT ENOUGH...
SO WONDER BREAD CONTAINS THE "APPETITE VITAMIN"!
YES.. AND IT HELPS BUILD STRONG BODIES 8 WAYS!
2 Slices of Wonder Bread at meals and a sandwich every day supply as much
1. Protein for MUSCLE as a Serving of Roast Sirloin of Beef.
2. Calcium for BONES AND TEETH as Helping of Cottage Cheese.
3. Phosphorus for CELL Metabolism as 1 Egg.
4. Iron for rich RED BLOOD as 3 Lamb Chops.
5. Vitamin B1 for APPETITE as Serving of Fried Liver.
6. Vitamin B2 for GROWTH as 3 Slices American Cheese.
7. Niacin for MENTAL HEALTH as Serving of 6 Sardines.
8. ENERGY as 2 Glasses of Milk.
LATER
JOHNNY SURE HAS STEAM NOW!
HE'S A CHANGED BOY!
THANKS TO WONDER BREAD!
Doubly Fresh WONDER BREAD
Builds Strong Bodies 8 Ways!

Today's Radio Programs

THE WASHINGTON POST — Friday, September 6, 1946

FRIDAY — WASHINGTON — E.S.T.

	WMAL 630	WRC 980	WOL 1260	WINX 1340	WWDC 1450	WTOP 1500
	News, 6, 7, 8:30. Prelude, 6:05-7. Town Clock, 7:10-9. David Wills, 7:45.	WRC Almanac, 5:30; Weather, 6:30. News, 6, 7, 7:30, 8, 8:30; Your Timekeeper, 6:05-9.	News, 6, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8, 8:30. Musical Clock, 6:05-8; At Union Station, 8:35 Cliff Edwards, 8:45.	Wake Up With WINX, 6:05-9. News, 6, 7, 8. Sec. James Byrnes, 7:30 (Transcribed)	Hunnicutt, 6-9. Devotions, 6:45. News, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8:15	Sec. James Byrnes, 5:30; News, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8. Arthur Godfrey, 7:10-9:10.
9 :00	Breakfast Club	Lone Journey	Song Shop	News; Music in the Air	Tune Shop	News; Mahoney
:15	Don McNeill	Lora Lawton	Anniversary Waltz	Music in the Air	" "	Home Service Daily
:30	Jack Owen	Road of Life	Sec. James Byrnes	" " "	Alice Lane	Evelyn Winters
:45	Nancy Martin	Joyce Jordan	(Transcribed)	Pat Griffith	" "	Bachelors Children
10 :00	My True Story	Fred Waring	Cecil Brown	News; Music Hall	Open House	Joe Powers
:15	" Crocker	" "	Tell Your Neighbor	Music Hall	" "	" "
:30	Hymns	Barry Cameron	Lorenzo Fuller	" "	" "	Time to Remember
:45	Listening Post	David Harum	Victor Lindlahr	" "	" "	Rosemary
11 :00	Sec. James Byrnes	Matinee Today	News; George Putnam	News; Symphony	Tuffy Topics	Kate Smith Speaks
:15	(Transcribed)	" "	Morton Downey-	Schonberg's	Crosby Time	Aunt Jenny
:30	Ruth Crane	Nancy Osgood	Man Behind the Band	"Pierrot Lunaire"	Pin-Up Tunes	Romance Helen Trent
:45	" "	" "	Musical Comedy Quiz	(Erika Stiedry-Wagner)	" "	Our Gal Sunday
12 :00	News, Evans	News, Improvisations	News, Allen	WINX News	Tello-Test	News at Noon
:15	Ted Malone	Look to This Day	Spice in Life	Star Time	" "	Ma Perkins
:30	Glamour Manor	Red Feather Man	(Frances Paige)	Lunch With	News; Remember?	Young Dr. Malone
:45	Eddie Dunn	Robert McCormick	John J. Anthony	Woody Herman	P.D. News; Hits	Road of Life
1 :00	Baukhage Talking	Guiding Light	Cedric Foster	News; Music	All Sports Parade	Second Mrs. Burton
:15	Charm School	Today's Children	Finders Keepers	Musical Bouquets	Tony Wakeman	Perry Mason
:30	Styled for Ballads	Woman in White	Queen for a Day	" "	All Sports Parade	Arthur Godfrey
:45	At Your Request	Masquerade	" " "	" "	Tony Wakeman	Big Sister
2 :00	Music Box	Life Can Be Beautiful	True Confessions	News; Rhythm	All Sports Parade	Aunt Mary
:15	Jim Gibbons	Ma Perkins	" "	Spotlight on Rhythm	Tony Wakeman	Dr. Paul
:30	Bride and Groom	Pepper Young Family	Myrt and Marge	" " "	All Sports Parade	Janice Grey
:45	" " "	Right to Happiness	Easy Aces	" " "	Tony Wakeman	Arthur Godfrey
3 :00	Al Pearce Show	Backstage Wife	Erskine Johnson	News; Tea for Two	All Sports Parade	G. E. House Party
:15	" " "	Stella Dallas	So the Story Goes	Tea for Two	Tony Wakeman	" " ; News
:30	Accent on Music	Lorenzo Jones	Easy Does It	" " "	All Sports Parade	Give and Take
:45	Ladies Be Seated	Young Widow Brown	" "	" " "	Tony Wakeman	" " "
4 :00	Jack Berch	When a Girl Marries	" "	News; Band Wagon	All Sports Parade	Stumpus
:15	Accent on Music	Portia Faces Life	" "	Band Wagon	Tony Wakeman	"
:30	News, Evans	Just Plain Bill	" "	Music Hall	All Sports Parade	Top Tune Inn
:45	Manhattan Music	Front Page Farrell	" "	" "	Tony Wakeman	" " "
5 :00	Terry & Pirates	News; Leif Eid	Sea Hound Adventures	News; Music Hall	Band of the Day	" "
:15	Dick Tracy	Musicade	Superman	Music Hall	Crooners' Battle	" " "
:30	Jack Armstrong	" ; Bergman	Captain Midnight	" "	Sports; Theater	City Desk; News
:45	Tennessee Jed	Lowell Thomas	Tom Mix	" "	Theater of the Air	Robert Trout, News
6 :00	Evans; Agronsky	Supper Club	News; DC Assignment	WINX News	News; Melody Lane	Top News; Burdette
:15	Star Dust; Sports	News	Congress Today	Bob Wolff Sports	Melody Lane	Speaking of Sports
:30	Earl Godwin	Barry Wood Show	Johnson Family	Dinner Concert	Sports	Tommy Riggs
:45	Singing Sam	H. V. Kaltenborn	Inside of Sports	" "	Supper Club	and Betty Lou
7 :00	Louise Massey	Highways in Melody	Fulton Lewis, jr.	News; Art Tatum	Romantic Rendezvous	Baby Snooks Show
:15	Raymond Swing	" " "	Songs of Good Cheer	Bing Crosby	Carmen Cavallaro	" " "
:30	Lone Ranger	Easy Money	Endorsed by Dorsey	Show Time	Mark Austad	The Thin Man
:45	" "	" "	" "	" "	Sports; Gov't. News	" " "; News
8 :00	Break the Bank	Vacation with Music	Gabriel Heatter	News; Waltzes	Letters to the Editor	It Pays to Be Ignorant
:15	" " "	" " "	Real Life Stories	Waltzes	Dugout Chatter	" " "
:30	The Sheriff	Waltz Time	Spotlight Bands	Massenet's	Boston vs. Nats	Wayne King Show
:45	" "	" "	(Harry James)	"Manon"	" "	" " "
9 :00	Prize Fight	Mystery Theater	Spotlight on America	News; Symphony	" "	Mercury Theater
:15	" "	" " "	" " "	Sibelius	" "	(Orson Welles)
:30	Sports Page	Sports Newsreel	Meet the Press	Symphony No. 2	" "	Maisie
:45	" "	Edgar Warren	(Sen. James Mead)	(Koussevitsky)	" "	"
10 :00	Adventures of	News; Swoon Singers	Henry Taylor	News; Forum	" "	Mystery of the Week
:15	Sam Spade	Flower Time	Sports, Brundige	Foreign Affairs Forum	" "	Henri Bonnet
:30	This Is Your FBI	Tales of the	V. Lombardo's Orch.	Music for Dreaming	News; Around Town	The Facifinder
:45	" " "	Foreign Service	" " ; Piano	" " "	Around Town	D. C. Report
11 :00	News; Redskins	News; Music	Voice of Washington	News; Post Preview	1450 Club	News; Daly & Harsch
:15	vs. L. A. Rams	Richard Harkness	Fulton Lewis, jr.	Music for the Years	Super Session	Eddie Gallaher's
:30	" " "	Three Suns Trio	Sweet Music	" " " "	" "	Moondial
:45	" "; News	Lee Sims; News	" "; News	" " " "	Rhythm Roundup	Music Before Midnight

W3XO—F.M. 43.2 and 92.9 Megacycles

7:00 p. m.—Sign On
7:05 p. m.—Band Concert
7:15 p. m.—Footlight Melodies
7:30 p. m.— " "
8:00 p. m.—News
8:05 p. m.—Music
8:30 p. m.—Opera House
8:45 p. m.— " "
9:00 p. m.—Easy Listening
9:15 p. m.— " "
9:30 p. m.— " "
9:45 p. m.— " "
10:00 p. m.—News
10:05 p. m.—Symphony Hour
10:30 p. m.— " "
10:55 p. m.—Weather, Sign Off

"TEA FOR TWO"

When it's time for mid-afternoon relaxation, tune to "Tea for Two" at 3:05 each weekday . . . following WINX news at 3:00 p. m.

3:05 to 4:00 P. M. Each Weekday

WINX—1340 on your dial

WWDC—1450 KC. Baseball Game will be broadcast tonight at 8:30.

Railroads' Net Off 381 Million In 7 Months

By S. Oliver Goodman

Class one railroads had an estimated net income in July, after interest and rentals, of 35 million dollars, compared with $62,990,161 in the same month last year.

The Association of American Railroads, reporting this yesterday, added that the month's net income was bolstered by credits to income through carrybacks from 1944 and 1945 Federal taxes. Net for July without these credits was estimated at $30,640,000.

In the first seven months, the carriers had an estimated net income of 11 million dollars compared with $392,831,957 in the corresponding 1945 period. For the period without carryback credits, the railroads suffered a deficit in net income of $42,200,000.

Operating revenues in the first seven months of 1946 totaled $4,-251,347,767, compared with $5,493,-021,122 in the same 1945 period, or a decrease of 22.6 per cent. Operating expenses in the first seven months amounted to $3,627,489,635, compared with $3,743,337,174 in the like 1945 period, or a decrease of 3.1 per cent.

Business Briefs Of D. C. Interest

AIB Faculty Aides Named

Faculty members and a September 24 opening date for banking classes were announced by Kenneth O. Hulse, president of the Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking.

Dean of faculty will be Ralph Endicott, treasurer of Washington Loan & Trust Co., who will teach fundamentals of banking, assisted by Paul J. Seltzer and Lynn O. de Lashmutt. William M. Baughman will instruct in negotiatble instruments; S. L. Simonian in economics 2, and Warren R. Forster in credit administration.

Horan Heads Slater Chain

Larry J. Horan has been elected president of J. & J. Slater, women's retail shoe chain. John Slater, nephew of the original John and James Slater and former president of the company, becomes chairman of the board.

Mr. Horan for many years was associated with International Shoe Co. of St. Louis. In 1944 he became executive vice president and treasurer of J. & J. Slater. The Slater stores are in Washington, Palm Beach, East Orange, N. J., and New York City.

Two D. C. Speakers Listed

Two Washingtonians will be speakers at the annual convention of the Association of Bank Women in Chicago, starting September 20. Norman Ness of the State Department's office of finance and development will speak at the dinner September 21 and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, director of the Hamilton National Bank here, will talk on "WomenServing in the Trust Department."

Scovill Issue Due Today

A $10,225,000 public offering today preferred stock of Scovill Manufacturing Co. and the underwriting of subscription rights for nearly $4,500,000 of common stock were announced yesterday by a group headed by Morgan Stanley and Co.

The 3.65 per cent cumulative preferred $100 par value, was priced at $102.25 to yield 3.569.

The group will underwrite an offering to common stockholders of the right to subscribe at $30 a share to $149,548 shares of common stock.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Sept. 5 (AP).—Higher temperatures over the corn belt, considered favorable for development of the important yellow grain, brought a moderate amount of selling into grain futures today. Wheat, corn and oats all moved into lower territory.

Indications that the country was more willing to sell cash grain acted to depress futures in that grain. Wheat weakened on an Agriculture Department summary pointing out that present prices were being maintained by "abnormally" heavy exports of the bread cereal.

Wheat finished ¼-2⅛ cents lower, January $1.95¼; corn was off 1⅛-1¾, January $1.21⅛, and oats were unchanged to ¾ lower, September 78⅛. There was no trade in barley.

In the cash market spot prices of corn were down as much as 2 cents. No. 2 yellow sold at $1.82, a new low on the current down-turn. Purchases on a to-arrive basis totaled 80,000 bushels. Arrivals here were only 3000 bushels, but yesterday's total was placed at between 100,000 and 200,000 bushels.

Range follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
January	1.95⅛	1.97	1.94⅛	1.95¼
March	1.91	1.91	1.88¾	1.89
May	1.90	1.90	1.86⅛	1.87
Corn—
January	1.38⅛	1.33¼	1.32⅛	1.32⅛
March	1.32	1.32	1.30⅛	1.30⅝
Oats
September	78⅛	78⅛	77⅛	78⅛
November	73¼	74⅛	73⅛	73⅛
December	73	73¼	72⅛	72½
March	72	72¼	71⅛	71⅞
Barley—
November	1.36⅛	1.36⅛	1.36⅛	1.36⅛
December	1.37¾	1.37¾	1.37¾	1.37¾
March	1.35¾	1.35¾	1.35¾	1.35¾

Cash Grains

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP).—WHEAT—None.

CORN—No. 1 yellow, 1.83½; No. 2 yellow, 1.82@1.84; No. 3 and No. 4 yellow, 1.83½.

OATS—No. 2 heavy, mixed, 84¼; No. 1 mixed, 83; sample grade heavy, mixed, 81¼; No. 1 heavy, white, 83.

BARLEY—Malting, 1.53@1.78 nominal; feed, 1.16@1.42 nominal.

FIELD SEED—Red top, 16.00@17.00 nominal per 100 lbs.; timothy, country run, 6.75 @7.00.

Dividend Actions

New York, Sept. 5 (AP).—Dividends declared:

Initial	Rate.	Pe-riod.	Stk. of record.	Pay-able.
Fullansbee Stl	15c	..	9-14	9-30
Accumulated
Westates Pet pf	10c	..	10-10	10-30
Extra
Mead Johnson	15c	..	9-14	10- 1
Wentworth Mfg	50c	..	9-16	9-27
Increased
Cuban Amer Sug	75c	..	9-18	9-30
Rome Cable	25c	..	9-12	9-28
Increased
Cuban Amer Sug	75c	..	9-18	9-30
Rome Cable	25c	..	9-12	9-28
Increased
Cuban Amer Sug	75c	..	9-18	9-30
Rome Cable	25c	..	9-12	9-28
Starrett Co	75c	..	9-20	9-30
Regular
American Express	$1.50	Q	9-29	10- 1
Beneficial Indus Ln	30c	..	9-16	9-30
Federal Lt & Trac	25c	..	9-16	9-26
Intl Shoe	45c	Q	9-16	10- 1
Manati Sugar	25c	..	10- 2	10-15
Mead Johnson	15c	Q	9-14	10- 1
Nat Enamel & Stpg	25c	..	9-16	9-30
Sterling Alum Prod	35c	..	9-13	9-23
Union Twist Drill	50c	Q	9-20	9-27
Universal Leaf Tob	$1.00	Q	10-10	11- 1
Western Dept Stres	40c	..	9-20	10- 1
Western Explor	2½c	S	9-14	9-20
Burd Piston R Co	12½c	Q	9-10	9-20
Fidelity Fund Inc	20c	Q	9-16	9-30
Filene's Sons Co	50c	..	10-17	10-25
Fleischmn Sh Co A	40c	..	9-16	10- 1
Fleischmn Sh Co B	20c	..	9-16	10- 1
Gen Time Inst	25c	Q	9-17	10- 1
Lewis Inc	37½c	..	9-13	9-30
Natl Bellas Hess	20c	..	9-11	9-19
Lambert Co	50c	..	9-17	10- 1
Square D Co	20c	..	9-16	9-30
Wm Filene's Sons Co	50c	..	10-17	10-25
Cons Grocers Corp	25c	..	10-10	10-25
Diamond T Mot Car	25c	Q	9-14	9-30
Dobay Stre	10c	Q	9-16	10- 1
Mercer Ohio Mfg Co	30c	..	9-16	10- 1
Interlake SS	50c	..	9-30	10- 1
Pacific Pub Svc	15c	..	9-18	9-30
H K Porter Co	15c	Q	9-20	10-10

Quotations on N. Y. Stock Exchange

By the Associated Press

Total sales yesterday, 2,360,000 shares; previous day, 3,620,000; week ago, 1,062,620; year ago, 1,376,400; two years ago, 1,477,770; January 1 to date, 245,102,285; year ago, 245,820,888; two years ago, 184,773,940.

Dow-Jones Stocks

New York, Sept. 5.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Ch'ge.
30 inds.	179.39	181.81	177.96	181.18	+4.46
20 rails	53.13	54.50	52.41	53.79	+1.35
15 utils.	36.48	37.45	36.27	37.27	+1.15
65 stocks	66.62	66.53	65.02	66.43	+1.70

Transactions in stocks used in averages today: industrials, 197,500; railroads, 126,110; utilities, 110,000; 65 stocks, 433,610.

	Sales, Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
Abbott Lab	16	72	69	72	+3½
ACF-Brill Mot	12	13	11⅞	13	+1
Acme Stl	5	42	42	42	+2
Adams Exp	20	16	16	16⅛	+⅛
Addressog-Mult	7	28½	27	28⅛	+¾
Admiral Corp	9	11⅛	11	11⅛	+¼
Air Reduction	26	44⅛	44⅛	44¼	+⅛
Alaska Juneau	23	6	5⅞	6	—
Aldens Inc	19	34¼	32⅞	33⅝	+2⅜
Alleghany Corp	143	5	4⅛	5	+⅜
Alleghany pf	21	43¾	42½	43⅜	+1⅛
Allegh Ludl Stl	25	47	46¼	47	+1½
Allen Industries	3	21	20	21	+1
Al Chem & Dye	14	170	167	170	+4
Allied Kid	2	22¾	22½	22¾	+⅛
Allied Mills	23	32	31¾	32	+⅛
Allied Stres	93	43¼	42⅛	43¼	+2⅛
Allied St pf	5	105½	105½	105½	+2
Allis-Ch Mfg	40	41¼	39¼	41¼	+2¼
Allis-Ch M Fr	625
Alpha P Cem	5	30	29¼	30	+1
Amal Leather	14	8⅜	7¾	8¼	+⅛
Amerada Pet	21	72½	69½	72¼	+4¼
Am Ag Ch Del	10	48⅜	48¼	48¼	+¼
Am Airlines	212	13¾	13¼	13¾	+¾
Am Bank Note	12	32½	31½	32½	+1¼
Am Bosch	4	17	16	17	+1
Am Brake Shoe	7	48⅛	48⅛	48½	+½
Am Cable&Rad	44	9¼	8⅝	9	+⅜
Am Can	7	94	93	94	+1
Am Car & Fdy	13	61½	59¾	61½	+2½
Am Ch & Cable	1	115½	115½	115½	—
Am Chicle	1	71¼	71¼	71¼	+¼
Am Encaus Til	6	6¾	6¾	6¾	+⅛
Am Export Ln	17	22¾	21¾	22⅛	+⅜
Am & For Pow	35	7¾	6¾	7⅜	+⅜
Am & F P $7 pf	1	113	113	113	+4
Am & F P 2 pf	25	25½	24¾	25⅜	+1⅛
Am Hawaii SS	2	45	44	44¾	+¼
Am Hide & Lea	13	7¾	7¾	7¾	+⅛
Am Home Prod	16	100	98¼	100	+1¾
Am Ice	10	11½	11	11½	+⅜
Am Internatl	40	11⅛	10⅞	11⅛	+⅛
Am Invest Ill	15	12	12	12	—
Am Locomotive	90	30⅝	29½	30⅜	+⅝
Am Locomot pf	2	113¾	113¾	113¾	+⅜
Am M & Fdry	2	27¾	27¾	28	+⅜
Am M & Met	13	17	16	17	+1
Am Metal	10	30½	29¼	30½	+1¼
Am Molasses	6	13¾	13⅜	13⅝	+¼
Am Mach & Fo	4	44	44	44	+½
Am Pow & Li	104	15⅜	14⅜	15⅜	+⅝
Am Rad & St S	166	16⅛	15⅝	16⅜	+⅝
Am R&L 6 pf	17	115	111	115	+3¼
Am Safety Raz	19	18⅜	17⅞	18⅜	+1⅛
Am Seating	2	17¾	17¾	17¾	+⅛
Am Smelt & R	57	50¼	49⅜	50	+1⅛
Am Stl Fdrs	52	36¾	33⅞	36¾	+3
Am Stores	6	32½	31½	32½	+1⅛
Am Store	7	25⅝	24	25⅛	+1⅛
Am Sugar Ref	5	43	43	43	—
Am Sumat Tob	2	60¾	58⅜	60½	+2½
Am Tel & Tel	66	186	178	180	+6¼
Am Tob "B"	16	137½	133⅛	137⅛	+4¼
Am Tob B	16	86¾	84¾	86¾	+2⅜
Am Viscose	35	59⅜	57⅛	58	—
Am Viscose pf	117	117	117	117	—
Am Wat Wks	60	19¾	18½	19¼	+⅝
Am W Wks pf	9	103¾	103¾	103¾	—
Am Woolen	46	51	49½	50¾	+1⅛
Am Woolen pf	1	151½	151½	151½	+1½
Am Zinc Lead	34	9¼	9	9¼	+⅛
Anaconda Cop	144	39¾	38⅜	39¾	+2⅛
Anchor Hock Gl	11	44	42¾	44	+1⅜
Anderson Clay	6	64	63¼	64	+2½
Ander-Prich Oil	31	19¼	18¼	19¼	+⅝
Andes Copper	3	15½	14⅞	14⅞	+⅛
A P W Prod	5	31½	30½	31	+⅛
Armour & Co	106	12½	12	12½	+⅜
Armour pr pf	2	120	118	120	-2
Armstrong Cork	14	51	50	50½	+⅛
Arnold Const	4	23½	22⅜	23¼	+⅝
Arvin Ind Inc	12	21¾	20⅞	21¾	+⅝
Assd Dry Goods	29	25¼	24⅞	25⅛	+⅛
Atl Inc	14	20	19¾	20	+1
Atch T & S F	30	99¾	95	99¾	+4¼
Atch T & S F pf	1	116½	116½	116½	—
Atl Coast Line	7	66	64	66	+1
Atl G & W Ind	2	39	39	39	—
Atl Refining	30	40⅝	39¼	40½	+1¼
Atlas Corp	32	26	25¾	25¾	+⅛
Atlas Powd	4	16	15⅝	15⅝	+⅛
Aust Nichols	9	16	15⅝	15⅝	+⅛
Aust Nich pf	1	20¾	20¾	20¾	+⅛
Autom Canteen	1	24½	24½	24½	+⅛
Autocar Co	4	24¼	24¼	24¼	+⅛
Aviation Corp	343	8¼	7⅞	8	+⅛
Aviation Cp pf	14	52¾	51½	52	+⅜
Baldwin Locom	2	49	47¾	49	+1¼
Balt & Ohio	122	15¾	14⅞	15¾	+⅝
Balt & Ohio pf	59	26⅞	25	26¾	+2⅛
Bangor & Ar	3	19¾	19	19¾	+⅛
Barber Asph	4	37	36	37	+1
Barker Bros	9	24	23¾	24	+⅛
Barnsdall Oil	36	24⅞	24¼	24⅞	+⅜
Bath Ir Wks	16	28⅝	27⅞	28¾	+1
Bayuk Cigars	1	59½	59½	59½	+1
Beatrice Foods	6	52	48⅛	52	+3½
Beech Aire	33	17	16	17	+⅛
Belding-Hem	11	18¾	17⅝	18¾	+1⅛
Bell Aire	3	7	6¾	7	+⅛
Bell & Howell	5	23½	22¾	23½	+⅝
Bell & Howell pf	1	112	111½	112	+2½
Bendix Aviat	28	38¾	37¾	38⅛	+⅜
Benef Ind Loan	18	28¼	27¾	28	+⅛
Benef Ind Ln pf	1	107½	107½	107½	-2½
Best & Co	8	39	37¾	39	+1¼
Beth Steel	51	102¼	100	102¼	+2
Beth Steel pf	1	108	108	108	+1
Bigelow-Sanf	8	38	38	38	—
Black & Decker	8	39	37½	39	+1¾
Blaw-Knox	33	23¾	22¾	23¾	+⅝
Bliss & Laugh	2	12	12	12	—
Bliss (E W)	16	23½	23	23½	+⅜
Bliss (E W) pf	3	48¼	48	48	—
Boeing Airplane	41	26½	24¼	26⅛	+1¾
Bohn Alum & Br	21	9¼	8¾	9¼	+⅜
Bon Ami A	1	106½	105	105	-3
Bond Stres	12	38	37¼	38	+⅛
Borden Co	16	48¾	46¼	48	+2⅛
Borg-Warner	20	46¼	44	46	—
Borg-Warner pf	1	105¼	105¼	105¼	+¼
Boston & Maine	42	5½	5	5⅜	—
Bower Roll Bear	1	53⅜	53⅜	53⅜	+⅜
Brad Lea	3	14	13¾	13¾	+⅛
Brewing Cp Am	12	89	88½	89	+1¼
Bridgept Brass	17	16	15	16	+⅛
Briggs Mfg	17	37¾	36¾	37¾	+⅝
Briggs & Stratt	5	37	37	37½	+⅛
Bristol-Myers	4	49¼	48	49	+1¼
Bklyn Un Gas	20	30½	29⅝	30½	+1¼
Brown Shoe	3	36½	36½	36½	+1¼
Brunswick-Bal	4	28⅛	27⅝	28⅛	+⅜
Bucyrus-Erie	29	17¾	17	17¾	+⅛
Budd Co	78	15	14¼	14⅝	+⅛
Buffalo Forge	10	20	19¾	20	+⅛
Bullard Co	6	46	45	46	+1
Bulova Watch	8	43½	42½	43½	+⅝
Bush Term Bldg	90	21¼	20⅞	21¼	+⅛
Burl Mills cv pf	1	20	20	20	—
Burr Add Ma	53	16⅜	15½	16⅛	+⅜
Bush Terminal	13	9¼	9	9¼	+⅛
Butler Bros	16	27¾	26	27¾	+1⅛
Butte Cop & Z	5	9¾	9½	9¾	+⅛
Byron Jackson	10	27	25	27	+1
Calif Packing	7	35	35	35	—
Callahan Zinc	4	4	4	4	—
Calumet & Hec	20	7¾	7½	7¾	+⅛
Campbell Wy	7	27¾	26¾	27¾	+⅝
Can Dry G Ale	27	15⅞	15¼	15⅞	+⅜
Can Pacific	236	16⅛	15⅝	16⅛	+⅜
Cannon Mills	2	64½	64	64½	—
Capital Adm A	3	15¼	15	15	—
Carrier Corp	37	21¼	20¾	21¼	+⅜
Carriers & Gen	2	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	—
Case J I Co	23	41	40	40½	+⅛
Caterpil Tract	53	61	59½	61	+1½
Celanese Corp	67	63	59	63	+2½
Celotex Corp	47	27¾	26½	27¾	+1
Celotex Corp pf	1	31	31	31	—
Central Aguire	1	22¼	22¼	22¼	+¼
Cent Foundry	22	14¼	13½	14	+⅛
Cen Hud G&E	6	10½	9¾	10⅜	+⅜
Cent RR N J	7	31¼	31¼	31¼	+⅛
Century Ribbon	1	20¾	20¾	20¾	+⅛
Century Rib M	1	15	15	15	+1
Cerro de Pas	11	38	38	38	+⅛
Certain-teed Pr	76	19¼	18¾	19¼	+⅜
Champ Spark P	49	47¾	47¼	47¾	+⅛
Checker Cab	12	19¾	18½	19⅜	+1⅛
Ches Corp Va	1	20	19½	20	+⅛
Ches & Ohio	74	55½	52⅞	55½	+1⅝
Chicago Corp	97	10¼	10	10¼	+⅛
Chi & E Ill	28	9¼	9	9¼	+⅛
Chi & E Ill A	13	15⅛	15	15⅛	+⅛
Chi Grt Wst	21	11¼	10⅝	11¼	+⅛
Chi Grt W pf	16	15⅛	14⅝	15⅛	+⅛
Chi I & A Ct	1	10¾	10¾	10¾	+⅛
Chi I & L B ct	1	6¼	6¼	6¼	+⅛
Ch M S P & P	142	17⅜	16½	17⅜	+⅝
C M S P&P pf	70	45	43	44	+1
Chi N W	45	22¼	20¾	22	+1⅛
Chi & NW pf	18	47½	45½	46½	+1⅛
Chi Pneu Tool	19	23¾	22⅞	23¾	+⅝
Chick Cot Oil	14	27	27	27	—
Childs Co	14	9¼	9	9¼	—
Chrysler Corp	83	99¾	97½	99½	+2
Cin G&E W Dis	9	26½	26½	26½	+⅛
Cin Mill Mch	14	28	26¾	27	+⅛
CIT Finan	37	46	44	44	+⅛
City Ice & Fuel	11	32	30½	32	+1½
City Invest	7	13½	12½	12½	—
City Invest pf	3	24½	23½	24½	+2
City Stores	29	24¼	23¾	24¼	+⅜
Clark Equip	3	261	251	251	+⅛
Climax Molyb	57	26¾	25¾	26½	+1¼
Clinton Ind	11	30¼	29¼	30¼	+⅝
Cluett Peabody	16	46	43	46	+4¾
Coca-Cola	5	159½	159	159½	+3½
Colgate-Pal-P	12	51½	50	51½	+1¼
Collins & Aik	2	47¼	47¼	47¼	+⅛
Col Fuel & Ir	42	14	13½	14	+⅜
Col F & Ir pf	8	18	17⅞	17⅞	+⅛
Colum Breast A	5	35	35	35	—
Colum Brcast B	4	33¾	33¾	33¾	—
Colum G&El	174	10½	10	10½	+⅛
ColuG&E rt cash	1852		1-64	1-64	—
Col G&E 6% pf	108	108⅝	108⅝	108⅝	+⅛
Colum Pict	14	27	26½	27	+⅛
Colum Carbon	4	37¼	37	37½	+⅛
Col & Sou Oh	29	43	41½	43	+1
Coml Credit	26	43⅜	42½	43	+1
Coml Solvents	41	23¾	23	23½	+⅛
Comwith Edis	82	32⅜	30¾	32⅜	+1⅝
Comwith & Sth	437	4	3¾	3¾	+⅛
Com & Sth pf	19	124½	120	123¼	+4⅝
Congoleum-Nai	8	30½	30¼	30¼	+⅜
Consol Cigar	5	40½	39	39¼	+1⅛
Cons Copperm	58	7¼	6¾	7¼	+⅛
Cons Edison	103	28	27½	28	+1¼
Cons Edison pf	1	105¾	105¾	105¾	—
Cons Grocers	17	20½	20	20	—
Cons Grocers	17	20½	20	20	—
Cons Laundries	1	18	17¾	18	+⅛
Con Nat Gas	14	50	49	50	+1
Con R R C pf	32	25½	24¾	25⅝	+⅛
Cons Ret Strs	6	28	25¾	25	+1⅝
Cons Vultee	19	22⅝	22	22½	+⅜
Containier Corp	20	40½	39¼	40	+2
Cont Bak	14	16½	16	16½	+⅜
Cont Can	29	41¾	40	41½	+⅛
Cont Diam Fib	24	16⅝	16	16⅝	+⅛
Cont Ins	7	52¾	51¾	52¾	+1⅛
Cont Motors	118	13⅜	12⅝	13⅜	+⅝
Cont Oil Del	34	39½	38	39¾	+2⅛
Cont Steel	1	17	17	17	+⅛
Cooper-Bess	10	21	19	19½	+⅛
Copperweld Stl	16	15½	14⅞	15½	+⅝
Corn Products	22	64	63	64	—
Corneli-Dub El	14	15	14½	15	+⅛
Corning Glass	16	153	151	153	+1
Corn Glass pf	1	108	108	108	—
Coty Inc	31	10	9	9¾	+⅛
Coty Internat	7	9¾	9⅜	9⅜	+⅛
Crane Co	47	38¼	37½	38	+1
Cream of Wh	4	30¼	30¼	30¼	+⅛
Crown Cork&S	24	40¼	39¼	40¼	+1⅛
Crown Ck pf	1	92	92	92	—
Crown Zeller	10	30½	29⅞	30¼	+⅛
Crucible Steel	12	41⅞	41¼	41¾	+1¾
Crucible Stl pf	2	102½	102	102	+1
Cuban-Am Sug	26	23¼	22½	22⅝	+⅛
Cudahy Pack	14	44⅛	42¾	44⅛	+1½
Cunso Press	5	19⅛	19⅛	19⅛	—
Curtis Publishg	93	13¼	12½	13⅛	+⅜
Curtis Pub pr pf	5	66	66½	66½	-1½
Curtiss-Wright	82	6⅛	6	6⅛	—
Curtiss-Wr A	18	20⅜	19½	20⅛	+⅝
Cutler-Hammer	11	32	31½	32	+1
Dana Corp	4	20½	19½	19½	+¾
Davega Stores	12	21½	20	21¼	+1⅛
Davison Chem	13	21	20	20½	+⅝
Dayton P & L	36	32	31½	31¾	+⅜
Dayton Rub	12	23	21	23	+1
Decca Records	17	52⅜	51¼	52½	+2¼
Deere & Co	12	43⅞	41⅝	43½	+1⅝
Del & Hudson	17	36	35⅜	35⅝	+⅛
Del Lack&West	46	8⅜	8⅛	8½	+⅛
Detroit Edison	38	24½	23¾	24½	+1½
De Vilbiss	2	21	21	21	—
Devoe & Ray A	10	27½	26½	27½	+2
Diamond Match	4	40¾	40¼	40¾	+⅜
Diam Match pf	3	49½	48	49½	+⅜
Diam T Motor	12	43⅞	41⅝	43½	+2⅜
Dist Corp-Seag	137	23¼	21⅜	23	+1⅞
Dist Corp-S pf	1	106	106	106	—
Dixie Cup	6	38½	37	38½	+1½
Dr Pepper	5	32	32	32	—
Doehler-Jarvis	18	30½	29¼	30	+1⅝
Dome Mines	12	19½	19	19¼	+⅛
Douglas Aircr	9	87¾	84	87¾	+4¼
Dow Chem	4	170	170	170	+2
Dresser Indust	29	20¾	20	20¾	—
Dunhill Int	5	21	19¾	21	+1½
Duplan Corp	8	38⅛	36¾	38⅛	+3⅛
du Pont de N	23	188	188	188	+3½
Du Pont pf	1	130	130	130	—
D W G Cigar	5	15¾	14¾	15¼	+⅛
Eagle-Pich	27	22½	21	22½	+⅛
Eastern Air L	82	79¾	28	28	+¼
East Sta Stl	1	50	50	50	+1
Eastman Kodak	3	225	223	225	+5
Eaton Mfg	4	51	49¾	50¼	+1¼
Edis Bros Stres	16	31	29	30	+1
Ekco Prod	8	45	44	45	+¾
Elastic Stop N	1	9	8⅞	8¾	+⅛
El Auto-Lite	34	58¾	57	58¾	+2⅜
Elec Boat	16	18¾	17½	18	—
El Boat pf	6	36¼	39	39½	+1
El & Mus Ind	8	4¼	4¼	4¼	—
El Power & Li	86	18⅝	18	18⅝	+⅛
El Pow&Lt 6 pf	1	144	144	144	+4
El Pow&Lt 7 pf	9	158	155	157½	+4½
El Storage Bat	4	43¼	43	43	—
El Paso Nat Gas	4	51¾	50¼	52⅜	+1¼
Emerson El M	22	16½	15½	16¼	+¼
Emer Rad & Ph	11	25¾	25¼	25½	—
Eng Pub Serv	54	29	27	28	+1¼
Equit Off Bldg	61	3¼	3	3⅛	+⅛
Erie R R	63	13⅜	12½	13⅜	+⅝
Erie R R pf	2	64¾	64¾	64¾	+1¾
Eureka Wms	8	13½	12¾	13½	+⅛
Evans Products	8	13	12½	12⅝	+⅛
Eversharp	20	35	34	35	+1
Ex-Cell-O	5	47	45	47	+2¾
Exchange Buffet	11	9¼	9¼	9¼	+⅛

	Sales, Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
Fairbanks Morse	10	58½	56	57¾	+1
Fajardo Sugar	8	23¾	23¼	23⅝	+⅛
Fansteel Met Rd	64	10¾	10¼	10⅝	+⅜
Fed Lt & Trac	5	22	21	21	—
Fed Mng & Smlt	1	40½	40½	40½	+1½
Fed Mot Truck